

ALESSIO

THE THYRDE PARTE OF THE SECRETES

LONDON, 1566

ELIZABETH
DAVID

WARBURG INST

1904665867

NUMBER 840

THE ENGLISH EXPERIENCE

ITS RECORD IN EARLY PRINTED BOOKS PUBLISHED IN FACSIMILE

93/2208

J
C
H
510

ALESSIO

THE THYRDE PARTE
OF THE SECRETES

LONDON, 1566

WALTER J. JOHNSON, INC.
THEATRUM ORBIS TERRARUM, LTD.
AMSTERDAM 1977 NORWOOD, N.J.

The publishers acknowledge their gratitude to the Curators of the Bodleian Library, Oxford, for their permission to reproduce the Library's copy, Shelfmark: Tanner 212(3).

S.T.C. No. 306

Collation: A-B<sup>4</sup>,C-L<sup>8</sup>,M<sup>4</sup>.

Published in 1977 by

Theatrum Orbis Terrarum, Ltd.
Keizersgracht 526, Amsterdam

&

Walter J. Johnson, Inc.
355 Chestnut Street
Norwood, New Jersey
07648

Printed in the Netherlands

ISBN: 90 221 0840 6

Library of Congress Catalog Card Number 77-006844

The thyrde and last parte of the Secretes of the reuerrende Maister Alexis of Piemont, by him collected out of diuers excellent Authors, with a necessary Table in the ende, contayning all the matters treated of in this present worke. Englisched by Wylliam Warde.

IMPRINTED AT LON-DON BY HENRY DENHAIN, FOR JOHN WYGHT.

Secretes and soueraigne receptes well experimē- mented and tryed by divers Authours.

Against euery grieve or Payne of the head, except the Pockes.

ATake red Roseſ, Camomil flowers, Melilot, Calamint, & othernewod, of eche two handefullies, ſeeth them in forty pound of water, and good wyne, vntill half be conſummed. And with thiſ eing hote, let the Patient washe his egges euerye night and morning, fro
the knes downewarde, and his armes from the elbowe downewarde. Also he muſt not haue his ſtomacke full.

A preſeruatiue againſt the falling ſickeneſſe or Epileptia.

Take the beſt Caſtoreum, that you can finde, and Aſſa-Fetida, of eche halfe a Dragine, rotes of Piony well beate into pouder a Dragine, Aromaticum Roſatum two Dragimes, of all theſe being well miſte and mingled together with Syrope of Minte, make ſeauen Pilles, to be taken twyce or thrice a weeke, when you goe to bed. It hath beene often prooued.

Againſt the falling ſickeneſſe.

The Patient being tormented with thiſ disease, it is good to make him ſmell burnt fetheris or olde ſhoes, for that reciueth and maketh them come to themſelues.

¶.ij.

Another

The fyrst Booke

Another soueraigne remedy for the same.

Take a hundred Swallowes, an vnce of Castoreum, as muche Wyne as shall suffise, and of the best that can be founde. Distill all together, and give the Patient to drinke therof thre Dragmes fasting. This water is also verie god for men y<sup>e</sup> be apoplectique if they be washed with it.

Against the Palsey.

Take Myrrhe, Mastix, of eche two dragmes, Frankincense a Dragine and a halfe, Cloues, Synamone, Nutmegge, Lignum Aloes, Pace, of ech a Dragine. Beate all these into verie fine pouder. And the pouder being sprinkled with Aqua vitæ and dryed agayne, you must yet once sprinkle it againe, and continuing so sprinkling and dryng it five tymes. Then beat it small agayne. And w<sup>t</sup> this pouder parfume a fox skin, laying two Dragmes thereof vpon quick coles, to the intent that the parfume be receyued through out al the skinne, and so layed vpon the member that is infected. D<sup>r</sup> else (which is better) let the skinne powdered with the sayde pouder, be layed hote vp, on the paraliticke member, and so worne: And you shall see a maruellous effect.

Another w<sup>t</sup>ay.

Take a pounde of Aqua vitæ, the roote of Iua, the roote of Acorus, the roote of Isope, of eche two Dragmes, black Peter, Cloues, Nutmegge, of eche a Dragine, Pace half a Dragine: All this you must stampe well, and binde in a fine linnen clothe, and let it steepe in Aqua vitæ thre whole dayes, then dryne out the water, of this wa<sup>t</sup>er take halfe an vnce: water of Iua and of Endive of ech thre Dragmes: give it the Patient to drinke in the breake of the day, and let him not eare in sixe houres after. The Patient Patient shall feele a greater effecte, if the same day that he drinkeþ the water, he also wash the soze member with it.

Against the Fransey.

The body being purged, it is good to shauie the heade, and to lay vpon the seame of the crowne of the heade quicke Pigeons (hauing first cleste them in the back, and drauen out the entrayles) leauing them so vpon his heade vntill they ware colde: or else little whelpes of a Monch olde their garbishe pluckt out: or if you will the lunges or lightes of a shæpe or wether hote. But bicause one of the p̄incipall causes of the fransie is the torment of watching, you must labour to prouoke sleepe as much as you can, by remedies meete therfore: as with washing his legges from the knēes downewarde, and his armes from the elbowe downewarde, with the decoction of violet flowers, of Renuphar, of the ryne of Mandragore rotes, and annoynting his temples, the ioyntes of the arme even to the hand, and of the legge vnto the fote with the oyle of Renuphar and Poplar mixt together.

A tryed remedie against the great payne, ringing and deafnesse of the eares.

Take the oyle of Castoreum two vnces, oyle roset, and oyle of better Almondes of eche an vnce, of Aqua vitæ two vnces, mingle all together and seeth it vntill the Aqua vitæ be consumed. Then euerye night at euuen when he goeth into his bed, droppe soure drops into his eares, and stoppe them with Cotton, sauouring some what of Muske. It is a thing proued.

Another remedie vwell knowven and tryed.

Set in some pot a pound of Walnut oyle, and when it smoketh, make the smoke enter into the Patientes eares by a fonnell.

The fyrst Booke

A remedy to stench the bleeding at the nose.

Take the suyce of Plantaine, Rose water, and the best Vineger you can, of ech fourt vncies: volks of Eggges well beaten two vncies: of Acacia mixt with the saide thinges halfe an vnce: mingle altogether, and annoynte youre forehead with it, and your throte with some cloth.

Another for the same vwell proued, and of a maruellous strength.

The Patient shall take the water of Panis Porcinus as much as shall neede, the which he shall take vp at the nose, and incontinent he shall feele himself holpe.

Another soueraigne remedie.

Take the bloud of a man (that is to say that bleðeth at the nose) an vnce or two: and burne it vpon some plate of yron, then make it into a fine pouder, & blow it into his nostrilles, and he shall be well.

Another for the same.

Take of the best Vineger you can get, Plantayne water, of eche two pounde, were certayne linnen clouts in it, and laye them to the soules of his fete, and palmes of his hands, and against the lyuer: and the bloude shall so;thwith stent.

For the tooth ache, a remedie proued.

Hiera Picra
a medicine
to purge fleme and collor,

Take halfe an vnce of Hierapicra: two Dragmes of Mythridate, and halfe an vnce of Aqua vitæ, and with all these mingled together, you shal often times a day annoynt the sooth that aketh, and round the gumme that he standeth in: for this is singular if the ache come of colde.

Another remedy vwhether the ache be by cold or heat.

Take

of Secretes.

3

Take strong whyte Wine halfe an vnce, of the rotes of Iusquiam, in Englishe whyte Henbane, an vnce: Let all be well sodden together, vntil the thirde part or halfe of the wyne be consumed, with this hote wyne wash all the gummis of that tooth that aketh, and keepe it a god whyle in your mouth, on the side wherc the tooth is.

Another for the same.

Take Sage flowers, Rosemarie, Betony, Sticados Arabic, Mariozam, of eche a handefull and a halfe : of Nigella or Melanthium in Englishe Ceth, of Pery-thrum in Englishe Pelytory, of eche two Dragmes. Let al this be sodden together in a sufficiēt quantitie of white wyne vntill the halfe be consumed: then straine it and stampe these hearbes, and make thereof a playster and lay it vpon the Jaw of the aking tooth, and keepe the wine that is strayned out, in your mouth as hote as you maye endure it.

Another remedie.

Also, if the sayde tooth be hollow, mixt halfe an vnce of Triacle together with Negella and Pyrethrum of ech halfe an vnce, and a Dragme of Aqua vita. And of this mixture fill vp the hole of the tooth. But yet if all this (after you haue proued it) helpe you but a little or nothing, put to eche of these remedies two or threē graynes of the iuice of Poppy, called in Latin Opium, and lay all as is sayde, vnto the griefe that troubleth you.

A remedy for the stinking of the mouth and nose.

Take a pounde and a halfe of Rose water, a pounde of Violet water, halfe a pounde of Mariozam water, beat into powder Nutmegges, Lignum Aloes, Sy-namon, Galingale, Zedoria, of eche two Dragmes, mire
all

The fyrst Booke

all with these water, and stil it in a Limbecke. This done parfume the water with eyght graynes of fine Musk. The head being purged with this water, that is to saye, taking it vp every day at the nose into the head : but yet fasting, & the nose first well purged you shall see a maruellous effect.

Another for the same.

IT is a thing proued and tryed, and verye god to take fasting every daye at the beginning of dinner, or else from day to day an Alephangine pille.

A verie good gargarisme or gargelling of the throte against the Quinsey.

TAke two pounde of Lycoras water, the juice of Plantaynes, the sucke of Mulberies, the sucke of Myrtleberries, of ech two vnces : all this mirte together, saeth it well : then strayne it and let it coole againe, and then let the Patient gargle and wash his throte slighe- ly withall.

For the same.

IT is a remedie proued and tryed, to blow with a reede in his throte fine pouder of Plantaine leaues dyed.

Another for the same,

IT helpeth much also to annoynt the sore with the oyles of Camomille, of Violets, of sweete Almonds, and of the grease of a Henne, as much of the one as of the other, mixing it altogether, and to annoynt therewith the sore place, with the application of newe shorne or unwashed wolle.

An excellent plaister to soften or rype an impos- tume in the throte.

TAke of Swallows nestes a pounde, and make ther- of a playster with as much Oyle of sweete Almonds, and and of Camomille as suffiseth to make it, and lay it hotte to the Patients throte.

Against the spitting of bloude commming of the Lungen or Lyghtes.

Take the sucke or iuyce of Purselane and Plantaine, of ech an vnce: beate into pouder a Dragme of red Corall, and half a Dragme of the stone Hematites in English, bloodstone: and al being mixt together, giue it to the Patient at all tymes when he spitteh bloude.

For the same another remedye tryed and proued.

Make into very small pouder gumme Arabic, Tragacantha, Harts horne burned, of a bloodstone burned, and redde Corall burned, of ech halfe a Dragme, and of Wole armenicke two scruples: mire all with the yelke of a rawe Egge, and giue it the Patient when he spitteh bloude.

Another remedy founde very singular.

Rotte well two Dragmes of Rabarbe, together with the seede of Purselane and Coriander prepared, of ech a Dragme, make all into verye small pouder, & mingle a Dragme of this pouder with as much iuyce of Purselane as shall suffise, and giue it to the Patient when he spitteh bloude.

Another remedie of maruellous great vertue.

Take of the iuyce of Milfoyle two vnces, of a blodestone burned and well beaten into pouder, two Dragmes, and giue it to the Patient colde.

Another secrete for the same, certayne and experimeted, and good at all hours.

Take the shelles of some rawe Eggges, take awaye the little skinne that is within, and dry them so that they may be made into pouder very fine. Then mixt two Dragmes of this pouder with thre vnces of Plantayne water, and giue the Patient of it euer when he boydeth bloud, and you shall see that the Lungen will be sounde.

The first Booke

But if you wil that this medicine wokē with more spedē, & greater efficacie, mixt it with two Drāgnes of the sayd pouder, to half an vnce of Syrop of dry Rosēs, halse an vnce of Purſclane, & as much of Syrop of Mirtell, whitch thing you shall giue the Patient fīue dāyes together. And this thus taken, he maye be well assured that from thence forwārd the bayne wyll never breake more.

For the same.

It is a remedye mosse certayne and proued as well to heale this sicknesse chanced to a mā, as for to preserue one from it before it come, to eate euery morning fasting a scruple of Rubarbe rost.

Another for the same.

Every day at night when the Pacient would slepe, let him sup a sponefull of mundified Barley. For at the laſt, the effect is very great, as well to preserue him, as to heale him of it.

Against the ulceration of the Lungs or Lightes, and spettle full of matter and corruption.

Take a pounde of the tayles of riner Creuices, & foure pounde of Cowe or Elwes mylke : and seeth al together vntill half þ mylke be consumed. And then stamp well the tayles of the Creuices or Crabbes, and dissolue them in god mylke, putting to them halfe a handefull of Barley flower, & as much of Amylum, of swete Almonde mylke, foure unces, the yelke of a newe layed Egge, and foure unces of Suger very white : mingle all together, and set it on the fyre to seeth, stirring it alwayes softlye, vntill it be well sodden. This done, let the sicke man eate of this composition at morning and euening as muche as he shall thinke good : and he shall finde himselfe very well.

Another for the same.

Take vi. Drāgnes of whyte Poppy ſcēde, of Endive ſcēde a Drāgine and a halse, with as muche ſorrell ſcēde, kernels of Quinces made cleane two Drāgnes,
the

the sides of Melons, Gourdes, Citrons, Cowcumbers, of ech an vnce and a halfe, of Cumme Arabick, Tragantha, of Amylum, of ech a Dragine, of the iuyce of Lico-ras two Dragmes, of the Lungs of a store, a Dragine and a halfe, Penides the waight of the whole, mire and burne al slightly: Then make it into a fine pouder, wheref you sha: take two Dragmes, mingling it with an vnce and a halfe of the Syrop of Junnes, and thre vnces of the water of Snayles distilled. Then give this drinke luke warne to the Patient in the break of the day.

Another for the same.

Mingle halfe an vnce of very white Suger with six vnces of the mylke of an Ashe new mylked, and take a little of it at the break of the morning, sleeping a little upon it, and at night when ye go to bedde, continuing so a Moneth at the spri. g, and twenty dayes together in Yarwest.

A remedy for short vvinded men.

Take a vnce and a halfe of Lico-ras made cleane, with as much Cetrac, the graines or cornes being taken away, Jujubes, and Schesten or Pira of ech tenne, the roote of Emula Campana purified or made cleane half an vnce, the roote of Foale stote or Horse hooe, called of the Apoticaries Vngula Caballina, two Dragmes, let al sech in a sufficient quantitie of water, vntill the halfe be consumed, then straine it, and dissolve with that which is strained thre vnces of the best Hanna, or else an vnce and a halfe of the flowers of Acessis, and give it to the Patient at the first tyme when the paine taketh him, it is a thing tryed, so singuler that it will heale the sicke man, so that the Phisitian shall be no more troubled with him.

A drinke for the same disease, to be taken every day thrice.

Seech well and long two vnces of the Juyce of Emula Campana, with as muche of the Juyce of Isole, and a W.y. pounde

The first Booke

pounde of the water of Hoale hote or Horse hote : and make therof a Syrope with as much Sugur as shall be necessarie , of the which the Patient shall take in the Morning two vnces without water, and as much at none, and when he entereth into his bedde : and as long as the pavorisme and fitte of his payne, it is good to put among it foure droppes of gumme Armeniack , with two vnces of Drimel simple, and giue the Pacient drinke of it.

Oximell
honny and vineger sodden to gether

Another tryed secret good for poore folke.

Mise a pounde of wylde Malicwe or March Mallowe rootes dryed in the shadowe, with foure pounde of sodden honny well scummed : stirre it vpon the fyre vntill it be lyke an Electuary , whereof let the Patient take often tymes, and he shall finde himselfe eased.

For the same, and good also for the poore sorte.

Take of cleare Conduite water two pounde, of Leekes chopped verye small thre vnces, of freshe butter two vnces, of the best Sugur an vnce and a halfe, and the yelke of an Egge. All this being verye well beaten and syred by the fyre, shall be giuen to the Patient at dinner and supper.

A remedy against the Pluresie.

It is a thing well tryed that at the first assaulte or coming of the payne of the side, it is verye good to be let bloud in the bayne called Basilica, of the opposite arme : but if the bloud be let out at the fourth accessse or coming, or sone after, the Pluresie wyll by and by voyde awaie : notwithstanding you musse never let the Patient bloud, but his belly must first be purged and losed , ryther with taking some Cassa at the mouth , or else with some softe glister.

A decoction for the stomacke, very good against the Pluresie.

Being let bloud , as it appertayneth, take the sucke or vynce of Rose, Capilorum Veneris, Figgges, Dates, Sebasten,

Sebesten, dryed Keasinges, mundified Barley, Lico-ras made cleane, of eche halfe a handfull: seeth all in water as muche as maye suffice, and put so to dissolve in it thre vnces of grayned Manna. But if the Patient be a pwe man,take an vnce and a halfe of Pupla cassie, which is the inner part of it called also Medulla,in stede of Manna, & gine this drinke xxxiiii.houres after his letting bloud, and very early in the morning. It is a thing certayne that in prouing this the Patient shall be healed although he were not let bloud but a little before the fourth accesse,biscause the matters and substance that nourished the disease in the larger Conduites are purged awaye.

Another remedy most certayne against all Pluresies, as proued as diuine,for to preserue a man that he dye not of it.

Make an oyntmente of two vnces of Dialthea mixte with half an vnce of sweete Almond oyle,wherwith being hote, anoynt the soze side,cassing on it þ pou-der of halfe an vnce of Commint stamped verye small and boulted. That done, heate a Cabbedge leafe vp-on the hote coales, and spread with olde Butterbut not salte, laying it hote vpon the griefe: the paine will ceasse maruellously, & wil resolve into matter of an impostume, so that at þ last you shal haue the honoꝝ of it, and the Patient health. Yet you must note,that this remedie must not be vsed but at the fourth accesse,or else after. This remedie may also serue in euery great griefe dispersed thowlo w al the body beneath the heade.

An oyntment to rotte or rype the Pluresie.

Take two vnces of Mucilage or Mucago of the stede of Cabedge, with as much Mucago of þ stede of March Mallolves, Mucago of Figgis an vnce, of Cowe mylke thre vnces, of freshe Butter two vnces, oyle of sweete Almondes two vnces and a halfe: mire all this together, stirring it alwayes vpon a smal fyre, & make ther-of a soft oyntment with as much ware as shal neede. This done

The first Booke

done, spreade it vpon newe shorne and unwashed wolle, and lay it vpon the griefe, renewing it in fourt and twenty houres thre or four times.

A playster for the same.

Stamp well in a morter four vnces of the rotes of wilde Mallowes well sodden, put to it an vnce of Butter, an vnce and a halfe of honny, of Pigeons dunge two Dragmes: Mingle all together, and laye it hote right vpon the payne, and soone after the corruption will breaue,

For the same.

It is a remdy wel proued, although it be not much vsed, to giue the Patient in xxxij. houres fourt tymes four vnces of the water of Tartacum Terrestre hoate. For in so doing, the cure shall be so fayre, that you shall see the inipostume broken and purged from all corrupt and rotten bloud. And mozeouer he shall be preserved from spitting bloude, and from the consumption of the Lungen.

Against the hote cough, that is to say, vwhen the patient is so vexed vwith it, that he can not vyell sleepe.

Take a Dragme of the Pilles of Cynoglossa, in English hounds tongue, with Syrope of Rose, and make thereof fiue Pilles, wherof the Patient shal take one every day at the entring into his bed.

Against the same, if his voyce be hoarse vwith it.

Take Diacodium, & of the pouder of Tragacant colde, Penides, of ech two Dragmes, Wole Armenick a Dragme: Take all this into very fine pouder, and with the Syrop of Myrtle make Pilles lyke Pearson, of the which when the Patient goeth into his bed he shall holde one vpon his tongue, and he shall be well.

A tryed electuary for the same.

Take Diapenidion without Species, Loch lani & ex-peiti, of ech an vnce, of Penides two vnces, and with

with as much Syrop of Isole, as shall suffise for to incorporate al: make therof an Electuary: wherof the sicke man shall holde some in his mouth licking it.

Agayne for the cough.

Take a pound of fresh butter without salt, thre yelkes of new layed Egges, two vnces of the flower of Amylum, and an vnce of Sugger melted in the water of Violets: Mingle all together, and syvre it alwayes vntill it be well seasoned and of a god tast. It is a god remedy which maye serue you as well in stead of meate, as of Medicinie.

Pylles for the cough.

Take two Dragmes of Agaricke prepared, and mixt it with a Dragme and a halfe of Frankencense made into powder, and with the iuyce of Isole, so make therof tenne Pilles, of the which the Patient shal take one every night when he goeth to bed. It is a remedy very good, as well for yong children, as for olde folke.

An oyntment for the same.

Take olde butter that is not salte, the Oyle of sweete Almondes, and of white Lyllies of eche an vnce, half an vnce of Mucelago of the seede of wylde Mallowes, with as much of Mucelago of the seede of Mallowes, and halfe a scruple of Saffron: mixt all together, and make thereof an oyntment with a little Ware: wherewith being hote, you shall annoynct your breasst.

Against the trembling and panting of the heart,
this is very good, but especially for wyomen, vvhich are much subiect therunto.

Take the Pilles of dyed Cytrons, Zedoaria, Doronici, calami Aromatici, of eche a Dragme, of Grami paradisi, halfe a Dragme, of the rootes of Buglosse dyed two Dragmes, of fine Muske halfe a scruple, Epithimi halfe a Dragme: Let all be made into powder as well as is possible, and the powder after sifted: whereof being mingled with the water of Turmentill, the Patient shall take

The first Booke

take a Dragme and a halfe, at the breake of the daye, and in the cuening when he will sleepe, a Dragme, and he shal see him selfe rid and quit of his paine within seauen dayes.

A remedy against the same, and very good to restore the strength, being vveakened vwith to great heat of Agues.

Take two Dragmes of the best Synamon, halfe a Dragme of Pace, of Hyacinthes, Smaragds of Lubyies of eche halfe a Dragme, of perced or unperced pearles, of eche a scruple, of Golde and Siluer beaten into pouder, of eche a Dragme: Let al together be made into a very fine pouder, whereof styrring it with Sugur dissolved in Rose water, you shall make little Balles of two Dragmes a peece. I haue scorne my selfe that manye haue boene with this confection preserued from the plague in a very daungerous time.

Another remedie, vvhervvith I haue alvvayes found my selfe very vwell.

Make a drinke with two vnces of the suck of Buglosse purged on the fyre, and two Dragmes of very white Sugur mixt together, and drinke it luke warme euery night when you goe to bed, and before ten dayes be past you shall be cured.

An Epitheme agaist the same payne.

Epithema is a Medicine
layde to the region of the heart or lyuer to coole it.

Take Rose water, Borage water, the water of Melisophylum, in Englishe Waulme, Sozrell water of eche sise vnces, of Sandall whyte and red, and of the saide of redde Roses, of eche a Dragme and a halfe, Lignum Aloes, of the fleshe of the heart of a Bucke, and of Hartes horne burned, of eche a Dragme, of red Corall, of Bent whyte and redde, of eche halfe a Dragme, of the flowers of Buglosse, and of Borage, of eche a handesfull. Let that be made into pouder that can be, and let all seeth together vntill the thynde parte of the water be consumed. Then put to it thre vnces of the best Malmesey, and two vnces of of the best white Vneger with a scruple of Saffron: mingle al this together and lay it hote vpon the sick man's heart, with a linnen cloth cleane dyed in grayne, early in the morning and at night before supper. Soz admit that then he fele his grise or not: yet neuerthelesse this is a thing experimented and very good.

An oyntment very good for poore folke, that are not able to bye the foresayde medicine or nourishment.

Take thre vnces of yellow Penuphar, two Dragnes of the pouder of the same flowers of Penuphar, of redde Sandall, of redde Corall, and of Sozrell seede, of eche a scruple, of Pearles, of Lignum Aloes, of the flesh of the heart of a Buck, of eche half a scruple, thre graines of Camphyre, of whyte ware washed in þ water of Penuphar, Cytryn or yellowe, as muche, as shall neede. That which must be made in pouder, being so made, make therof a soft oyntment, wherewith you shall, anoynt the Patient morning and euening about the heart, before his meales, and he shall be well.

Another composition very good in the tyme of a Plague as vwell to preferue as to heale.

Take an vnce of þ best Triacle, half an vnce of þ tuyce of Lemons, a scruple of Saffron, of the two sortes of Pearles, of redde Corall, and of Sozrell seede, of eche halfe a Dragine: two Craynes of Camphyre: mingle all together verye well with two or thre drops of odoiferous whyte wyne, and make thereof an oyntment: a certame quantitie whereof you shall spread vpon a crymson silke cloth, laying it hote vpon the Patients heart, renewing it morning and euening.

Another oyntment very good, and principally for children that are troubled vvith vvormes.

Take halfe an vnce of Aloes Epaticum, a scruple of Saffron, two Dragnes of the tuyce of Cytrons, a C.s. Dragine

The first Booke

Dragme of pleasant wylte wyne : myre all well togher, and sprcad it vpon some linnen cloth, and lay it vp on his heart.

A remedy against the vvorines in yong children.

Take þ floure of bitter Lupines, Aloes Epaticū of ech thre Dragmes, of the iuyce of wormewood two Dragmes, al well mired togher, let it be spread vpō some cloth oþ clut, and lay it vpon the childes nauell.

A remedie against the Payne of the stomacke.

Take two vnces of the cromme of þ bæad of Wzanne, spinkle it with the wyne of Pomegranets betwæc swete and sowre, and Plantayne water of eche four vnces : presse that hard, and giue the wine tempered with the sayde water, vnto the Patient : If the paine come of the continuall and great burning of an Ague, take this drinke an houre before it come, and you shall finde it of a maruellous vertue. But if the Payne be exceeding, it shal be god to g̃ne vnto the Patient this Bolus following, at what houre so euer it be that the Payne taketh him.

Take thre Dragmes of the Electuarie of Succo Rosarum, two scruples of Philonium Romanum : Myre them and make thereof a Bolus, which shall greatly profite him.

Another remedy for the same, vwhen all other vyll not profite him.

Take Syrop of Roses, Syrop of wormewood, of eche an vnce and a halfe, a grayne of Opium, seeth them slig- lyc one wa·me, and stirring it together with thre vnces of the broþ of a Henne, you shall giue the Patient drinke.

A Vomentation or nourishment very singular for the same.

Take redde Roses, the flowers of Camomille, of Wormewood, of Minte, of eche a handefull : heate the sayde herbes vpon hote burning tyles sprinkled with wylte wyne, and laye them oftentymes vpon his stomacke, Stomacke.

Another.

IT is a thing tryed against the payne of the Stomacke so that it come not of colde, and also to be preserued from the same, to take daye by day besoore meales, two scruples of Pilles of washed Aloes.

Another against the same.

TAKE halfe an vnce of washed Aloes, and thre vnces of honny Roset, seeth this in two pounde of water, bntill there remayne but halfe, then straine it through a strainer, and givn thereof vnto the Patient, euery day earely in the morning two vnces: this wyll heale and cure his griefe, or else will preserue him from it if he be not already taken with it.

Another remedy.

IT is a thing wel proued, that the sicke man take earely in the Morning a Dragme and a halfe of the best Myrridate: and straight vpon it drinke a draught of Palmesey, and by and by he shall be healed or eased.

Another very good.

TAKE ffeue vnces of Camomille water distilled, and of Nutmegges well beaten into pouder halfe an vnce, if you givē it hot: vnto the Patient, when the payne hath him, he shall be eased.

Another remedy proued.

TAKE floures of Camomille, Melilot, Mint, Pulegiū, Calamint, Southernewode, Senegreene, seede of Lyne, of ech a handfull, red Roses, Spica Squinanti, of echc two Dragmies, Danci, Carui, Anys, Dill, Fencl, of eche half a handfull, Gallingale, Zedoaria, of eche two dragmies, Cloues, Nutmegges, Lignum Aloes, Pace, red Corall of eche a Dragme: let al seeth in a sufficient quantite of water and odoriferous white wine vntil the thirde parte be consumed: then with a sponge steeped in hote licoure, nourishe therewith his Stomacke Morning and C.ij. euening

The first Booke

euening before he eate, and this will bring his stomacke in god state.

A nourishment very good against the same.

Take a pound of Oyle of spike made in Balneo Marie, warne it luke warne, and with new shone and unwashed vellue steeped in it, nourish therewith the stomacke, and at the last binde it vpon it.

A little Bagge to cary about one against the same disease.

Take wormewood, Mint, Pulegium, Galamint, of eche halfe a handfull, Nutmegge, Cloues, Rose, Lignum Aloes, of eche a Dragine: make all in a fine pouder, and put it in a little bagge, parfuming it wyth odoriſe-rous whyte wine, and then lay it vpon your stomacke: if you continue to carpe it about you, you shall fele your ſelſe maruellous well.

A drinke for the same.

I haue founde my ſelſe alwayes very well, as well for being preferved from thiſ Payne of the stomacke, as deſyuered of it, being troubled with it. To wit in taking ſix vnces of Honny Rosat strayned, a Dragine and a halfe of Nutmegges, and two vnces of the beſt water of a Wine, and ſeech them altogether vntill the water of the Wine be conſumed, and in taking fasting euery moſning three ſpoons full of that which is strayned.

Another remedy to lay to the ſtomacke.

Take Mastick, Cloues, Nutmegges, of eche a Dragine, halfe a Dragine of Rose, and as much af Synamon:
make hereof a verye fine pouder. Then toſt the upper ſe meather crust of a loafe of Branñe, and dippe it in hote Malmesey ſtrowing vpon it of the ſayde pouder, and ſo laying it vpon your stomacke hote, the payne will goe away incontinent.

Another

Another remedy vwell tryed and proued, and good chiefely for yong Children vexed vwith the payne of the stomack : vwhich is knowvē, if they vomite or belche.

Take the crommes of Branne b̄eade four vnces, rost or tost it, and beate it small into pouder, & after incorporate the pouder with the iuyce of wormewood, & mint, of eche as much as shal suffice, and put to it more a Dragine of Nutmegges. Of all this being mixt together make an oyntment, and laying it vpon your stomacke, it wil ease and ceasse the paine, the belching & the vomiting.

A remedy against an Apostume in the stomacke.

It is a thing well tryed, that if the Patient take euery morning at the b̄eake of the day , fire vnces of Camo-mill water distilled, he shal be cured and healed of the im-postume already begon in him.

Agaynst the same.

Take foure vnces of Emula purified , two vnces of wormewood newely extract, and make it in forme of Loth, with as muche Suger as Challnēde , and gifie it to the Patient Morning and Evening before his meales.

A Playster for the same

Take two pounde of whyte honny , halfe an vnce of grēne wormewood, an vnce and a halfe of the rotes of March Hallowes : seeth al together vntill it be be-rye well sodden, put vnto it some flower of Senegraene, and of Lyne seede, of eche halfe a handefull. Then put to it some oyle of wormewood, as much as shal serue to make a playster, the which you shall laye vpon your stomacke, renewing it euening and morning.

A nourishment or keeping of the stomacke in his natural heat, by vvashing or bathing it.

C.ii).

Take

The first Booke

Take two pound of Turpentyne, the sticke or stycce of wormewod, and of wylde Mallowes of eche four vnces, of fresh Butter an vnce, of Saffron a Dragine, of Oyle of wormewod two vnces: mire all, and seeth it one waume: and being hote, wette some linnen cloth in it, and there withall washe and bath your stomacke morning and euening. And you shall see that by and by the matter will dissolve.

A remedy agaynst vomiting.

If the vomiting come at a certayne daye or houre, it shal be good that the Patient, before or at the houre that he must vomite, doe eat some morsell of tostted bread, stieped in four vnces of the wyne of syvre Pomegranettes, drinke also afterwarde the wyne.

An oyntment very good against cholericke vomiting.

Take oyle of Quinces, oyle of Roses, of eche an vnce: halfe an vnce of wormewod, of red Corall, and of red Roses of eche halfe a Dragine, of Nutmegges a Dragine: beate to pouder that which may be beaten, and with a little waxe make therof a softe oyntment, and annoynt the Patientes stomacke with it morning and euening before his meales.

Another remedie against Phlegmaticke vomiting.

Take the yelke of an Egge rosted, a Scruple of stanckencuse, with as muche Massicke, make into pouder that which may be made into pouder, and put it with the Egge. And the Patient shall be well if he take of it every morning fasting.

A remedy against the Hycket or yexing.

Mingle a pounde of strong & odorous whyte wine, with a Dragine of Galengale beaten into pouder, and make therof a drinke, whereof the Patient shall take hote, euelling and morning two vnces, two houres before his meales.

Another.

of Secretes.

II

IT is a thing founde very good, to giue the Patient eu-rye morning threé houres before he eate, a racine of Créne Ginger, and by and by vpon that let hym drinke two Draughtes of Malmesey: and he shall quickly be healed.

Remedyes against the paine of the Liuer, come through ventositie,

TAke the rootes of Galingale, Zedoaria, of echē two Dragmies, a Dragme of Spica, with as much Squi-nantum, Cloues, Nutmegges, of echē half a Dragme:
Let all be made into a small pouder: and make thercof an Electuarye wþtch scommied Honny, as muche as shall neede: wherof you sha'l take some euening and morning before you eate.

Another of a very great effect.

Mixe together two vnces of Diarhodon abated, Tri-um Sandolorum an vnce, of the best Rubarbe made in fine pouder a Dragme, and with Syrop of Suc-cory, make an Electuarye, whereof the Patient shall take euening and morning before all other meate, the quanti-tie of a Walnutt.

A remedy found very good against the Liuer that is Appostumate or corrupted.

TAke fourte vnces of Diarhodon abated, of the best Rubarbe well made into fine pouder, mingle al with the Syrop of Succory, and make thereof an Electuarye.
Let the thing that the Patient shall take euery morning two houres before his meale, be of threé dragmies.

For the same.

IT is a thing tryed, that if you doe put newe shorne and unwashed wöll to stépe in the Oyle of whyte Lilics, & the Oyle Nardus Celcica, lay it right where the paine is, and it shall keepe that the lyuer corrupt not.

Remedyes against the Dropsie,

C.iiiij.

Take

The first Booke

Take dry wormewood, dry Agrimonie, dry Soldanella, of eche two Dragnes, of Spica two scruples: al this being made into a fine pouder, laye to steepe in the water of the rootes of Eldern tree, as much as shal suffise, and giue of it to the Patient euery morning at the b<sup>r</sup>eake of the day two Dragnes.

Against the same.

Take thre vnces of the iuyce or sucke of Iris, Galangale, Zedoaria, of eche two D.agnes, of Spynamon, of Cloues, of eche halfe a Dragine, of Soldanella, half an vnce. All this being made into a herye fine pouder, make therof an Electuary with as much scummed honny as shall suffise, of the which Electuary you shall giue halse an vnce vnto the Patient every morning two houres before he eate.

A drinke of great vertue and strength agaynst the vvindy dropsie.

Mingle together two vnces of the water of the rootes of Walwort or Danewort, with foure vnces of the water of Elderne tree, and in drinking this early in the morning thritte dayes together, you shall be verye well.

Another remedy very good to take after a purgation.

Take a pounde of Goates dung, with as much of Dre dung, and dry it in an ouen, and so make it into a small pouder, incorporating it with iuyce of wormewood, and syle of Rue, as much as shall suffise as it were to make therewith an oyntment. And spred some parte of it vpon a linnen cloth, laying it hote vpon the Patients belly when he goeth to bed.

The next morning following, take foure vnces of strong and odouriferous wine, and seeth it with a handfull of sage, and as much Rosemary, vntill the fourth part of the wine be consumed: with the whiche being hote, you shall wash his belly. All this done, take an vnce of Diagaranga, of Rosatum

Rosatum Aromaticum, Trium Sandalorum, Diarthodon abated, of eche halfe an vnce : mire all together with Rosat honny, and make therof an Electuary, and giuing him a mouth full of it incontinent after his belly is washed.

Remedies against the Dropſie, called Ascites, A drink very good to take once a vveeke.

Take as much of y ſucke or tufce of Iris or Gladiolus, as halfe an Egge ſhell wþl holde, mingling it together, with foure vnces of Melicrate, with halfe a Dragine of the beſt Rubarbe well beaten in pouder. This drinke being giuen hote and early in the morning vnto the Patient: it is a wonder to ſee with what vertue and ſtrength it woþketh.

A ſinguler good Electuary for the ſame, vvhich ought to be declared or diſclosed but to your ſpeciall friendes.

Take Agrimony, Cuscuta, dryed Grapes, Licoraz, Marbolans, Cytrons, of eche halfe an vnce, of the rotes of Parsly, of Fenell, of Capers and Agaricke, of eche an vnce. All this groſſly ſtaimed muſte be ſodden vntill the composition of halfe the water, and ſtrayne it: and in ſtrayning it put to it halfe a pounde of Honny, and foure vnces of ſugger, and ſeeth it agayne vntill it be as thicke as Honny. This done, put to it half a Dragine of the beſt Rubarbe, two Dragmies of Commy Turbith, a Dragine and a halfe of the leaues of Chamelœa, whiche hath leaues lyke to an Olyue, tempered in Vneger, two ſcruples of Diagridium corrected, of Spica halfe a Dragine, with as muſhe of Ginger: and make of all this an Electuary, of the which you ſhall giue the Patient twice a wecke. Note yet that the greateſt quantitie maye not be aboue halfe an vnce. And as for you remember to giue him rather leſſe than more, or as muſhe, hauiing alwayes reſpect to the ſtrength or weakeſſe of the Patient.

An oyntment for the ſame.

Mitre

The first Booke

Make an vnce of Vnguentum Sandalium , with halse an vnce of the Oyle of Nardus Celtica, and as much of the Oyle of Camomille, wherewith forget not to comfort every day his Linet morning and euening, by a anoyncting the place right against it.

An other oyntment veyr good.

Take a pound of Turpentine, of Frankencense, Saffatice, Myrrhe, of eche two Dragmes, Nutmegges, Cloues, Galingale, Zedoaria, of eche a Dragme and a halfe: the iuyce of Walwoort or Danewoort, the iuyce of wylde Cowcumbers of eche an vnce: and let that be made in pouder that can be: and all put in a Limbecke, let it distill soz to haue the Oyle of it, wherewith you shal anoynct all his belly. It is a speciall good remedy, not ony to asswage the swelling of the belly in this sicknesse, Ascites or dropsie: but also to take away all watery swelling, in what member of the body so euer it be: yea it is good also for the ache or paine of the toyntes, and of other partes come by colde.

A remedy against the yellowve Iaundise.

Apurgation first taken, take two vnces of grounde wormes dryed in the shadowe, and prepared in wyne, of the best Kubarbe a Dragme, of Dogges dung dryed halse an vnce. Of all this together make a fine pou-der, and giue vnto the Patient every morning an vnce and a halfe fasting, and continuing so fiftene dayes he shall be well.

Remedyes against the Collike.

Take two vnces of strong white wine, of Nutmegges, and Cloues, of eche halse a Dragme, of Galingale a Dragme, stampe these grossely, and laye them one night in the sayde wyne, and in the morning giue it the Patient to drinke with a little Whyte Sugre. And let hym continue thus drynking it twice a weeke fasting. It is a thing that I haue tryed to be very good to preserue a man from

from the Collike.

A remedy never to haue the Collike more.

Take two pounde of the rine or pillings of thick Rape rootes, and foure pound of whyte Honny, boyle it together untill the halfe be consumed. Then mixe with it some powder of Synamon, and Cloues, Nutmegge, Pace, blacke Pepper, of eche two Dragmes, and keepe it in some vessell. Of the which rynges or Pillings take euery morning fasting halfe an vnce.

Another remedy to take in the Payne and torment of the Collike.

Mare halfe an vnce of the Electuary of Dates, wþtch a Dragine and a halfe of Philonij Romani, and make thereof little gobbets, the whiche you shall giue to the Patient fasting, euer when the Payne taketh him. And you muste note that in case of necessitie a man maye giue this Medicin, yea before the digestion of the sayde diseases.

A very good pouder that healeth quickly the sayd sicknesse.

Mare a Dragine and a halfe of whyte Mulbery leaves dryed in the shadowe, with a Dragine of the ryne or pillings of a Radish roote dryed also in the shadow, & a Dragine and a halfe of the little karnelles or stones of Meddlars. Al being made into pouder, giue vnto the Patient two Dragimes in god and odorousferous whyte wine.

A remedy vvhich I haue founde to be very good for al griefe or Payne of the guttes or entrayles.

Take Diagalinga, and Diabulossatum of eche two Dragimes Philonij Romani, feure Scruples, mixe altogether, and make therof little gobbets or lumps: whiche you shall giue vnto the Patient at euery tyme the Payne tormenteth hym, and speciallie when he is yet fasting.

A glister vvhervvith I haue cured many.

Take

The first Booke

Take thirtene vnces of strong whyte wyne, foure vnces of fresh butter, sixe vnces of common oyle, Annice, Dill, Fennell, wylde Carwyses called of the Apotaries Carui Agreste, Daucy, Ameos, Carthami of ech two draymes: mixe them & seeth them al vntil the halfe of the wine be consumed. Then straine it, adding to that which is strained two vnces of Honny roset, an vnce & a halfe of red Suger, two Draymes of common salt, and the yelke of an Egge, mixe al this together and make therof a glister.

Another against the same.

Seth a pounde and a halfe of strong whyte wyne, with two vnces of hote scalding water, vntill the sayde water be consumed, and make onely a glister of the luke warme wine: it is a thing tryed that after the other glisters this will helpe you much, if the Ague be not with it.

Another for the same.

Take eyght vnces of the oyle of Rue, thre vnces of the oyle of Castoreum, two vnces of Philonium Romanum, an vnce of Benedicta, of other things as before, sauing that you must put as little salte to it as is possible, to the end that the vertue of the Philonium may remaine in his. This glister is proued so god, that where as all other will not helpe, it will deluyer you: yea in a great neede or daunger.

An oyntment against the same.

Take Oyle of Castoreum, oyle of whyte Lilies, oyle of Rue, oyle of Cheiri, of eche thre vnces: the iuyce of wylde Mallowes, the iuyce of Artemisia, of eche foure vnces, of scalding water sixe vnces, seeth al together, vntil the water be consumed: then put to it Melanthium, Mastick, Granum Paradisi, Galengale, of eche a Drayme and a halfe: of Peper, Clones, Nutmegge, Lignum Aloes, of eche a Drayme. Make all this into a fine pouder, and saeth it againe with a small fyre, and make therof an oyntment with a little ware, and so annoynt the place where the grisele is laying vpon it cleane washed wolle & warme.

the

You shall see maruellous operation.

A very good receipt, vwhich Pope Clement the seauen<sup>t</sup> tooke in his last sicknesse.

Take Pastick, Frankencense of the male kinde, Mace, of eche halfe a pounde, Galingale, Zedearia, of eche fourte vnces, Cloues, Dynamone, Xilobalsami, Carpobalsami, of eche two vnces : of Ginger, Cardamony, long Pepper, blacke Pepper, of eche halfe an vnce, Tur-bit, Agaricke,ubarbe, of eche two Dragmes : the rotes of Endive, rotes of Buglosse & Borage, of eche two hand-full : Betony, Rue, the flowers of Stricados, Arabicke, Matiooram, Sage, Rosemarie, of eche halfe a handfull :
Let all be grossely stamped and beaten together, and put into a hundred pounde of strong whyte wyne, and let it rest and remayne there threé dayes together. And at the threé dayes ende presse it harde, and strayne the wyne out, and put it incontinent into a Limbecke, for to distill out of it Aqua vita. This done put into the water of the first distillation a pounde of mans bloude of the body of a very healthfull and fleschie man, put it agayne to distill. Do so in distilling it al dayes vntil nyne tymes. That done take an hundred leaues of Goldfoyle of the best and the finest that can be had, fiftye leaues of Silverfoyle very fine, Jacinthes, Emeraudes, Rubies, Granades, of the two sorts of Pearles, red Corall, red Roses, of eche a Dragme and a half, of very fine Muske, halfe a Dragme : mingle all this together and make it all into a pouder, putting the saide pouder into the last water distilled, & let it lye in it vixen houres. That done, put all againe into the Limbecke and distill it with a small fyze : The which water being thus distilled the tenth tyme, you must put into some thick viol, and stoppe it well, or else all the water would vanish away, 't is maruellous good against all colde diseases, ey-ther within or without the boodye, taking of it onely a Dragme, or fourte drappes with a little whyte wyne. Ent

The first Booke

if the disease be hote without an Ague, as other some be by reason of some hote matter, giue the Patient of the sayde water myrt with water of Endiue, at euery tyme þ Payne taketh him. Neuerthelesse if you will see with your eyes the maruellous myracle that this water doth, giue ffe or sixe vnces of it vnto anye sick man which hath lost all his strength and force, wþh a little wyne, sodainly you shall see all his strength come agayne to him. Also assure your selues that there is no remedie more soueraigne against the plague, and sodayne death, than to drinke of it euery morning before you goe out of your house ffe or sixe drops wþh strong wine, or wþh the water of Endiue: or else to washe your nostrels within and without, with the rest of all your face with the same, or wþh a little wyne myrt with it, putting nothing else to it. I haue found my selfe alwayes very wel at al times of þ plague, by meaneſ of the same. Pea, namely it is good also for those that haue the disease called Apoplexia, or falling sicknesſe, if they washe their necke wþh all. This water is called Elixir vitæ Benedicti.

A remedy against the Laxe or Flyxe come of choler.

Take ſixe vnces of the ſucke or iuyce of Quinces: the iuyce of Endiue, the iuyce of Sorrell, of eche thre vnces, Sorrell ſeade, Plantayne ſeade, of eche two Dragmes: red Corall, red Rose ſeade, of eche a Dragme, Plantaine water ſoure vnces: ſet þt together vntill the third part of the water & iuyce be consumed. Then straine it pressing it hard, making thercof a Syrop wþ as much fine ſugger as ſhall ſuffise, wherof the Patient ſhall take two vnces morning & euening two houres before he eate any thing. This drinke is well tryed, and very good.

An oyntment very good for the ſame.

Take oyle Roset made of Olyues not rype, oyle of Quinces, oyle of Myrtle of eche an vnce, redde Roſes and redde Corall of eche a Dragme: Mafficke, Nutmegge,

Putmegge, of eche halfe a Dragine, make that into pou-der that may be made, making thereof an oyntment softe with a little ware, wherewith annoynct your stomach and the lower part of your belly.

Remedyes against the Laxe discenterycke.

Take sise Dragmes of Myrabolaus Citrini burned, Plantayne seede, Sorrell seede, Endive seede, and all parched, of eche thre Dragmes: of the foure Cordial floures, beside Violets, of ech a handful: seeth al in a sufficient quantitie of water, wherin first some staele muste be quenched, vntill the halse be consumed: Then straine it, mixing with that which is strained two Dragmes and a halse of the best Kubarbe parched, and of Pholonij Persici foure Scruples. This drinke is founde verye good by experience.

Another drinke very good.

Take two Dragmes of Frankencese of the male kynd with as much Pasticke: a Dragine of Woale Arme-nick, red Corall, Hartes horne burned, of eche halse a Dragine: of the stone called the bloodstone burned two scruples: Make al into a fine pouder and steep it in redde wyne that bindeth, and so giue the sicke man a Dragine and a halse of it when he goeth to bedde.

Another remedy.

Teate in this bloudye sise cuerpe morning fastinge halse a Dragine of Kubarbe parched, is a thing well tryed and very acceptable.

Another drynke very good, in case the Patient haue thervvith any great dolour in his belly (as often times it happeneth (by reason of exulceration and knavving of the guttes.

Take thre vnces eyther of Goates mylke or shayles mylke, wherein muste first be quenched some redde hotte steele, an vnce and a halfe of the iuyce of Plantayne, Aromaticum Rosatum a Dragine, mingle all together,

The first Booke

gether, and make a drinke for one tyme , whereof giue the Patient thre dayes together, and the fyre shall stونe after ceasse.

Another remedy vwhen the Payne is great.

Take Myrtell berries two Dragnes : Sorrell seede, Plantayne seede, of eche two Dragnes : of frankincense male thre graynes , of newe yellow wate two Dragnes : of Synamone two scruples : put all this into the belly of a Turtle done pluckt, sowring her vp agayne : then rost her with a little fyre, and let the Patient eate of her thre or fve dayes together : or if you wil make a coulps of her : and it is certame that he shall be healed.

Suffumigations or smokinges for the same .

The first.

Lay an vnce of Turpentine vpon a plate of yron made hote in the fyre, and let the Patient receyue morning and euening the smoke of his foundement thoro w a close stole. And continuing so thre or four dayes , there is no doubt but he shall be cured.

The seconde.

Stampe well two pounde of the dung of a yong Asse, Sand drye it in an Ouen, and see that it burne not. This done, take a part of it and put it morning and euening vpon hote coales vnder a close stole : to the ende that the Patient sitting vpon it may haue his foundement smoked therwith. It is a remedy of great vertue against the blowdy fyre of yong childdren, if first they be purged with a little Rubarbe.

Another remedy for the same.

Seth a pound of Apiastrum, in Englishe Waulme, togather with a handfull of Taxus Barbatus in red wine, and strong Wineger of eche sufficiently, vntil the thirde part be consumed. Then strayne out the wyne, and the Wineger , and binding these herbes fast in a bagge god and long , laye it hote euening and morning vpon his foundeme foundement. And continuing so, you shall haue a good ende of it.

An oyntment very good for the bloody flux.

Take Trochyskes or little Walles of Carabe, little balles of Terra Sigillata, of eche thre Dragmes, Galliae Muscatæ, Galliae Alefangine, of ech a dragine & a halfe, red Corall, red Rose seedes, Masticke, Frankincense, of eche a Dragme Let all this be made in pouder, and put in very strong red Vineger .xxiiij hours togher, and afterwarde drye it by the fyre or in the Sunnes. That done, make it all againe into pouder, putting oyle of Quinces, oyle Roset rawe, or Sharpe, Oyle of Masticke of eche two vnces, with as muche whyte Ware as shall suffice. And with this annoynt the Patients belly.

Remedyes against the svelling and oppilation or slopping of the Splene

Take two vnces and a halfe of the iuyce of wylde Mallowes, or marshe Malloives purified, two vnces of the iuyce of Calamint, two Dragmes of Henc dyed, and make thereof an Electuary, mixing all this with as muche as shall suffice of scommed Honny, and giue of it vnto y Patient a sponesful, thre houres before his meale, It is a remedy maruellous god.

A vomeration or nourishing by vvashing
for the same.

Take of the rotes of wylde or Marsh Malloves, and of Garden Malloves, of eche two vnces, Senegreene seede, Linseed, floures of Camomill, Melilot, of eche a handfull : Calamint, Baulme, Cuscuta, Pulegium, Anyce, Carui, Fennell, of eche a handfull : seth all this in a sufficient quantitie of strong whyte Vineger, and washe the place right against the Splene, euery daye basching it, and the Patient shall be very well at his ease.

An oyntment against the same.

D.J.

Take

The first Booke

Take Dyle of Rue, Dyle of Capers, Dyle of Camomille, of eche a pound: of the strongest & best white wyne you can get, half a pounde, of rootes of wilde or marshy Mallowes, rootes of other Mallowes, rootes of Ferne, of eche halfe an vnce: Braye well the rootes, and seeth them with all the rest, vntill there remayne no more wyne: after that take it, and presse out the Dyle, putting it to a pounde of the best and strongest whyte Vineger, with an vnce of Panis Porcini well stamped and purifed, seething it well agayne, vntill the Vineger be consumed, and then strayning it agayne, presse it hard that the Dyle may come out. Unto these oyles thus strayed out, you must put Opponacis, Bdellij, Galbani, Armoniaci, of eche two Dragmes: dissolve thy gummis in strong Vineger, miring them with the other things, and seething it slightly once agayne y the vertue of the gummis vanish not away: make therof a soft ointment, with very god yellowe ware, wherewith anoynt the place right against the Spleene euery day morning and euening.

Another fomentation or bathing for the same.

It is a thing experimented that if you wash or bath only the Spleene with very strong Vineger wherin there hath bene quenched the stone called Marchasita, which George Agricola calleth Pyrites, laying the cloth dipped in it, right vpon the place of the Spleene. Doing thus you shall not seeke any other remedy, for this will abate al the swelling.

Remedyes against the payne, swelling and ventositie of the Matrice.

Seth togither rootes of Matricaria an vnce, Dauci, half an vnce, whyte Honny two vnces, scumming well the Honny vntill it be thoroughly sodden: and strayning and pressing it harde, mingle this Honny with two vnces of the broth that a Henne hath bene sodden in, and three vnces of the decoction of Anyce, and giue the woman drinke

Pyrites, every stone of the vwhich
there maye
fyre be stro-ken.

drinke of it fenne dayes together : he shall be healed.
Wherfore keepe it well in minde.

Another tryed of some vwomen.

Take a Dragme of Nutmegges, a Dragme and a halfe of the rotes of Matricaria, a Scruple of Spica, saeth al this in sixe vnces of good whyte wyne, vntill the thirde part be consumed. Then strayne it out, putting in to that which shall be strayned two Dragmes of verye whyte suger, and so giue of it vnto the woman, at the breake of the daye, and at all tymes when the Payne shall take hir.

Another remedy very good, and vwell kновven of vwomen.

Take a swete App'e, and make him hollowe within, make a powder of Nutmegges, Rose, Synamon, of eche halfe a Dragme, Cloues halfe a scruple : put all this w:thin the Apple with a little Suger, and rost it vnder hote ashes, and giue of it vnto the woman cuer when the Payne commith vnto hir. But if the Payne increase so muchy hir lyfe is in doubt, put to all this two grameys of Opium, and sodainly the Payne will depart.

Another.

Take Calamint, Matricaria, floures of Cammonille, of Sage, of Rosemary, of eche a handefull : Saeth all in Lye, or ashye water of a sufficient quantite, vntil
the tharde parte be consumed, with the which water washe
the legges of the woman, from the knaes to the scete.

A fomentation or nourishing.

Take a handefull of Artemisia, with as muche of the floures of Cammonille, Pinte, and Calamint, make hote a Tyle, and poure some good and odo:iferous wyne vpon it, and after put also the herbes vpon it soz to lay them so hote vpon the Patrice, at euery tyme that the Payne commith. Neuerthelesse, take heed that you wash or bath hir not, because that all moysture is euill for hir,

The first Booke

A very good oyntment.

Mtre a pounde of the Oyle of Cheiri with fourre vnces of the oyle of Sureau, heate it and anoynt the upper part of the Matrice with it, dipping some linnen cloth in the Oyle, and laying it hote vpon the Matrice. This also layed vpo a womans belly after this sort, when she is in labour, will ease and mitigate hir payne.

A Playster or cere cloth to lay vpon the Matrice if the griefe be olde or inueterate.

Take an vnce of dryed Matricaria, with as muche of the floures of Cheiri dryed, halfe an vnce of Gallia muscata, or else Alefangine, if the woman be poore, of Galbanum, Bdellium, Serapini, of echē two Dragmē: Olibani, Pastick, of echē a Dragine and a halfe: Dissoule these gummes in Oyle of Cheiri, making into powder the rest that may be made: and make thercof a playster with a little p̄tche, ware and oyle of Sesanni, sp̄cading it vp̄ on sonie leather, and laying it vpon the place of the Matrice, and renew it every eyght dayes.

Remedyes to make a vvomans tyme to come that is let or hindered by some cause.

Take two vnces of the iuyce of Sauyne, and purifie it, mixing with it two Dragmē of Synamone well made into powder: fourre graynes of Saffron, two vnces of the water Radishe rotes distilled with a little suger, for two times: this prouoketh maruellously floures of a woman. Wherefore beware ye giue it not unto a woman great with childe. For al ȳ prouoketh hir floures, maketh hir also to labour before hir tyme.

Another remedy very good also to cause a vvoman to bring forth the childe before the tyme, if the vvoman be in daunger of it.

Mtre two graynes of Saffron, and two Dragmē of suger in fourre vnces of Pympernell water, making thercof a drinke, and giue it to the woman at twice,

of Secretes.

at the brea ke of the day, and when she goeth to bedde.

A vvashing very good for the same.

Take Calamint, Pulegium, Sage, Artemisia, Rose-marie of eche a handfull, rootes of Iris or Gladiolus, the rootes of Walworste or Daneworste, rootes of Sureau, of eche a handfull: seeth all in god whyte wyne p-nough, vntill thre partes be consumed, wherewith wash the woman in the morning, and when she goeth to bedde, from the haniches downewarde. Furthermore, the morning after she is washed, you shall give her to drinke a Dragme of olde Triacle, thre graynes of Saffron, and two vnces of the water of Artemisia, mixte together. This is so certayne, that if she vse it ffe times onely, she shall haue her floures.

Against to much abundaunce of floures.

Make a very fine pouder of halfe an vnce of þ inwarde skinne that couereth the kernels of wilde Filberds, giuing a Dragme thereof vnto the woman, incon-tinent the to muche comming shall ceasse.

An oyntment against the same

Take the sypce o<sup>r</sup> Plantayne, the sypce of Solatrum, the sypce of Kubarbe, of eche halfe an vnce, red Coral, Frankencense of the Male kynde, Pastricke, of ech a Dragme and a halfe: Coriander prepared, seedes of redde Roses, of eche two Scruples, leues of whyte Iulquiamum, the ryne of the rootes of Mandragora, of eche halfe a Dragme: strong red Vineger halfe an vnce, make in fine pouder al that may be made, and mingle al together, with the which being luke warme, annoynt the soules of the Womans fete euery night when she goeth to bed, and you shall see a god and fortunate effect.

Against the prefocation or strangling of the Matrice.

Ceth in strong Wyne the Rootes of Gladiolus, the Rootes of Calamint, the rootes of Ciclamen, in Englishe Rare Violet, of eche a handfull, vntill halfe the
W. st. wyne

The first Booke

wyne be consumed : then strayne them, and wþth that which is strayned out washe the Womans knes how-ning and cuening : for it is very god.

Against the same of vvhac cause soever it come.

Make a Dragine of Assa Fætida, and halfe a Dragine of Daucus, with Honny Roset, and make therof fwe Pylles, and taking one of them euery morning, they are very god, as well to preserue a woman from it as to heale her of it.

Another against the same.

Take two scruples of the best Agaricke, two draignes of Turpentine, seedes of Daucus, and Assa Fætida, of eche halfe a scruple mingle them and make little Balles, of the which you shall gine the Woman euery daye. For it is a thing verye god to heale her, or else to keepe her from it.

Against the same.

Take water distilled of the rootes of Daucus, of wylde Poppy fwe vnces, Honny Roset an vnce and a halfe:
mire altogether, and gine the woman drink of it. For whether the payne be already or is lyke to come, she shall be cured or preserued from it.

Against the same.

Take two Draignes of Castoreum, a Dragine of the same womans haire, mirt with a little bosen of a Pyne tree, and make therof great Pilles as bigge as Filberdes, with one of the which Pilles perfume her nostrels, at the tyme of the prefocation or strangling of the Matrice, and incontinent she shall be eased.

Remedyes to be vsed vwhen the Matrice commeth out of her naturall place, or falleth.

You shall mire oyle of Masticke with oyle of Roset, grane or rawe of eche two vnces, then Cupularum gladium, the floure of wylde Pomegranate tra, the ripe Pomegranades, Myzterries, of eche a scruple, of

of Frankencense, Passicke, Acatia, Hypocistidos, halfe a Dragme: mire them and make thereof a fine pouder. And then casting it vpon the necke of the Matrice and dip your fingers in the oyle, and so put the Matrice vpwarde with them.

A Playster very good.

Take Sorell seede, the seede of Plantayne, and of Coriander prepared, of eche two Dragmes: redde Corall, seedes of redde Roses of eche a Dragme, Hypocistidos, Acacia, Frankencense of eche a Dragme and a halfe: Galles, the Pilles of Pomegranades, floures of Pomegranads, of eche two Dragmes: beat all into a fine pouder, gathering together the pouder, with the oyle of beriuyce Roset, and make thereof a Playster with ware and pitche asmuch as shall suffice, and spreade it vpon a piece of leather, and parte thereof you shall lape vpon the womans belly, right against the place of the matryce along vnto both her haunches. And this shall help hit.

Remedyes for the Matryce corrupted or Apostumated. A Playster for dissolute it.

Take the floures of Camomille, Melilot, Matricaria, the Leaues of Mallowes, the rotes of Violettes, Branckbysye, of eche a handefull: the rotes of wylde or Marsh Mallowes cut verye small thre bries: seeth all in a sufficiene quantitie of water vntill the halfe be consumed: then put to it a handefull of floure of Lineseede, with as much of floure of Spynegreene, of Butter, Hennes grease, of eche as muche as will greasc ouer the playster, the which you shal lape vpon the xppostumate or corrupt place. Porwithstanding remember that to every griefe of the Matrice (as we haue our selfe well tryed and proued) all moist fomentation or bathing is hurtfull, and therefore beware in any case you doc it not.

Another Playster for the same.

The first Booke

Take the iuyce of greene Camomille, and the iuyce of Matricaria, of eche two vnces : mire them together with a pounde of the Playster of Melilot, and lay it vpon the corrupt place : It is certayne that doing so often tymes, it will ware rype and rotte.

A Playster.

Take sixe vnces of Dyaquilon, without Gumme : two Dragmes of Saffron, an vnce and a half of the iuyce of Matricaria : make thereof Ceratum or Playster with Ware, and a little Rosen of a Pyne træ, and lay it vpon the place of the corruption : it is a singuler thing.

Remedyes against the vlcers or corrupt matter of the Matrice.

Take two vnces of the oyntment of common Tutita, dissolve it well in eyght vnces of Ewes mylke, and squirt into the Matrice, This is very god.

A drinke for the same.

Take sixe vnces of newe and freshe mylke, mingle it with an vnce of Honny Roset, and gine it to the woman ten dayes together, thre houres before she eate any thing. And this is also very god.

Remedyes against the vvhylte slyxe of vvomen.

Take Gumme Arabicke, Dragacante, Amylum or eche two Dragmes, of Massicke, a Dragme : make all into a fine powder, and with a little god Sugur dissolve it in the iuyce of Quinces : Make thereof balles of two dragmes a peice : of the which giue one to the woman, cuerpe morning thre houres before she breake her fast, wherevpon inconcinent let her drinke a draught of red stipticke wyne, doing the lyke at night before supper. And this shall helpe her, so that in short space she shall be healed.

Another against the same.

Take the yelke of two egges rawne and newe layed, Frankencense of the male kynde, boale Armenicks Terra Terra sigillata of eche halse a Dragme, make into pouder, that whitch may be made, mingling al together, and give to the sick woman: a mouthful of it every morning, sixe houres at the least before she eate any thing. This remedy is so excellent that I haue cured many with it.

A drinke.

Take soure vnces of red Stiptick and binding Wyne, wherein you must often times quench first some hote Steele, guimme Arabick, Dragacant, of eche halse a Dragme, mingle it together & make a drinke of it. Wherof you shall giue ths woman fistene dayes together, earely in the morning, and therre is no doubt but she shall be healed.

A pouder against the same.

Mix halse an vnce of Date stones well beaten into pouder, with a Dragme of Dragons blood in redde wyne, and giue the woman one Dragme of it at the breake of the day, and another when she goth to bed, and she shall be healed.

Remedies against pissing hote.

A Syrop.

Take Syrop of Violets, and of Menuphar, of eche an vnce, mingling with it Plantayne water, Purse-laine, of common colde seedes, of eche an vnce. This Syrop digesteth the collericke matter, and taketh awaie the biting humors that cause the heate in pissing.

A drieke against the same, to take three houres before dinner and at noone.

Mix soure vnces of the water of Mallowes with two vnces of Syrop violet. Drinke this continually seuen dayes: and the eyght daye mixe with it an vnce of Lenytise Dulsebessis, with a Dragme and a halfe of Diaprunis Luratyue, and make thercof a drinke with the water of the decoction pectorall, the which you shall giue to the Patient.

Against

The first Booke

Against Gonothra, vvhich is vwhen a mans seede goth from him vnvittingly.

Take four vnces of Ewes milke, and mire it with two Dragmes of Harcs haire burned and wel made into pouder: giue the Patient drinke of it twice a daye morning and euening two houres before he eate.

An oyntment against the same.

Take two vnce of Olibani, Acaci, and Hypocistidos, of eche two Dragmes, of Galles a Dragme, Labdanum, halfe a Dragme: oyle of Mastick, oyle of Spike, oyle of Myrtle, of eche halfe an vnce: Make that into a fine pouder that can be made ponder, and make therof a softe oyntment with a sufficient quanticie of sware, putting to it at the ende halfe a scruple of Camphryze, with this oynt-ment annoynt his raynes and the chine of the backe, his flankes, and the place about the priuse members, cuening and morning.

Another remedy maruelous good.

Take halfe an vnce of Tutia, prepared, Sarcocolla, washed Aloes, Hepaticum, Suger candie, of ech thre Dragmes: mingle it and make it into a fine pouder, wherof dissolue one Dragme in womans mylke, and therewith squirt the mans yarde a good waye in, fve or six tymeys a day, and he shall incontinent be healed. But if there be any ulceration he shall also soone be ridde of it.

Remedyes for them that pisso bloude.

Take water of Plantayne, of Nightshade in Latin Salanum, Sozrell, Endive Wormewold, of ech four vnces, whyte Sandal and red, Beane whyte and red, of red Roses, of eche a Dragme and a halfe, Spondium two Dragmes, of Spica tenne graynes: of the best Wines get thre vnces: make that into fine pouder which maye be made, and make therof Epithera for the lyuer.

An oyntment for the same

Take

Take the iuyce of Plantaine, of Rightshade, of Sorrel, of eche an vnce, oyle Roset, oyle of Myrtle, of ech halfe an vnce, Hypocistidos, red Corall of eche a Dragme:
make that into powder that is to be made, and make of it an oyntment very soft with a little waxe and annoynting the raines of the Patient, from the haunch unto the place about the priuie members, and to the rote of his yarde,
And he shall be well easd.

A Playster for the same.

Take Plantayne seede, Sorrell seede, Purcelin seede, of eche two Dragmes, gumme Arabiche, Drag-cant, of eche a Dragme and a halfe, Hypocistidos, Acacia, Wolfe Arme ucke, silke burned, of eche a dragme, Terra sigillata, Hares haire burned, of eche a Dragme:
make al together in a fine small pouder, and make thercof a plyster with oyle Roset greene or raw, war & Pitch, as much as shal suffise: the which you shal lay vpon y raynes of the Patient. It is proued and tryed to be verye god.

Remedies against the Grauell.

It is a thing certayne, yif the Patient swallow downe thre dragmes of newe Cassa euery daye before dinner, he shall never haue the Grauell.

Another.

Take the stome that is founde in the heads of Crabbes halfe an vnce: burne it, and make it in pouder very fine, mixing the pouder with the water of Sarifrage, and so giue it to the Patient.

Another remedy vwell tryed, vvh hereby I haue oftentymes founde my selfe eased.

Take Oyle of Scorpions made of Oyle of bitter Al-mondes, Turpentine, fresh Butter, of ech halfe a pounde, of Saffron a scruple: brate all this in some vessell on the fyre, and with a linnen cloth bath and wash often tymes a day from the hight of the haunches, vnto
the rote or beginning of the priuie members.

Againſt

The first Booke

Against the same.

Dissolve threē Dragmes of he Goates bloud p̄pared in sufficient quantitie of Browne floures water distilled, and giue it to the Patient.

Another very good.

Make an vnce of the iuyce of grēne Lemmons with threē vnces of Palmesey, and giue it the Patient to drinke al at one tyme, when he feelth his grise.

Receiptes to hasten the chylde byrth, and to mitigate the payne of the trauayle and labour.

Take Centper Berries, & Bay Berries of eche scaūc:
great Dynamome halle a Dragme, whole Dynamon a Dragme, Put altogether in a turtle Doues belly that is fat and fleshye, and put her on a Spit and rost her, and baste her with Hennes greace, the which you shal giue to the woman every daye for her supper. It is a thing as notable as any other can be. Yet in the meane tyme you must note, that none of these receiptes muste be giuen to a woman great with Childe, unlesse she haue passed the Moone of the nynth Moneth that she was with chylde.

Another.

Take fresh butter washed in Violet water threē vnces, Mucilago of Cabbage two vnces, Mucilago of wilde oʒ Marche Mallowes, Mucilago of Figgis of eche halle an vnce, and mire it together. And if the Woman be nigh her tyme, let her put every day into the entry of her Matrice a cloute wete and dñe in this licoure, and she shall bring forth her childe without great trauaile and difficultie.

Another.

Take sixe pounde of god whyte Wyne, Calamintse, Sage, Rosemary, of eche halle a handful: sceth al together until the fourth part of the wine be consumed:
with the which the Woman draughting nigh to her tyme shall washe her legges, once a daye eyther morning oʒ euening.

evening.

Another.

Take an vnce of the pilling of Radishe rotes with as muche Mercurie, thre graunes of Saffron, a dragine of grosse Spynamone well beaten into pouder, two Dragmes of the iuyce of Sauyne. Mingle and stampe well altogether, binding it in some fine linnen cloth vpon þ necke of the Matrice. If the weman labour in great daunger, she shall sodaynely be deliuered.

Another Remedy very good, but yet such one that may not be giuen but in great necessitie, or vwhen the chi'lde is deade vwith in hit belly.

Mixe together two vncest of the iuyce of Sauyne, a Dragme of Eozas Mynerall wel made in pouder, & an vnce of odoriferous whyte wyne, and giue it the Woman to drinke, and the effect will sone follow.

Remedyes vwhen a man pisseth against his vwill.
It is a thing verþ god and tryed, to giue euerye morning to the Patient a Cytryn Myzabolan well conservued.

Another for the same.

Take Plantayne water, Rose water, Sozrell water, Nyghtshade water, of eche halfe a pound, Wormewode water fourre unces, kindes of Cerotria Sandalia an vnce, Spondij two Dragmes, red Coral, red Rose seedes, Plantayne seedes, of eche two Dragimes, of Spike tenne graunes, of verye god Wineger threc unces: mire altogether, and with a whyte linnen cloth dipped therein and well clensed, washe and bath the Lyuer with it and the raynes of the backe. That done take oyle Roset, Oyle of Mirtle, Oyle of Quinces, of eche an vnce. Make into pouder that may be made, and make therof an oyntment very soft with a little war, annoynting incōtinent the Patients raynes of the backe and his belly.

Remedies

The first Booke

Remedies against the stome in the Bladder.

Take Liton Tripone, thre draynes, tenne bitter Almondes with as muche of the kernelles of Peches: braye all this well together, and make thereof little balles with Sugur, the which you shall giue to the Patient euery moneth tenne dayes together, at the breake of the day, sleeping a little vpon it, and you shall see a god ende and issue of it.

A remedy and preseruative against the same.

Take soure vnces of Turpentine, and burne it vpon some plate of Iron red hote, vntill it maye be made into pouder: of the which pouder, take two draynes, water of Sarifrage soure vnces, mingling all together, make thereof a drinke, which you shall giue the Patient twice a weeke, at the breake of the day continuing so two monethes together. If he haue not yet th: stome, he shall without doubt be preserued from it: but if he haue it, he shall also be healed of it.

Another for the same.

Take six Draynes of Turpentine, ten tymes washed in water, and make thereof little balles called Boli, with the iuyce of Sarifrage, and a little Sugur, and giue it to the Patient as is aforesayde.

Remedies for to heale the Emerhodes or Pyles.

A very excellent oyntment.

The bodye being purged take Oyle Violet washed in water of Violettes, and freshe butter washed, of eche an vnce: make thereof a soft oyntment with the yelk of an Egge, halfe an vnce of Oyle of Lincade, and as muche ware as shall suffise: annoiint the Emerhodes or Pyles with it twice or thrice a daye. There is no such remedy as this is, when Women lye in childebed because of the retencion of their floures they are often tymes, pena almost dayly molested with thcse Emerhodes or Pyles very soore.

A Playster against the same.

Take of the cromme of branne b̄read a pound, of ewes mylke or Cowe milke, or else Goates milke, two pounds, ſet al together vntill two or thrie partes be consumed: then put to it two vnces of the greace take of the chyne of a Coat e, an vnce of the pouder of grounde wormies mingling al together, and ſo laye it hote upon his ſoundement.

An excellent and very good hote bath or baine for the ſame.

You ſhall take the Leaues of Mallowes rotes and all, the rotes of wylde or Marsh Mallowes, of holy Hock, Gioletts, Cabbage, the floures of Taxus Barbatus, Camomille, Melilot, Synegrēne, Lynesode, of eche a handefull and a halfe: ſet all in a ſufficient quantitie of water of the Riuere, or ſome other fresh water, vntill halfe be consumed: then poure it hote into ſome tubbe, cauſing the Patient to ſyt in it twice a daye, in the mozung and at night, the ſpace of an houre.

Another remedy of very great vertue.

Take two vnces of the iuyce of Leekeſ, an vnce of the iuyce of Peſilip, butter made of cow milke, Walnut Oyle, Oyle of the decoction of Cataputia, of eche an vnce and a halfe, oyle of Radish rotes an vnce, of the ſuet that is about the kydneyſ of a Goate an vnce and a halfe; let all be well ſtirred and brayed in a morter. This being hote, if you lay it with fat wel vpon & about the Emerhods twice a day, vſing ſo thirtie dayes long, I haue proued the remedy to be of great efficacie and vertue, that without doubt I dare assure the Patient of health.

Remedyes againſt the ſvelling of the coddes.

Take oyle of whyte Lylies, Oyle of Roes complete, of eche two vnces, of the greace that is washed of from newe ſhorne wolle, an vnce and a halfe, wette ſome fatty Wolle in it, and laye it hote vpon his Coddes: and then

The first Booke

then will the swelling goe away with the Payne.

Another against harde svelling.

Take Resins dryed and Carnelles pluckt out threé vnces, Barley floure two vnces, as muche of the floure of whyte Cyche peason, halse an vnce of the floure of Spynegreene, as much of the floure of Lynesæde, an vnce and a halfe of Honny: mingle al wel together, stamping it in a morter, and lay it hote vpon his Coddes.

A good Playster for the same.

Take Gumme Arabiche, Dragacante, of eche two Dragmes, Galbanum, Armoniack, of eche a dragine and a halfe, Beane floure & the floure of white Cyche Peason, of eche an vnce: Dissolute the gummes in Oyle of sweete Almondes, and a little Vineger, then mire all well together, and make thereof a Playster with Pitch, and war, as muche as shall suffice.

An oyntment against the same.

Take Oyle of whyte Lylies, and Oyle of Camomille, of eche an vnce, of Comyn two Dragmes, Labdanum, Galbany, of eche an vnce: Dissolute the Gummes in strong Vineger, and make in pouder that which is to be made: And make of this a softe oyntment, with a little Ware, wherin wette some newe shorne and unwashed wolle and lay it vpon his Coddes.

A Playster.

Seth a pounde of whyte Cyche peason in good whyte Swyne, vntill they be throughly sodden: then stampe them well in a morter, putting to them two vnces of Camomille floure, a Dragme of Saffron, two vnces of oyle of whyte Lylies: mire altogether, and laye it hote vpon his Coddes, leauing the Playster vpon them nighc and daye.

Remedyes against the Sciatica.

Take the Blossoms or floures of Camomille, Melliote, Spynegraine, Dill, Lynesæde, of eche two handfuls: Worme-

Wormewoob, Mint, Penitryall, Calamint, Southerne woode, the floures of Stricados Arabick, Wytony, Maio-rain, the herbe Paralysis, Sage, Rosemarie, Germander, of eche a handfull and a halfe, seeth all this in two hundred pounde of cleare custodyte water, vntill the thirde part be consumed: then strayne it, and seeth it agayne well, putting to it half a pound of quick Brumstone, four vnces of Salt peter p[re]pared, & thre vnces of salt Gemma: seeth them agayne and strayne them: and then kepe that which is strayed for your vse. The sicke man shal every morning bath him selfe the space of eyght dayes together, taryng in it an houre well couered, the head only bare. The houre past, comming out of the bath, and al his body well dryed and wyped, let him goe into his warme bed, and anone after let him take a drame of great Tria-cle, mixte with an vnce and a halfe of Suger Roset, and slape therepon two hours, and in the meane tyne being w[ell] couered let him sweate, and those that kepe him, let them wype him and dry him well, and by and by after they shall annoynt the place where the payne holdeth him, that is, all the legge from the haunch or huckle bone, with the oyntment Marciaton, Vnguentum Agrippæ, Vnguementum of Aragon, of eche an vnce mired together. Continuing then all in this order, and as I haue sayde eyght dayes, I dare assure, the pacient health.

Remedies against inflamations of bloude, vvhich grovveth into an impostume in some part of the body or members, called Phelgmone.

A Playster to rype and rotte the impostume.

Take a pounde of Cowe milke that was never fleteed:
a pounde and a halfe of Bread well crommed small:
three vnces of the iuyce of Cabbages, halfe a Dragine of Saffron, three vnces of the Oyle of whyte Lylies, mire al together, and lay it hotte vpon the soore place.

Another for the same,

C.J.

Take

The first Booke

Take threē vnces of Diaquilm, without gummis, the vnce of Cabbage an vnce and a halfe , of Saffron a Dragine : make hereof a god and sat oyntment and thicke with yellow waxe as muche as shall neade : þ which being sp̄read vpon Leather, the Patient shal weare a day or two continually, and he shall finde himselfe well.

Another to rotte or rype incontinent.

Chalve well fasting halfe a pound of Wheat, and temper it well wyth a great deale of spettell : take also two vnces of Oyle Roset complete, and a Dragine of Saffron, mingling all together, and lay it vpon the sore place, renanig it often tymes. The signes of the rypenesse of it are these, whan it is soft, moving vp and downe lyke a wane of water, whan it gricueth the Patient no more, whan the feuer ceaseth and continueth no more : the im-postume being thus brought to a rypenesse, prepare your selfe to launce or pierce it. But if the Patient be astrayde of the yron or fyre, breake it with this that foloweth : take two vnces of Diaquilm simple, an vnce of leauen, halfe an vnce of oyle of swete Almoundes : mixe all, and sp̄read it vpon a piece of Leather, or clout, putting in the middes of it a Dragine of Pigeons dung made in powder, and so lay it vpon the place where the breaking of the sore shal be most commodious. You may also take half an vnce of lea-uen, a Dragine of common salt, two dragimes of the best Vineger, four scruples of the powder of Cantarides, mix all together, and bray it well in a morter, vntill it be turned into a past or doawe as it were : of the whych you shal put to it halfe a Dragine, or according to the quantitie of the matter that must come out, couering þ agayne with the Ceratum or playster afoxe sayde

The impostume being broken and well made cleare, if you feare that there will come much bloud agayne, take incontinent the yelkes of two Egges, two Dragimes of Salt, a Dragine of Wole Armenicke , and steepe or dippe certaine

of Secretes.

certayne pieces of toaso in it, and lay them vpon the place where it is broken, & let them lye xxxij. houres together.

Against a Ryngvorme or Tetter, that runneth all ouer a mans face, or against the disease that is called Erysipelas or Lychen, of some Mentagra, the French men call it Feu volage, as it vvere a running fyre.

The remedie is good to mingle at the beginninging the iuyce of Plantayne, Marygoldes, Solatrum, Barba Louis, in English Synegraene, of echе fire vnces, with thre vnces of Rose water, and wetting certayne cloutes in it, lay them vpon the soze or Kingworne. But you must take heed that ye take away the cloutes, as soone as they beginne to ware hote, to the ende that the heate retournynge from the linnen cloutes to the soze, doe not increase the paine, or else that the linnen clothes being dryed with the heate doe not cleave to the skinne and plucke it with them. Soz if it shoulde be so, there woulde be daunger in it because of the vleers or scabbes that would come of it.

Another remedy very good to heale the same, vvhich it doth but beginne or increase.

Take Lyterge of Siluer, six vnces, the iuyce of Plantayne thre vnces, Oyle Roset two vnces, of the best Vneger an vnce, mire and braye all this wth in a morter of Lead, vntil it be lyke an oyntment of the colour of Lead, of the which being spread vpon some linnen cloth you shall lay some vpon the soze, renning it euening and morning, and looking to it diligently vntill you be sure of the state of it and of the increase. When it beginneth to declyne (which thing you shall knowe because it wll chaunge from a whyte coloure unto a red) take heed you lay no colde thing vnto it: for it maye be that you maye make some dead fleshe red and darke come o: growe in it, and so there shoulde be great daunger, that by reason of the cold thynge, the Kingwoyme or Letter shold tourne into an Hestiomem. But my counsell is to take þ floures of Camomille, Melilot, Synegréene, of eche a handfull, and to seeth the same in sufficient water vntill there re-maine but the halfe. Then to strayne it, and to washe every day the place with a sponge wette in it: and afterwarde to washe it with some hote whyte wyne. For þ is it that keepeth the member from mortifying in such a disease. If the thing be growen to an ulcer, eyther by the folly of the Physician, or else by the euill gouernement of the Patient, or by the euill matter which could not be amended by medecines, take lytarge of siluer thre vnces, the oyntment of Populeon, Ceruse washed, Infrigidantis Galeni, of eche halfe a vnce, oyle of Roset complete an vnce. Mixe al together and bray it well in a Morter, untill it be as it were an oyntment, whiche you shall vse untill the disease be consolydate and sounde.

C.y. the

The first Booke

Against flegmaticke svelling.

If this infirmitie be in the legge, take twenty pounde of water made with Ashes, floures of Camomille, rotes of Wallwurt or Daneworte, of eche a handfull, common Halfe halfe a pounde, of the best whyte Wineger four vnces, mixe and seeth al together vntill the halfe be consumed, then strayne it, and wash the legge with it.

Remedies for the scabbes.

An oyntment very good for to annoyst yong children, vwho bicause of their tendernessee, can not endure a purgation.

Take fourre vnces of oyle Roset, a Dragme and a halfe of common Salt, an vnce of freshe Butter washed, and so bray and stirre all well together, vntill it be come vnto a soft oyntment.

Another oyntment verye good for little children, and olde folke, to vse before and after a purgation

Take

Take Turpentine washed in Rose water soure vnces, of the iuyce of Lemons an vnce and a halfe, of freshe Butter an vnce, the yelke of one Egge, of common Salt two Dragmes, of Oyle Roset two vnces, mire and sturre together all a great whyle in a morter, vntill it become an oyntment. Wyth the which by a syze when he goeth to bedde annoynt the scabby parte of the bodye: or else all the body, but as thyn as may be.

Another remedy.

Take the water of Lapatum Acutum distilled, two pounds, the iuyce of Plantayne soure vnces, Rose water thre vnces, the iuyce of Lemmams two vnces, Lytarge syre vnces, Ceruse halfe an vnce, quicke Bzymstone thre Dragmes, make a verye small pcuder of that which may be made powder, and mingle it with the sayde waters, letting all stande xxxiiii. houres long. That done, put all in a Lymbecke, and distill it with a small syze. This water scrueith not onely for to heale the common scabbe: but also to make the crustes of olde vlcers and scabbes and of the Pockes to fall of, and to take cleane away the Cicatrice or seabbe therof.

A Bayne or Bathe for the same.

Take the Leaues of Lapaticum Acutum, the Leaves of Fumitory, the Leaues of Mallowes wyth the rotes, Leaves of Borage of eche thre handefull, of Bran bounde in some cloth two handefull, of Kye thre handfull: seeth al this in sufficient water vntill the thirde part be consumed, then straine all, and whyle the Patient is annoynting let him bath all his bodye in the same Bayne in the breake of the day, and without taryng any long tyne, let him goe into his warme bedde, and there let him sleepe and sweate.

Against the Scurfe or Leprie, called in Latin Psora.

After a purgation, I commend much the annoynting at night when he goeth to bed, all the partes of the body

The first Booke

bodie infected with this disease , with Dyle of Cartre or of Lées of wyne, and thre vnces of verye strong whyte wyne.

A Remedy against Puffes, Bladders, Blysters, or Wheales, and against the small Pockes.

Take an vnce of Peche karnels burned and made into a pouder, the fuyce of Plantayne and of Syngreine, of eche half a vnce, Ceruse or Lead washed a Dragme and a halfe : make of this a soft oyntment as much as shal serue you.

Another remedy vwell tryed.

Take two Dragmes of Caniphyze, an vnce of Ceruse washed, halfe a pounde of red Ciches, a pound of the inner parte of Melons without the pilles, ten Swallowes Egges, two Dragmes of Pearles, thre Dragmes of the seedes of Xilon or Gossipium, the tree that beareth Cotton, two Dragmes of Salte, four vnces of the fuyce of Lemmons, halfe an vnce of whyte wyne Lées: make that into pouder that ought to be , and put all together in ten pounde of water of Lapatum Acutum distilled, leaning it so two dayes and two nightes . This done, distill all together in a Limbecke, with the which water so distilled, the Patient shall washe his face thre or fourt tymes a day. It hath bene proued very good.

Against the strong cough of yong children.

Ceth in wyne some Isole and some Serpelium, or Sau-Suory, or else steepe some Jeniper Berries in wyne, and give the childe to drinke of which you will.

Against the stinking syvete.

To those that so sweate, make a cloth stéped in wyne wherein Myrtle Leaues or the herbe it selfe, or else his fruit hath bene sodden.

Against the payne of the eyes.

Take Mallowes, Violets that growe in Lent, topps of blacke Berry trees, dryed Roses, Veruine, Willowe

of Secretes.

or Oifer that groweth on the hilles, wash your eyes with these at night, and make a playster of the herbes with the yelke of an Egge, and lay it vpon your eyes.

For a vvhyte spotte in the eyes.

Burne Cockle shels of the sea, and Olibanum , as much of the one as of the other : make them into a powder with cuttle bones burned , and laye that vpon your eyes twice or thrice a wéke.

Against the difficultie of bringing forth childe, and the retention of the skynne that the childe is vvrapped in, called in Latine Secundina or Secundæ.

Take the rotes of Parsley , and Leaues of Lækes, wring the iuyce out, and mingle it with a little oyle,
and giue it the Weman to drinke , putting a little Vineger into her Matrice, and she shall incontinently be delyuered with Gods helpe.

A remedy vvhen the foundement commeth out.

First washe or Bathe verye well the foundement (be it Feyther of a man or of a woman ) with the decoction of Wayne and Wormewod sodden together , and annoynt it rounde about with some restrayntive oyntment.
After this strawe vpon it Ashes made of Willowe and of his rotes, and of the fine bones of some fish salted, and put in the foundement agayne with some linnen cloth : and doing thus twice or thrice a daye , he shall finde him selfe verye well.

Against the payne of the Guttes.

Ceth in water some Frightshade with ashes, and laye it vpon the place where the payne is. For this also is good rawe Sisamum, sodden with his seedes, and layed vpon
the painefull place.

Against the difficultie in making vvater, sauing for that vvwhich commeth of the stonc.

For men:

G.iss,

Sæth

The first Booke

Seth water Cresses, and make therof Cataplasma a Playster, and laye it vpon the place about the priuie members, causing the man to sit in the decoction of it.

For Women.

Make them an vndersmoking thozowe a close stole with wylde Mint, with Peppe or Catte Minte, and with Pulliole or Pulegium. We make sometyme as well for the man as for the woman, an esteue or Bayne wherin hath bene sodden some Jeniper, Peppe Pulicaria, in English sea wort, wylde Mint, Bay leaues, Pulegium, Wormwood and Tansey, gining to the Patient being in this bayne, Benedictam simplicem. Eu: if the stone be the cause, then seeth in water Sarifrage with the rotes of Sanguinaria, or decoction, vntil halfe of the water be consumed, the which giue vnto the Patient: but if he desire Wyne, giue it him with some of this water in it, continuing so foure or five dapes, and twice or thrice a daye.
If he pisse not so al this is a signe y the stone is thorowly growen and hardened. But then if it sticke in the bladdar, take Pallowes, Crista Marina, in englishe Sainpere, little wylde Cabbages, Sarifrage, Pellitory of the walle, water Cresses, Ameos, and the seedes of Pettles, seeth all this in lycore, whereof let the thirde part be wyne, the other part Oyle, and the fourth parte salte sea water, tathing and washing well with this decoction the partes about his priuie members, & laying vpon them the herbes.

Against Crabbelyce.

Against the Crabbelyce that baxe about the priuie members and vnder the arme pittes, annoyn those places with ashes layed in Oyle: but against those that sticke in the eye browes, take an vnce of Aloes, Cerusc, Olibanum, of eche fwe unces: make al into powder, and make of it an oyntment with larde cut small as much as shall suffise.

Against a Cankar.

Note

Benedicta
simplicis is an electuarie, verye medicinable for the goute.

Note that the Leaues of wylde Iuie sodden in Wyne, and layed to it are very good for it.

Against the little vwormes and itching of the hands or body.

Against the itche and wormes in what soeuer parte of the body that it be, but chiefly in the face and fozehead, you muste stape wheate in Wyne with the powder of Olibanum, and lay it vpon the place as it were a playster.

Against the svelling of the Coddes.

Take Mallowes, Wormewode, Veruen, Bismalus, o: Marche Mallowes, Tansie, and two Cabbedges, seth all this in olde strong Wyne, and bathing and washing them twice or thrice a daye. As for the herbes, stampe them and seth them in Honny, laying them vpon
the Coddes with Wyne.

For to make the vwormes come out of the handes and feete.

Take a hote Tyle, and some vessell full of water, then put some seedes of Iusquiamum vpon the redde hotte Tyle, holding your handes or feete ouer the smoke of it, you shall see the wormes fall into the water lyke little haire. Another waye: Burne Ote strawe into ashes, and put into water as hote as you may endure it, holding your handes and feete in it, and enduring the heate vntill it ware colde: then straine and presse it so hard vntill there remayne no more water, seperating it fayre and softe-ly. You shall finde the wormes as it were little thredes, which the smoke of the Iusquiam hath drawen out. If the place doe itche, and is eaten with wormes, burne strawe into ashes, and tolle it and mingle it in water as hote as you can endure it: put in your hande or feote that hath the wormes, and they will come out. Then afterwarde heale the knawing as you doe some other soze.

A remedy for the deafenesse of the eares.

The first Booke

Take the fat or grease of Eels new kylded that swimmeth vpon the decoction of them, the iuyce of Caprifolium, Barba Louis, and a handfull of Antes or Dismers Egges, bray and strayne all, mrysing it and seething it with Oyle. The decoction made, put to it some Vineger or wyne sufficiently, that it may be the more penitratue and percing: this done, poure some of it into the eare that is not deafe, stopping the other that hath the impediment, and lying vpon the good eare: and beware ye goe not the next day into the winde: but let him keepe his house, lyng all the day long sometyme on the good eare and sometyme on the yll.

Remedyes against Fistulcys.

Take the Leaues of redde Cabbages, and their seedes, the rootes of great Rubra Tinctorum, of eche an even quall quantitie, bray all and seeth it well vntill thre partes be consumed: then strayne it, putting to it some Honny. And seething it agayne vntill it be thick. Wherof you shall give the Patient two sponces full, morning and euening.

For the scabbes of the handes.

Take Lapatum Acutum, and Fumitory, making thereof as it were an oyntmente with Yogges or swines grease and May Butter, wherewith annoyst your handes.

A vvater of a great and maruellous effect, for to keepe mans body from many infirmities and diseases.

Take foure pounde of stilled Aqua vitæ of verye good Wyne, two pounde of salt burned, two pounde of quenched Brimstone, foure vnces of whyte Tarcce, foure vnces of the woode of a Silverd tree. iiiij. vnces of rock Salte. Let all this be brayed, sifted and mired together, pouring vpon the foresayde Aqua vitæ, and putting it in a Limbecke to distill.

will hat

What operation come of such distillations.

The first distillation draweth unto it the powers of all the spirits of man, that no venomous beast can approach or come nigh him: with it is kepte fleshe and fish as with Baulme, it healeth and cleanseth Lentils and other spottes of the face: it draweth awaye all maner of scabbes from the body, and cleanseth watering eyes.

The seconde draweth awaye impostumes, and other superfluities of the bodey: it pulleth out & healeth loose teeth, and putteth away all swelling of the Lyuer.

The thirde cleanseth all spottes and scurfe, it healeth stinking of breathe, and purgeth al flegme of the stomack, as meate not digested.

The fourth putteth out of the body, all colde and congeled bloude.

The fiftē deluyereth the bodey from the falling sickenesse.

The sixte dryueth awaye all languishe and infirmite come of the Goute.

The seauenth putteth the Goute from the feete.

The eyght excelleth the Baulme, which you shoulde kepe well,

The nynth, if you mixe with it, and dissolve golde in it, is a preseruatiue for the Lyuer,

The tenth, if you put a droppe of it in anye vessell of Golde full of Wylne, a froth and skumme will swimme vpon the wine, which is very Golde in deede, so that what souuer you touch with it shall be fayze Golde.

Yet you must note that after every distillation you muste stampē and fistē the lēse as at the first tyme.

Another vwater or Balsamum almost for the same thinges.

Take a pounde of Turpentine thrice distilled, a pound of Aloes thrice also distilled, a powder of Amber raw, Mascatum brayed vpon a stone in maner of some liquide

The first Booke

quide oyntment, putting to all this a little Oyle , and so incorporating it & distilling it nine times. It is a Waulme that maye well be kepte, soz it is so perfect that it abideth fift all tryall of fyre and water.

Secondely, it will pearce thorowe the hande.

Thirdly, in annoynting youre face it keepeth your youthfull colour.

Fourthly , it fasteneth and consolidateth all incision or cutting.

Fifthly it purgeth maruellously the eyes.

Sixtly, anoynting all the bodye with it, it is sayde st. at it shall never rotte or corrupte , nor euer brede wormes. This hath Hermes the Phylosopher written & I confirme it as most true, soz as much as I haue proued and tryed it.

A pouder very good to conserue the sight.

Take Betony, Rue, Delandine, Sarifrage, Leuisticke, Pulegium, Annice , Synamon , Euphrasia, in Eng-lishe eyebright, of ech a handefull , Grani Paradisi, Ginger, Fennell, Persly, Isope, Organny, Osier of the Mountaynes, of ech a Dragone , Galengale an Unce, of Suger an Unce. Make all this into pouder , and eate of it euerye daye with your meate : soz the sight is thereby preserved. And if your sight be perished or halfe gone, it will heale it and recover it perfectly agayne . This pouder is founde and thus ordyned by Mayster Gerarde , whiche tryed it vpon himelfe : soz he hauing vsed spectacles the space of twelue yeares together , and yet scant coulde see with them , nor reade the greatest Letters that were (so muche was his sight perished) after he vsed this pouder but a whole Lent together , onely in this sorte as I haue tolde you : he recovered so his sight agayne, that al the rest of his lyfe after, he coulde reade the smallest Letter that was, very perfectly.

Against the payne of the flankes or the pluresie.

Take

Take a wylde Bores tooth of the vpper Iasse, & the greatest, and make therof a powder, wherof you shall giue the Patient to drinke with a little broth, and he shall be cured.

Against quartayne Ague s.

Take the grease o; fatte that is vnder the manes of horses, and seeth it in a newe earth pot: and when you seele the Ague come, annoynct the chyne of your backe, and you shall be healed in thre tymes so doing.

To heale olde voundes and cankers of the legges.

Take cuttings o; shearings of Shomakers Leather, and seeth them, and the grease o; fatte that you shall get of them, set it by it selfe: then take of the herbe that groweth at the stote or roote of Willowes, the finesse that is, and the mosse that loketh lyke Velvet: dry it well and make it into a powder: and lay of it vpon the wound, and with the sayd grease annoynct round about the wound, and he shall shortly be hole.

Against the Scurfe.

Take Barrowes grease what quantitie you will, and seeth it with a glasse full of wine, and halse a punde of Beane floure in maner of an oyntment: then take Chyne o; pisso, and heate it as hote as you can endure it, wherewith you shall washe your head, and then annoynct it with the sayde grease, and it shall be whole within fiftene dayes.

Against Ventositie, Collike or Payne of the Matrice.

Take a dragine of intrayles made in powder, a dragine of Stecas, gyue it the Patient to drinke in a newe layed Egge, and she shall be healed.

For the hardnesse or brawne of the feete.

Dippe youre feete in hote Pisso, and when the hardnesse o; brawne is molisied, take a Launcet o; Cysours, and launce it rounde about: and then by and by put some fuyce of Syngreane vpon it, and the nexte morrowe

The first Booke

morowe it will be well.

To make very perfect Vineger.

Take the cromme of a hote loafe newe drawen out of the Duen, a Glasse of strong Vineger, wherein you shal put some Ginger, Pepper, Pyrethrum of Leuant, Calamus Aromaticus, the which things being brayed and stamped together, you shal put into Vineger: Then take the cromme of a hoate lofe, and put it so that it maye receyue to it all the sayde thinges. Then drye the sayde Lofe in an Duen, and make thereof a pouder, and put the sayde pouder in a Hoggeshed of Wyne, and it will become very perfect Vineger.

Against the falling sickness.

Take the Matrice of a Dove, the which being made in pouder you shall giue to eate or to drinke vnto the Patient, and as soone as he hath receyued it, the sicknesse will remoue from the brayne, and spiead into his fingers endes, tormenting him verye soze: but whereas the sayde matter shall assemble and come together, make a rupture: and the matter wyll come out as yellowe as Hassvron, and he shall be quickly healed.

For children that be broke.

Take whyte Paper, and chawc it wel with your teeth, and make thereof a Playster, as great as will couer all the Wroke, binde it in a swadle bande with a linnen cloth: Then laye it to his Coddes, and make fast the swathing bande: but you must renew euery day the Paper chawed, and he shall be whole.

Against the payne of the Spleene.

Take of the Lunges or Lyghtes of a Fyre made into pouder, and use to giue to the Patient to drinke or to eate of in god whyte Wyne, and he shall be cured.

For to stenche bloude.

Take mans bloud dryed in the Sunne, and make it into pouder, and if it chaunce that there be anye bayne brcken

bzoken or hurte, whereby there commeth out abundaunce of bloude, laye of the sayde pouder vpon it, and it shall be stenchd.

For to heale in foure dayes the scalding vwith vvater, or any other thing, vwithout oyntmentes or Playstres. It hath bene tryed and found true.

Take an Onion and cut him ouerthwarte, and w<sup>i</sup>ng out the iuyce vpon the scalded place, doing so euerye day twice, and it will heale it.

For to stenche bloud.

Take a sowre Orenge, and make a hole in the Toppe where the floure grewe, keepe that vpper piece that you shal take of, that you may afterward close by the hole agayne: yet before you stoppe it vp, you shall take the suet or grease of a he Gaste, the bignesse of a Walnut, and putt it into the hole: then set the Orenge vpon the coales or embers, that it maye incorporate, and dis-solue: Then annoyst along downe your back bone, and ouerwhart the flankes with the same licoure, and it shall heale you within three or foure times by the grace of God.

Against the vwormes in little Children.

Take a Lamp full of Oyle Olyue, and laye an yron in the fyre, and when it is redde hote quenche it in the sayde Oyle in the Lamp: then annoyst therrof the nostrels, the iherte and the Pauell, and straight way you shall see a great Miracle.

To heale the Einerhodes or Pyles.

Take Dogges dung foure vnces, half a round of common Oyle, put them together in a newe earthen pot and seeth them a little: then take out some of þe dung, and b<sup>r</sup>aye it vpon a trenchour: then seeth it agayne in the sayde Oyle, and putt to it thre vnces of newe ware, to the intent that all may come to incorporate together: and before you annoyst the Einerhodes or Pylles with the same

The first Booke

Same oyntment, you shall washe them with whyte wyne,
and in fourre dayes he shall be whole.

Against all kindes of payne and griefe.

Take a glasse ful of the iuyce of Leucoron, which is our Winter Gylofer, or Violets fassing, and you shal see a marueilous effect.

Against styfnesse or shrynkynge of sinovves, called the Crampe, or svelling, comming of the vound taken of some venimous beast, in Latine Spasmus or Spasma, or Convulsio.

Take Hogges dung as much as you wil, half a pound of Oyle Roset : seeth all in a newe earthen potte, and laye it as hote as you can endure vpon the soze place, and it will heale it.

For them that can not pisse by reason of certayne grauell, and viscositie or carnositie, vvhich is abnndaunce of flesh.

Take the iuyce of Radish rwotes, of little Lækes whch are founde vnder the grounde, and drye them, and make them into pouder : put all together, and gine every morning a certayne quantitie of it to the Patient to drinke, and he shall be healed in shorȝt space.

Against deafnesse.

Take a quicke Celi, and put him on a spitte alyne, and rost him : take the grease that commeth out of him :
Then take a Garlyke head rosted vpon the coales or cenders, and take one Codde or huske of the same Garlyke at a tym, and put into the sayde grease, and so put it hote into his eare, holding his eare upwarde the space of one Credo, and you shall see the filthy humours come out of his eare, and he shall be healed.

Against opilation or stopping.

Take Wyld or Marshe Mallowes, what quantitie you wyll, and seeth them in running water : then take of it about a glasse full hote with Suger Candye, morning

ning and evening, and you shall be cured.

Against the gyddinesse of the sight

Give euery morning vnto a childe to eate some sweete Fennell, and let the same childe liske the Patientes eyes, and he shall be cured.

For them that can not brouke their meate, but vomite it agayne.

Take Minte well stamped, and the crommes of brade burned in the fyre, and Wineger, and make therof as it were a sause, and spred it vpon some linnen cloth with the pouder of Cloues: heate it vpon a bricke or Tyle and laye it vpon his stomacke, and you shall see a godly experiance.

Against the headake by to much drinkiug.

Take Rue Leaues, and bray them with Wineger, and put Roses to them and bitter Almondes, and with this rubbe your head, and you shall be eascd.

Against all the Payne of the head.

Take halfe a Dragine of Bay Berries, of Scammonia, and of Saffron a Dragine, bray al wel together with Wineger and Roses. And when your heade aketh, an-noynt it where it grieueth you with this oyntmente, and you shall see the vertue to be maruellous great.

Against the Payne of the head that continueth alvvayes.

Take leaues of blacke Iuye, and braye them, and put them with Wineger, oyle and Wyne, as much of one as of the other: stich this together, and annoynt your forehead and your Temples, and it shall ease you verrye much by Gods grace.

Another vvay.

If the Patient thinke that his heade cleaueth in sunder by reason of the great Payne: take Iule, and make tuyce of it, the which you shal mingle with oyle Roset:
and with a linnen cloute you shall annoynt fayre and softly his nostrels, his Temples, and his forehead. And if the

The first Booke

payne be vehement, lay some of it vpon þ scull of his head.

Another vvay.

Take the brayne of a Crowe, and seeth it and then eate it : for there is none so great a payne of the heade, or none so olde, but that it wylle heale it with a singuler vertue.

Against the Migraine happening sodaynely.

Take Bengevine, and braye it with Vineger, and annoynt your forehead with it, and your temples, and it will mitigate the Payne.

Against itching of the head.

Take a shärpe Gall, and mire it with wþyte Chaulke and therewith rubbe your head, and let it drye vpon it, and it wylle heale you.

Against vlcers or scabbes of the head as vwell of men as of vwomen.

Take the Gall of a Bull, and mingle it with Vineger, and having made it luke warme, rubbe your heade with it, and you shall finde a maruellous remedy by the grace of Almighty God.

Against olde and putrified vroundes.

Bray Celandine, and then mixe it with olde suet, and blaye it so vpon the vlcers or scabbes, and you shall be healed incontinent God willing

For to keepe that the flesh grovve not to muche in a vrounde.

Take the Lyghtes or Lunges of a shärpe hote, and lay it vpon the wounde, and the flesh shall be equall with the skinne.

To heale and take avvay the scurfe.

Take a handefull of Rue, and halfe an vnce of quicke Brimstone, and seeth it with good olde Wayne : and so washe your head with it : but yet your head muste first be washed with luke warme water, as men are wont to do most commonly, and it shall be cured.

For to kyll Lyce.

Take the whaye that remayneth of Chæsemaking, and put to it a little Wineger, and drinke of it certayne dayes: and all the Lyce wil dye, and there wil brede no moze aboue you.

Against the distillation of the brayne, and heauiness of the head.

Take Wete rotes and braye them well, and then take the syurce of them, and receiuie it vp into your nostrils. And that wil draw vnto it all the humour of the head, and cause it to come out.

Against Murses or Catares that beginne to grovve.

You muste abstayne from supper, and from eating of any herbes, and from salt and fat things. For the Cartre commeth of indisgestion of the meate, and by the rawnesse of the stomacke. Therfore aboue all things you ought to abstayne from fat meates. And when you are amended, you maye take your supper as before your sicknesse you might haue done.

For to restrayne the murre or catarre.

Take fine partes of Wyne, and the serte of Honnye, mingle all together, and let it coole, and make of it a Gargarisme.

A remedy for that disease vwhen the haire of the bearde or head falleth of, of it selfe.

First you must shauie with a Rasour the place, and then frubbe it well with an Onyon: that done, take Barley parched and made into pouder, and mixe it with Beare sert, and so laye it vpon the place, and the haire will growe agayne.

To keepe that the haire shall not fall of.

Take the pouder of Walnuttis, of heath Cypres burned, of the ashes of a Mule or Mulettes hōse burned, of the oyle of Myrtle, the ashes of Rats burned, and

F.f.

their

The first Booke

their dung made in powder. Also the ashes or fresh dung of a Hedgehogge, and some Sandaracha, in English yelow Oker : mire all the sayde things with Vineger and softe Pitcher, and laye it vpon your head, and it wil keepe your haire from falling of.

To make the haires of a mans beard or head to grow.

Ye shall take that which groweth somtyme in the hore or paserne of an Asse, which is lyke vnto little warts, and burne them, and make powder of them, the whiche
you shall put in olde oyle, and then laye it vpon the place.
This thing hath suche vertue that if a man annoynt or rubbe the lawes or chinne of a woman, she shall haue the haire growe vpon the same place.

For to make haires grovve.

Ye shall take a Hedgehogge, and burne it all to coales, and put the powder or ashes made fine and small, with Beares grease : and laye this oyntment ouer all the head of a balde man, and it wll make his haire growe as fayre as euer it was.

For to curle haire a rare secrete.

Take the Ashes of sheres borne burned, and mire it with Oyle, and rubbe your head often tymes with it:
but you must be first polde.

For to make haire blacke.

Take Swallowes dung, and put it in god Vineger in a Viall, or some bernished earthen potte, then bu-rye it in a dung hill, or in horse dung, and leauie it so rrynges ful. And then annoynt your head, being polde, with this Medicine in the shadowe with a Painters pen-stil. But before you do thus, you must annoynt your face with Deare suet, to the intent that none of the colour of the sayde oyntment doe spotte or blacke your face.
And whyle this colour and dying doth dry, holde in your mouth some Oyle, to the ende that your teeth ware not blacke

blacke wth it : and the fourth day that you haue thus annoynted your head, you must wash it well, and al is done.

To keepe that the haires vvaxe not hoare or vvyte.

Mbre the Ashes of grounde wormes burned in Oyle, and rubbe your Combe with it when you tembe your heade, and your haire shall never chaunge colour in your olde age . It is a secrete that Wommen comonly vse.

For to make the haires blacke.

Take Cypre Leaves brayed, and mixte with Wineger: and annoynt your haire with it, and that same wyll dye your whyte haires into blacke, and in their place shall growe also blacke haires.

Against the Payne in the eyes.

Take rawe Cabbages , and braye them, and steepe in the sayde iuyce of them some whyte breade , and annoynt your forehead, and it wyll take away the paine of your eyes.

Against the dimnesse and daseling of the sight.

Take Salt Armoniack burned and well brayed : and mire it with the pisse of a yong childe, and therewith annoynt often tymes your eyes , and lape of it vpon them, and it will take away the daseling.

Another vvay.

Take the iuyce of Fennell rotes brayed , put to it as much good purifid honny, and seeth all with a small fyre vntill it be as thicke as honny. Then put that in a bore of brasse . And when you haue neede mire it with conserue water or womans Oylke : and certaynely it wil put away the daseling and dimnesse of the sight incontinent, if you lape of it vpon your eyes.

Against a vvebbe or spotte in the eye.

Take the Gall of a whyte Cocke, and braye it wyth water , and lape it to your eyes or put some in youre eyes, and it will take away the webbe or spotte, and

The first Booke

Will consume the droppes of bloude that are in the eyes, and strengthen the sight.

For to take avvay the hurtfull haire of the eye brownes.

YDu muste plucke off the haire of the eyes diligently which hurte and hinder the eyes: and then annoynt
the place with he Goates bloude hote, or Hares bloud, or else of the bloude of a Batte or slender Mouse, or rubbe it with the mylke of a Witch, or with a needle of Copper, whiche being ofte heated and quenched in Wineger, with the whiche you shall touch the place, and the haire wil neuer grow agayne.

Against all paine of the eares.

YEuall take a Scruple of the Gall of a Coate, and as much Honny, bray all together, and heate it in a fyre Panne, putting it into his eare, and stoppe it with Woll, and it will heale all the paine, yea though there were a canker in it.

Against the paine of the eares and deafenesse, and for to purge the Apostumes or corruption of the eares.

MIre Wengewine and newe Goates mylke together, and put among them some of an Dre Gall, and oyle of Cedar, as much of the one as of the other. Put al this luke warme into the Patients eares and it wil won-dersfully appease the paine of them and comfort the weake hearing, and also the Apostumes of the eares.

Against the paine of the eares.

HEate wylde Bores pisse vpon the fyre, and put it in to the Patients eare, for it is a singular remedy. The sayde pisse may be kept in a Violl of glasse, or better in the Bladder it selfe of the Boore.

Against the noyse or ringing of the eares.

MIre together the grease of a Gose, wthy the foyce of Saffron, and the foyce of Garlick, or Garlick brayed:

of Secretes.

Drayed: Then poure it into his eares, and certaynely it wyl heale him.

Against all infirmitie of the eares.

Take al tae grounde wormes, and seeth them with goosegreak: and droppe of the same decoction into the Patientes eares, and whatsoeuer payne it be it will heale it.

Against deafenesse and hardenesse of hearing.

Take an Ore Gall, and the pisse of a he Goate: Mire al together, and put of it into the deafe eare and incontinent he shall be healed.

Against the Payne of the eares, deafenesse, durt or filth, yvormes or vwater that is in them.

Take the fuyce of Drypons, and mingle it with Honnye, and then droppe it into the eares, and it will cleare and heale them.

For to stench bleeding at the nose.

Take verye strong Wineger, and poure of it into the eare of that side that he bleedeth, and if he blæde of both sides, put Wineger into both his eares, and it shall stenche it.

To heale the sicknesse called Noli me tangere.

Take the iuyce of the herbe called Dracunculus, or Serpentine, & put of the same iuyce into his nostrils, or dip in a linnen cloth, & lay vpon the soze, and the nexte daye take it away, for it will byng with it all the rotes of the soze.

Against stinking of the mouth.

Take the roote called Acorios, or Calamus Aromaticus, and chawc of it fasting, as it were Masticke, holding it a good space in your mouth, and it will make you haue a swete breseth and mouth.

Against the Tooth ache

Take the roote of Iusquiam, and seeth it in Wineger, and holde of the decoction thereof in youre mouthe, ff. iiiij. and

The first Booke and it shall heale you.

Another vray.

Take grounde wormes, and seeth them in Oyle, and then bray them well, and put of the decoction into the eare, on that side that the aking tooth is of, and the payne wyll easie.

For to make teeth fall out.

Take grounde wormes, and burne them vpon a redde hote tyle, and then take the ashes of the sayd wormes so burned, and put it into the hollow and aking teeth, and couer them with ware, and they will easly fall out without any payne at all.

For to make teeth vvherte that be blacke.

Take whyte bread and of a Pomme stony, as muche of the one as of the other, burne all together, and make therof a pouder, wherwith you shal rubbe your teeth, and they wyll be very whyte.

For them that be hoarce.

You musse swallowe downe, thre mornings together the yelke of a newe layd egge rawe.

To heale the disease called the kings euill.

Take Barley floure, Liquide Pitch, Ware, and oyle of equall quantitie, mixe all together, and seeth it well, and put into it a little pisse of a yong childe, and stirring it well about, laye it vpon the soze in maner and forme of a playster, and it will heale it.

Hovve to knowve the kings euill.

Take a grounde worme alyre, and laye him vpon the swelling or soze, and couer him with a lease: if it be the kings euill, the Worme wyll chaunge and tourne into earth, if it be not, he wyll remayne whole and sounde.

Against

of Secretes.

Against the cough, and distillation of the brest, and lungs, and running of the eyes, payne of the bladder, and vwhen the pype of it is stopped, vvhich caufeth that a man can not pisſe but vwith great difficultie. Also for those that spitte bloude at the mouth, or pisſe bloude: and for the flix, and collicke, and payne or heauiness of the belly, and choler, and also against a vomiting vwithout an ague. Also against all payne of the body except of the head, and especially against the ulceration of the lungs, if you giue the Patient an electuary or tvvo of it.

Take ſix draynes of Myrrhe, ſtue draynes of Frankencenſe, foure draynes of the iuyce of Poppy called Opium, ſix draynes of Haſtron, foure Draynes of the ſeede of whyte Iuſquiam called Henbane, and foure draynes of the pill or ryne of the roote of black Iuſquiam: you ſhall beate into pouder the ſayde barke or ryne by it ſelfe, and ſift it fine and ſmall thowowe a Sarce or ſiue, and then grinde the Haſtron: and then the ſeede of the white Iuſquiam or Henbane: & then after the Myrrhe & the Frankencenſe. With the which you ſhal mire the Juyce of the Poppy, hauiing bene layed before in water. And this done, you ſhall put ſtrayght waye to it a little water, to the intent you maye make therof Trochifcos or little Walles or Tablettes, of the weyght of half a drayne. You ſhall take of it at night with threē mouth fuls of waſter. This prouoketh ſleepe, and affwageth all grieſe, as is aforesayde. If you wyll you maye make Pilles of it: for it is all one, as concerning the vertue of it.

Against all vehement Coughes.

Take the iuyce of Leekes brayed, and ſeeth it with oyle, and giue it to the Patient to drinke, and it ſhall proſte him greatly.

Against the cough be it neuer ſo great.

Take

The first Booke

Take Brimstone made in powder, as muche as you can take by betwene your thre fingers: Give þ same unto the Patient with an Egge halfe rosted, before breakfast, five dayes together, if it be a man, but if it be a chylde thre mornings. And there is no cough so vheimerc, but it wyll heale it within the sayde tyme God willing.

For one that hath svalloved dovvne a bloud Sucker.

Take Wineger wherein there hath bene first quenched some redde hotte yron: and into the same put some Butter, and heate it by little and little, and give it him to drinke, and it will make the bloude Sucker come out. It hath bene proued.

Against an olde an inueterate cough.

Take quicke Brimstone, and beate it into powder, and wrap it in olde Hogges or Barrowes grease: And then the first daye giue thre Pilles thereof unto the Patient, the seconde day two, and the thirde day one. And the sayde Pilles muste be made so that he may swallowe them downe.

Against the bloody flix comming of the artere or sinevve of the lungs, or of the Lyuer.

Take the roote of Consire called Marquerites, and wash it in colde water and scrape it with a knyfe of Iuery or bone. Give unto the Patient to drinke two vnces or more of it, and as muche as he can eat. But note that he must not touche any Wineger that day, though he haue great vertue to stay the bloude, for truly it taketh away the effect and vertue of this roote, if you giue him anye with it.

For to restraine a great and vehement vomiting.

Take a little quicke Brimstone, and as muche of the scraping of a Hartes horne: all being brayed & made in powder, mingle and temper it in a softe Egge, and drinke it, and it will stoppe the vomiting.

of Secretes.

For them that can not keepe their meate in their stomack but vomite it vp agayne.

Ye shall take a little Aloes and giue it them to drinke with colde water, and it wyll make them kepe their meate in their stomach.

To quench and assvage thirst.

Ye shall take water and Oyle mixed together, and heat it a little, and drinke, and vomite it vp agayne by and by. And if neede be, doe so agayne, and it will quench your vehement thirst.

Another vvay.

Ye shall take the yelke of a Henne Egge halfe ross, and mixred with Oyle, and swallows it downe, and it will take away your thrist.

Another.

Ye shall take a stone in a Fountayne, and laye it quickly vpon your tongue, and holde it so a whyle and it wil quench your thrist.

To stoppe the Hicket

Take a spone full of Wineger made of the herbe Scilla Squilla, and drinke it, and by and by the hicket will ceasse, by the grace of almighty God.

For to stoppe the Hicket that commeth often.

Take hote water, and put your handes into it, and hold them there a good whyle, and the hicket will ceasse, it hath bene proued and found true.

A soueraigne remedy for them that haue vry necks
by reason of shronken sinovves, also for them that haue the goute.

Take the stones of a Wener, called Castoreum, whyte Pepper and Parsley of eche equall quantities: bryg all together and sift them. This done, take a spone full of it, and put in so much honny, and two mouth fuls of hote water, and giue it the Patient to drinke before he fast, and he shall be healed.

To take avvay the smelling vnder the arme holes.

Take

The first Booke

Take verye olde Wengewine, and make it into powder, and sift it : and then rubbe your arme holes with it, and they shall smell well.

Against Apostumes and syvelling at the roote of the nayles.

Take an Akhorne brayed with sope, and lay that vpon it, and they shall be well.

To make a mans nayles grovve incontinent vvhich be fallen of.

Take the herbe that is called Pentaphillon or Quinquefolium, in Englishe Cinkfoyle, and bray it with any grease : and laye it vpon the place and the nayle will come agayne incontinent.

Against the disease called Mentagra or Lichen, vvhich is a foule breaking out or couering al the face vwith a scabbe and beginneth at the chynne.

Take the fresh braunches of a figge tre, and seth them in Wineger, and then braye them well, and with this annoynct the soze , and vndoubtedly he shall be cured and healed immediatly.

To take avvay the scabbe of a running tetter, or Ryngvvorime of the face.

Take the rotes of wylde Colwumbers, and seth them vnto the thirde parte, then braye them well, and put to them some Lytarge of Siluer , & some Brimstone in powder, as much of the one as of the other, and put to it also a little Ware : and then rubbe and annoynct the sore place with it, and it will heale it.

Against Burgeons and pushes in the face, asvvell by the heate of the Sunne, as otherwyse.

Take the yelke of an Egge and braye it with Honnye and Ceruse, and so annoynct your face with it, and it wyll cure them very wel and perfectly.

Against all spottes, pimples, pushes, or vlicers in the face.

of Secretes.

Take Haſſicke, and the herbe calld Lappa maior, in Englyſh cloſte or great Burre, Sope, Ware, olde Oyle, Lytarge of Wiluer, as muche of the one as of the other: mingle all together, and ſeeth it like an oyntment, and annoynt the place with it, and it wil heale it.

To take awaie the blackneſſe of the necke,
and ſpottes of the face.

Take Beane ſoure and temper it wyth the Zyce of the inner parte of Pompons, and make thereof eyght Trochisci or little Walles, which you ſhall drye in the shadowe. And when you wyll goe to your bayne or bath, you ſhall take as muche as you ſhall thynke good of the ſayde Walles, which you ſhall breake and mire wyth Water, and annoynt the blackneſſe or ſpottes with it before you enter into your bathe. And when you beginne to ſweate, then rubbe the places wyth it, and washe them, and the ſpottes wil goe oute. It is proued and founde true.

Against the bruſing of the face by a fall or ſlyp.

Take the Kyne or barkē of a Radifhe roote, and bray it well, and mire it with Honnyp, and annoynt the place and it will heale you.

Another way very good

Yþe ſhall take newe ſoſte Cheeſe made of Goates mylke, bray it with Honnyp, and lay it vpon the place, and couer it with a clothe, and it wyll take away the bruſing immediatly by the helpe of God.

Against vvartes and malanders.

Yþe ſhall take the Herbe calld in Latine Scorpius, becauſe it hath ſeedes lyke vnto a Scorpions taſle: bray it well, and put to it a graine of ſalt, and laye it vpon the warts, and they will fall of.

Against

The first Booke

Against syvelling of the stomach, payne of the raynes, grauel, flegme, collicke, the Emorrhodes or Pyles: also to stay the floures of a wwoman, and for those that haue an infected lyuer and splene: also for those that cough ordinarily, and for them that haue the falling sicknesse.

Take an vnce of the roote of Enula campana, thre vnces of Fennell seede, two vnces of black Pepper. Stamp eche of these things by them selfe, and sift them verye fine. Then put all into Honey halfe sodden, and giue the Patient of it the quantitie of a Hasell Nutt with hote water. Some take it with Oximeli, other some with Wyne, and other take it alone in a spone, to make them pisce the stome and grauell.

Against the payne of the Splene.

Take a Dragine of the roote of Enula campana, dryed and made in powder, and then sift it fine, and giue it the Patient fasting with olde Wyne, and this wyl cure the Splene.

Another.

Take Cucumis aquimis made in powder, as muche as you can take vp with your thre fingers, and braye it with Wyne, and giue it the Patient to drinke before breakfast, and it will take away the payne.

For the payne of the loynes or haunches.

Take the roote of Iris or Gladiolus, and braye it with quick Brimstone and Beares grease, and laye it vp on your Loynes lyke a Playster, and you shall finde a soueraigne remedy.

Against the syvelling or vlcers of the raynes of the back, and kydneycs.

Take the leaues of dry Rose, the seedes of blache Poppy, and the kernelles or Berries of Pyncaple, of equall quantitie. Stamp eche of these things by it selfe,

of Secretes.

selfe, and mingle all together, and take of it the bignesse of a Walnut, and put it in two mouthfulls of Wyne sodden, and thre of Water, and give it the Patient to drinke, and it will heale him although he pissed bloud.

Against the Payne of the grauell, and for
to make a man pisſe.

You shall take a little Amber Stone, of the roote of Cypurus, and of blacke Pepper, stampe it, and then saeth it, and giue it to the Patient to drinke a spone full fasting, and it will make him pisſe, and alswage the Payne of the grauell.

Against the Payne of the raynes.

Take a pounde of wylde or Marsh Mallowes, freshe shrypes dung, and the old leafe of a Hogge, which is the fatte that lyeth by the back, and the ribbes, which husbandes vse to rolle vp and keepe to make salues, of eche two pounde: Stampe these things and mingle them together. That done, laye it vpon Woll new shorne and unwashed, and so laye it vpon the raynes of youre backe in maner of a Playster, and it will shortly take awaie the Payne.

Against the grauell.

Take the rootes of Asparagus, in Englishe Sperage, of Sarifrage, the roote of clotte or great Burres, the roote of Smallage or Alexanders, the roote of Ebulus, in Englishe Walivorte or Danielvorte, thre garlyke heades, the Leauers of Willowes, and a little Persley. Stampe al these thinges and mingle them together, and giue the Patient to drinke of it thre mornings with sudden Wyne, or with some sweete Wyne, or Wyne made swete wyth Honnye, and it will make him pisſe the grauell.

Against the Payne of the Bladder and grauell.

Take the skinne of a Hare newe slayne, and put it haire and all in an earthen potte, or laye it vpon a cleane cyle,

The first Booke

yle, and that done put it to the fyre, so that you maye make a pouder of the same skinne, the which pouder being sifted, you shal keepe in some cleane vessell. And when you shall neede it, take thereof thre sponefull in youre drinke : whiche thing soone appeaseth the griefe of the Bladder, and the grauell. Neverthelesse the remedie woulde haue greater vertue, if you tooke the whole Hare alyre, and put him in a newe earthen potte, and stoppe all the holes wyth Playster or with clay, so that there come no ayre out. Then if you put the sayde Potte into an Ouen, and let it burne with a small fyre, and when it is thorowly burned, make it into a verye fine powder, and sift it finely, and then vse it for your purpose.

This is very good for them that haue the grauell, and that pisse blouse, if it be taken with a little Waine.

Against the bloody flix, or fretting torment in the belly.

Take Mylke, and quench hote flint stones in it, or else some hote yron, and that done dyuers tymes, give it to drinke vnto the Patient (provided that he haue not the Ague) and he shal be healed.

Against the stryning, fretting, and gryping of the belly.

Take seauen or nyne of the long and redde Berryes of a wylde Rose tre, and let them be ryce. Bray them well, and give to the Patient with olde wyne, if he haue not the Ague: but if he haue the Ague, give them him with water. And if neede be, you shall giue them him so thre dayes together, and he shal finde it a soucraigne remedy.

For those that haue fretting and gryping in the belly, and the Laxe.

Take the yelke of Egges raby or rof, wylde graine Beasings, Galles, as muche of the one as of the other in waight : Mixe all together in braying it, and giue

guae it to the Patient hote, & he shal be cured by the grace of God.

Against the Collycke.

Take a Henne a lyue, and see that shecate not in two dayes: then kyll her and take the lytle skinne that is in her brest, or throte hole, and drye it and make it in pou-der, the which you shall geue the Patient, with some harsh or grosse wine somewhat sharpe. And the Patient must be fasting, and not hauing supped the night before, but kepte in a good diet.

Against the paine of the Collycke comming sodainly.

Take the hale of a Hare, and carry it about you, & the sodaine collicke shall never take you.

Againe of the paine of the Gutteres or Bovvells.

You shall take Baye leaues, and saue them in water, & give the Patient drynke of thys decoction and he shal be healed.

For to stoppe the Laxe.

Take the rotes of Hartes horne next to the heade, and make a syne pouder of it with a syle: and at this pou-der giue a dragine vnto the Patient with redde wine a Coblett full: andt is will stoppe the laxe if he vse it thise mornings.

Against the fretting of the belly or laxe.

You shall take one Pomegranade or manye, and put them in an earchen potte, the which you shall stop wel, and lute about with Potters clepe, to the ende there come no astre oute. This done, set it in an Ouen to be burned: then the Pomegranade being well made into pouder keepe it. And when you haue any fretting or grippi g in your belly, comming sodainly, drynke a lytle of the same pouder with wyne, and you shall be sone cured.

For to knowe a secret or hidden desease of any man and to heale the same.

The first Booke

Take a yong Whelpe that yet sucketh, and let him lye nyght and day with the man the space of thre dages, during the which tyme the patient shall take milke in his mouth, and spitte into the Whelpe's mouth. Then take the sayde Whelpe and cleave him in pieces, & you shal know the sickneſſe part of the man by that of the Dogge, which you shall ſee either infected or whole and ſounde. For certainly the Whelpe draweth to himſelfe the ſecret and hidden diſeaſe whereof he dieþ, and the man ſhall be healed, & you may burye the Dogge.

For them that voyde bloude at their foundement, and for thoſe that haue theyr bloude broken.

You ſhall take the yong ſpringes of Nettels very ſen-der, biaz them well in a morter, and take the tynce of them, and giue it the Patient to drynke alone in the moſning, or with ſome ſtrong Vinegre and colde water, thre dages together, & there is none ſo corrupt bloude but it will purifie, nor no Lare ſo great but it wil ſtoppe it.

Agaynſt the Wormes that ingendre in mens bodyes.

You ſhall take the galle of a Bulle, and diſſe some Woll in it, and lay it vpon the ſauell, and it will make the wormes come out of the bodye.

Againſt the gryping of the Belly, and deſire to go to the ſtoole and yet do nothing.

Take cowe milke ſodden, & geue the Patient oftentimes drinke of it, and he ſhall be whole.

Againſt the paine of the Collycke.

Take the lytle byrde called in Latyne Vpupa, in Eng-lishe a Lapwing, and burne her whole with her feathers, and take of the Aſhes, and giue it the Patient to drinke in wyne.

Againſt the Ulcers or fyſtules in the foundement of a ma-

Take

of Secretes.

43

Take Date stones and burne them and then make the
into a fine powder , and laye oftentymes of the same vpon the fistules or vlcers , or vpon the hole of the foundement , & he shall be whole.

For to heale the Emorrhodes, or those that lose their bloude.

Take Lekes and braye them well , and take the tuyce of the , the which you shall giue the Patient to drinke before breakefast , and the Emorrhodes wil soone ceasse
by the grace of God.

Agaynst the Ulces of the Foundement, and agaynst the disease called commonly sainte Fiacres syckenes.

Take the pylle or ryne of a Pomegranade , brake it & sethit in good wyne , and bray it wel and lay it vpon the sore place lyke a plaister , and it wil without fayle heale the disease.

For to rype or breake an Apostume or swellyng
in the gryne.

Take Nasturtium , and bray it with pitch , & lay it vpon the swelling or Apostume , and he shalbe whole.

An other.

Take brislet lyme , two Garlicke heades , the yelkes of thre egges , mingle all together , and lay it vpon the sore place lyke a plaister : this will put awaye all the payne and swelling of the Apostume .

Agaynst hurt or flaving of the skyn by chasing and goyng either of the feete or betwene the thighes .

Take a Morter of Leade , and a Pessle of the same , and put in the sayde Morter some Oyle Roset , and the yelke of an Egge : the whiche thynges you shall grynde vntyll they become thycke : and tyll some of the G.y. Leade

The first Booke

leade be myngled with the saide oyntment. And when it is thick like a plaister, spreid it vpon a fine & soft linnen cloth and lay it vpon the payne, and continuall thus thre dayes vntill the payne be whole.

Against the svelling and paine of the soles of the feete.

Take the Rose that groweth in the water, but let it be greene, braye it well with oyle of lyue, and laye it vpon the place with a linnen cloth, and it wil ceasse
the payne, and take away the swellyng.

To make wortes fall of.

When you kyll a Hogge, let hym that hath the wortes receyue the bloude euen hote vpon the place where the wortes bee, and assone as it is drye let hym washe it of. And if it be a woman that hath these wortes, she muste take the bloude of a Hewe, and shalbe healed of them.

For to take avway the felons and Cats haire, which breake out vwith vvhales in the iyngers, and also knoppes grovving in the feete

Take grounde wormes, stamp them, and wþt a little oyle laye them vpon the sores, and they wyll bring the away, and heale them.

For to assyage the payne of the goute quickly,
and for all griefe of the feete

You shall take grounde wormes, and put the in Winegre, that they may purge them selues of all the ox-bare and sylthe. The next morning wype them drye, & put nyne vnces of them in a pounde of grease, braying them a good while, to the intent you may incorporate the,
and therewith annoynte your feete, and the payne shall cease.

An other vway.

Take

of Secretes.

Take a fore and seeth him wel, then straine the decoction of him thorowe a linnen clothe, wherewith you shall bathe and washe oftentunes your fete, & it wyll take away the Payne.

For to get out any thing that sticketh in a mans body, as thornes and suche other.

Take a peece of a Sponge or Wolle dypped in pisse, & lay it vpon the thyng that sticketh in the fleshe, and it wil come out without paine. & els take some larde and seeth it in it owne grease, & then laye it vpon the soze place and bynde it, and it wyll drawe out all thyng that sticketh in the fleshe.

Here foloweth certayne receiptes against the Plague.

A composition preseruatiue against the Pestilence, excellent as it vvere Tryacle or Mythridatum.

Take Pympernell dried, an vnce and a halfe, Sordij ve-ti, rootes of Gentian, Imperatorie, Zedoariae, of eche tre dragmes, Calamint, Apiastrum or Citraginis, Enula campana rootes, Tormentillæ, whiche is a kynde of Cinckfoyle, Bay berries, the seede of Carduus benedictus, which is one of the kyndes of the herbe called Atriactilis, an Drenge or Citron, Oxalidis, which is a kynge of Hozzell, Wole armenicke prepared, of eche three dragmes. lycozas scraped Glycanisi seminis, the seedes of Scatiola, which is Intibus sativa, of the kyndes of Endive and Huccorpe, Cynamomi exquisiti, of eche two dragmes, Cylloflowers, redde Roses, Coriander prepared, the seede of Ba-sill, Corticis citrij fixi, Santali lutei vel rubri, Agolochi, that is Xilaloe, vel ligni aloes, the scraping of Juozie, red Cozall, Pearles, of eche a dragine and a halfe: Saffro two scruples. All these being beaten very small, mingle them G.ij. with

The first Booke

With Sugre of equall quantitie, or else with Oxymelite or Syrupo acetato, or Oxy sacchata, or rather the Syroppe of Lemmons: But vnto weake stomacks contrary let it be made lyke to a liquide confection, either Opiatæ vel Massæ, or else let there be an electuarie per tabellas, of a Dragine weyght, or four scruples, yf you adde vnto euery vnce of Sugre a Dragine of the saide pouder. You shall take of it two or thre houres before your meales. If it be pouder, the quantitie shall be a Dragine or halfe a dragine at the least, with some convenient lycour of those which are now named. If it be Opiatæ, the quantitie of a Chestnut or Walnut. If it be in forme of a Masse and thickke, you shall make two or thre pylles or moe very soft for to take at one tyme, drinking after it some such lycour as I haue already spoken of. When it is in lytle tablettes, you may take one or two.

An other composition in pouder or in another maner for the same.

Take the rutes of Angelica, Gentian, Zedoaria, of the rutes of Tormentilla, þ ſades of Oxalidis citrij mali, Cynamome elect, with a kinde of Cassia, of yellowe or red Sandale or Sanders, Carduus benedictus, of eche two Dragmies, the pylle of an Orange, a dragine & a halfe:
the ſcraping of Juoyce a Dragine, redde Cozall halfe a Dragine, of the beſt Sugre lyke weyghte, put to all theſe things as the pouder ſhall ſeeme pleauant and good. Eþ if you wyll ſeeke another way as is ſpoken of the firſt preſeruatiue. As concerning the quantitie of this confection at euery tyme, and the tyme of uſyng it, let it be as the other before. But if you will haue them bothe, let them not be of lyke sorte, but in the one in pouder or in tablettes,
the other in Opiate or Masse with pylles.

Common pylles verye good for the ſame.

Take Aloes probata & lotæ, two uncæ, of Haſtron an uncæ, of god Myrthe as much, or els Myrthe and Ammoniacum

of Secretes.

moniacum dissolved in white wine, of eche halfe an vnce, mixe them together with honny roset. And in winter you may put to it Zedoaria, Agallocchi or red Sāders of eche a Dzagine. But in sommer take away the Pyrhe & Ammoniacum, and put to it Wole armenicke p̄epared th̄e d̄zagines, redde Corall halfe a Dzagine, Camphryze halfe a scruple. You shall commonly take a pille o; twaine before your meales. Sometime you shall procede unto a Dzagine after your first slepe.

Antidotes or medecines preseruatiues and confortable, of small cost, eat̄e to fynde and prepare for poore folke.

- 1 Take Garlyke, & drinke a little wine after it: o; a figge with a Walnuttē and Rue and a lytle salte specially in Winter.
- 2 Take twentie leautes of Rue with two Walnuts and as many sygges, and a grayne of salte, al being mixt together receyue it in the morning.
- 3 Take fire leaues with Rue and Winngre.
- 4 Take the roote of the herbe called in Latyn Imperatoria, of some Laserpitium gallicum, in Englische Pellitorie of Spaine.
- 5 Take the roote of Angelica,
- 6 The roote of Gentian.
- 7 The roote of Zedoaria.
- 8 Of Carduus benedictus,
- 9 Of Carlina.
- 10 Take the herbe called Scordium, of the one, of the two o; of moe, in small pouder the quantitie of a Dzagine, ey-ther in a softe masse made with sooden Honny and Wine-ger, o; with some handsome Syrope, as of Lemons, o; in Opiate, the bygnesse of a Chestenutte o; of a Cyche pease with Wyne in Winter, in Sommer with Rose water, o;
with the Juyce of Sorrell.

C.iiiij.

ii Take

The first Booke

- 12 Take Sozrell alone, or with Pimpernell tempred in Winegre, and drynke of it in the morning.
- 13 Of the Juyce of them, wherewith you may make a coste in Sommer.
- 14 Of Jenypp berries, greene Pimpernell leaves, of Betonpe, of Pulegion, of Sozrell, as muche of the one as of the other, brayed together, sodden with sodden Honnye, and a lytle Winegre lyke a conserue.

An other medicine.

- 15 Take Jenypp berries, Bole armenicke, of eche two Dragmes, or of equall weyghte. Beinge stamped let it be layed in swete oyle and Winegre, or in Drimilite, in a meane forme, either Opiate or Masse.
If it be Opiate, take as much of it as a Chestnutte. If it be Masse take one great pille & drinke after it a litle Hydrosmecl or Drymel, or wyne.

The things of sauour or fyveete smell,
as pouder, balles, vwaters, parfumes, and fyrst a pouder for many purposes.

Take Iris florentiana, fourre vnces, of Spatozam in Latine Sensuchum, redde Roses, Cloues, of eche an vnce, Miliopholi, Nucis odorata or Muscate, Zedoaria, Cynamome, Agallochi, yellow Sanders, Mastycke Storax calamita, Bengewine, of eche half an vnce, calami odorati, spici nardi radicis, of eche a Dragme: Iuncus odoratus two scruples.

Make of these a pouder to smell, to be beaten and broken in some peice of sylke or fyne linnen clothe. Beate also these thynges grossel, for to perfume and to wash your head and beard: or elles let them lye a certayne tyme in whyte Wyne and Rose water, and afterward strayne them. And kepe that whiche shall be strayned for to bse when you wyll, or lette them be stytled in some double vessell, that there may be Aqua aromaticca. As I saide it is to perfume your chamber morning and euening, beyng layed

of Secretes.

Layed vpon coales, or this powder to gyue a god odour keping it about you, or in soe place betweene your garments and linnen, or to make a lytle bagge of it, and to mire it with some lycour maete for to washe your heade & bearde, or otherwise to wet your handkercher in it, or some peice of spōge to swel, or to make distilled water of it, for to smel to

A Perfume.

Take coales of Willowes eyght vnces, Ladani puri, two vnces, Frankencense of the male kinde of the Wlode, & berries of Jeniper of ech an vnce, Agallochi, or Xilaloes, Bengewine, Storax calamita, of ech half an vnce, Nutmegges, yellowe Sanders, of ech thre dragmes, Cloues, Storax liquida, of ech two dragmes, Zedoaria, Calamus aromaticus, of ech a Dragine, Gumme tracaganthe dissolved in Rose water sufficiently. And make lyttle parfums of what fashion it pleasest you.

A smellyng ball.

Take pure Labdanū two vnces, Bengewine an vnce and an half, the coales of Willowes an vnce, Storax calamita, fire Dragmes: Iris florentiana halfe an vnce, Cloues thre dragmes: Matoram, yellow or redde Sanders of ech two dragmes: redde roses, Calamus aromaticus, of ech two scruples, Leuigentur. Then take the oyle of swēte Almōdes, Bengewine, of ech fire dragmes: Storax calamita halfe an vnce. Let these things seeth together with fire Dragmes of Rose water.

Then straine it, & let that which is strained be soft made with two vnces of white ware, & Storax liquida, a dragine. Make it lyke a Cereatum or plaufer, with the whiche the other things must be stamped & incorporated with a hote pessell. Put to it a Dragine & a halfe of Muske, or als two scruples.

An other svveete Ball meeter for the Sommer.

Take redde Roses and Violets, of ech thre vnces and a halfe, the berries and leaues of Myrtle, yf you can get them,

The first Booke

them, coales of Willowe, of eche an once: Jenypp berries, the Pilles of Dronges, of eche sixe Dragmes, yellow or redde Sanders two dragmes: Wengewine a Dragine, Camphyre two scruples. Make h̄cros a powder. Then take oyle of Roses an vnce and a halfe, Storax calamita, Wenge wine of eche two Dragm̄is: an vnce of Rose Water, or as much as shall suffice. Make that soft that is strained with two vnces of whyte ware. Make a Ceratum, and beate all the rest together with a whote Pestell. Put to it a little Muske, fine or sixe graines.

Outvvarde remedies to purge the ayre, the easiest, the presentest, and those that are of the smalſ leſt prycē for men of ſmall habilitie.

Parfume ſome Jenypp berries of the rote clouen aſſunder and dryed; and of the other drogges before mencloned for the firſt outwarde remedie.

- 2 Winegre alone or mixte with rose water, for to ſprinkle your chamber.
- 3 For to holde oftentimes in your mouth, & chaw, namely when you go out and kepe company with men, there also the Pille and ſeds of a Citron, which gyueth a god oboure Cynamome, Cloues, the rotes of Anglica, or Zedoaria, & ſuch lyke, as are afore mentioned.
- 4 For to ſmell with a Sponge, or with a Handkercher daye and night, Palmifey, or other ſtrong wyne & ſweete, as Muscadell alone, or elſe with rose water, wherein there hath bene tempreſed ſome aromaticall drogge alreadye iþoken of, as Cloues or Nutmegs.
- 5 Of good Winegre twice as muſch as of colde water with a little Camphyre, ſpecially in Sommer.

A pouder agaynſt the Wormes.

Take Coriander, prepare fine dragmes, Jenypp berries three Dragmes, Southernwode, Partes horne, Corallinae

of Secretes.

Corallinæ, of eche two draynes: whyte Agaricke newe made in balles: Nutmegge, Cynamome elect, of ech two scruples, make of thys a metely fine pouder.

The vvhole summe of the regiment and gouerning of a mans selfe.

1. It is necessarie that you be kept neat and cleane & all thinges in your house, flying diligently and as muche aa you can all euill ayre.
2. Avoide al excesse and superfluitie, specially in drenking and eating, and from women.
3. Also from trauaile, and from excesse in sleeping and watching.
4. Beware of moyss meates and corruptible, and of al things that is cause of rawnesse, & other euill humours.
5. Live soberly, drinke and eat at ordinary houres, & in godd order.
6. Take your resse, and vse some neate and godd exercise or occupation.
7. Mayntaine & kepe youre naturall or accustomed boyding.
8. Be mery.

A soueraigne pouder against the venyme of the plague, for rygh men and Princes.

Take Saphyre, Hyacinthe, Smaragdus, of one of these, or two, or of all, one Dragine: of Pearles, Wolfe armes nicke of the best, the seedes of Oxalis, of eche two draynes: of the scraping of Juorie two scruples, of Uniscornes horne a scruple: of the seedes of Ocimum, halfe a scruple, yellowe or redde Sanders: Agalocchi, or Xilaloes of the best. Doronici Cynamome erquisite, saffron, of eche thre graifies, Muske syre grainer. Make hereof a fine pou-der. You mayc leaue out the Muske for them that loue it not.

The vse of y false pouder and for other that folow shal be declared

The first Booke declared afterwarde.

A pouder for poore folke, of no lesse efficacie and strength than the seconde.

Take Wole armenicke of the best, two Dragmes: the seede of Oxalis thre Dragmes, Aloes hepaticum lo-tum, redde Corall, of ech a Dragine, the pouder of Diamargariti frigidi, two scruples: the pouder of Diatrio santalon, egypt scruples, the pylles of drype Dr-enges, Cloues, Cynamome, Saffrō, of ech ffeue dragini.
Make thereof a syne Powder. You shall vse the saide pou-ders with Conserues, or without them, with Syropes, distilled wakers, or rather with Juices, and other such conuenient lycours.

A drynke for poore folke, and in places,
vvhile there is none or very lytle
Iuyce, eyther of Sytrophe, Cytrons, Lemons or Pomgranades.

YDu shall take the pouder prescrisbed for poore folke Conditi rosati, or conserue of Roses, Conditi boraginis, or rather coraginis, of ech a Dragine and a halfe:
of the stucke of Oxalis, two vnces, Succi arantij, Succi coraginis extract with Rose water, of god white Winegre, of ech an vnce, and make thereof a drinke.

A drynke often tymes tryed profytable and vvholesome, the vvhich as many men say, vvas neuer founde vaine.

Take pouder of Motherwoote, of the firste, or of the seconde two dragini: the seedes of Sancti, or of Dranges: of Myrrhe, of ech a dragine: h scrapings of Harts horne a dragine, mire the toghether well beaten. You must drinke this with white Winegre before a fyze: & as soone
as there appeareth any swellyng in the gryne or flanke, or vnderneath the arme holes, or any where else, the remedy must be ready: for it provoketh great sweate wher-by tge venim or infeccion auoydeth in euery parte.

The

of Secretes.

The Paciente thus sweating his infected sweate besyde a syze, muste be rubbed and dryed with hote linnen clothes, whiche must be alwates chaunged, vntil the sauour of the sweate be gone with rubbyng.

Of the sayde pouders also a man may make conserues or Opites after this maner that foloweth.

Opiate.

Take of the syste or seconde pouder, Orenge pilles conserued, of eche an vnce and a halfe, Conditi rosati that is to say, the conserue of Roscs, the conserue of Buglosse, of eche two vnces, of the syrope of the iuyce of Cytrons or Lemons o: Orenge, or elles of Oxalis o: Omphacini, as much as shall suffice. Makethereof a liquide electuarie in forme of an opiate. Whereroftake an vnce or more, and drinke after it some of the foresayde lycours, and suche as here followe. It shalbe well done, to mingle an vnce of Purcelane with the licours as foloweth.

A drynke meete after every taking of the sayde opiate, or to be mixte vwith the takinges of the same opiate, for the strongest or meanest men accordyng
to the place and tyme.

Take the Iuyce of Citrons or Lemons thre vnces, of the wyne of swyre orenge, of whyte Rose water, of eche an vnce. And mire them together.

A drynke for poore folke.

Take the Iuyce of sorrell bryce cleare thre vnces, of bitter or swyre Orenge, good white and cleare Minagre, rose water, of eche an vnce. Make thereroft drinke, putting to it a lytle Sugre if you will.

A drynke to cause them to syvrate.

Take good triacle o: Pythidatum a dragine, bole ar-menisch of the best, o: of the pouder of one of the herbs called Cardiacæ also;e discribed, halfe a dragine: Sca-boise water two vnces: water of Oxalis, Buglosse o: Bo-rage

The first Booke

rage of eche an vnce : and make therof a drynke.

An other drynke easy for poore Folke.

Take the decoction of Scabiose, & of the flowers of redde Poppye a glassful with a little Sugre. & a Plysane made with Barley & Anyce seede & the rotes of Persly, or of the decoction of Cyche peason , the rotes of Persley, the rotes of Succorye : the one or the other decoction wyth sharpe Syrop two vnces , or with Sugre or a lytle whyle Vnegrē.

These drynkes must be taken whote , the Patient being well couered in his bedde . The Triacle and Mithridate, although they be of great efficacie in thys behalfe, yet thei are not mete for women with childe, nor for yong childre. The use also of them ought not to be often , nor in grcate quanticie , when the feuer is great. Some meunies abyse is to mingle the medicine for sweating with some distilled water, or with the decoction of herbes concerning the part to the which the venimous matter hath his course. Nowe if a man knoewe that the matter goeth to the heade , they wyll that the Patient take it so to sweate with some distilled water, or with the decoction of Betony: but if it go to the bittall partes or to the breast and heart, with the water or decoction of Eozage, which is verye Englosse . If it go to the belly and bowels,wyth iycour of Wormewode. If to the lyuer, the with the decoctō, or water of Agrimonie, which is the true Eupatorium.

An Epithemic or medicine to lay to the region of the heart to coole it.

Take Rose water fourre vnces : water of Violettes and of Renupher of eche three vnces : water of Buglosse, of Oxalis, of wine of Pomegranads, of good Vnegrē, of eche two vnces : of Coriander prepared thre dragmes, redde Roses, flowre of Pearles of ech a Dragine : of redde Sanders half a dragine : of bothe Coralles, of Camphyre, of eche a scruple : Sandon halfe a Scruple , myngle them together

of Secretes.

together. And make thereof an Epitheme.

An Epitheme for the heart good for poore folkes, vvhiche may also serue for the Lyuer.

IT is made of twelve vnces or a pounde of Rose water of thre vnces of good white Winegre, putting to it in Sommer wylte and redde Sanders of eche a dragme.
If it be in Clynter, in stede of Sanders you shall put to Cloutes, the flowers of Nardus celtica, or of Lauendar or eche a Dragme.

An Epitheme or medicine for the lyuer.

TAke the water of Succorye in Latine Ambubeiz, Rose water, of Oxalis, of eche fourte vnces: white Winegre:
wynne of Pomegranates of eche two vnces: pouder of Di-arhodon abbatis two dragnes: the pouder Diamargaritō frigidum, whiche is a confection made with Pearles, one dragine: redde Sanders halfe a dragme: Camphyr halfe a scruple. Make thercof an Epitheme.

Locall medicines and fyrt a playster or oynt-ment for to dravve and dissolute.

TAke the rotes of Narcissus, or of Flowerdeluce with his oyle, and baze it with Honey. It is good for a de-tperate boode, and easeth all the payne.

An other easy dravving medicine.

TAke Rue or Dogon, brayed with Triacle, or Triacle alone, or of Radishe rote cut into litle rounde peeces, clay on one affer an other, & chaunge it often times.

An other very good in maner of a playster.

TAke Diachylum, two vnces, Armoniacum, Galbanum of eche halfe an vnce and put them together.

Medicines of the kyndes that burne the skynne or flesh, called Medicamenta caustica, or vi-scicatoria, vvheroft the first is very strong.

APlaister of Cantarides, and busleckt lyme myred with oyle of Walnuttis in stede of a launcet, for to gette out

The first Booke out the swelling.

A nother plaister.

Take the rotes of Narcisse or of Lilles sodden with ashes, of Pigeons dung of cthe equal parts: of Meligo anacardina called Mel anacardinum, as muc he as shall suffise. And make thereof a plaister.

An other stronger.

Take Frementum acris, sowre Leue, Sepe, Fleges, olde Walnuttes, of eche halfe an vnce, Iris florentina, mu-ffard seede, vnsteckt lyne, Calcanthum, that is to saye romaine Vitr:ol, beaten together of cthe two dragmes: as muche Turpentine as is neede full. Make of it a plaister.

A medecine that clenseth and Purifieth.

The yelke of an Egge mixt with a little Barley flower or wheate flower, putting to it hony resct. It is very sweete and meete for a deyante body.

An other of the same very good.

Take the Juyce of Earleke sire vnces: the Juyce of Wormewode, god l onny of cthe three vnces: Bar-ly flower or Wheat flower, or flower danclo: Beere barley, two or thre dragmes. Seeth it vntil it be somewhat thicke, & make of it an oyntment that mudiificeth or purgeth the soze.

A plaister incarnatyse.

Take the leaues of Rumpernill, of Betaine, Ucrutine, Seimperuui tertij, commonly called Veinicularis, of the lesse Centorie, of cthe a handeful and a halfe: seeth it in white wine vnto the halfe. And be. ng strained put to it Rosen, Ware, Shepes suct, of cthe thre vnces. Seeth all together with a little womans milke put in it, vntill the Juyces be consumed. Then when you haue taken it from the fyre, put to it wher it beginneth to be colde, Rosen, Turpentyne thre vnces, cleare Mastiche and proued ten dragmes, Aloes hepaticum, two dragmes: mingle them and sturre them with a potsticke, and make of it a plaister.

of Secretes.

A Repercussive and Resolutiue oyntment against the Canker.

Take Leade burned and washed, Phompholix which the Apotickaries do call Pill, Frankencense, of eche two vnces, wormewood, of that which is called Absinthium Ponticum, half an vnce, Oyle of Rose three vnces, Ware six dragmes: the iuyce of Nightshads, as much as is sufficient for the thicknesse of the oyntment.

A playster Dyapompholigos of Theodoricke, for to stoppe the gnawing and eating of the canker. It is repercussive, refrigeratiue and desiccatiue.

Take good Oyle of Rose, whyle Ware, of eche two vnces: the iuyce of the redde graynes or berries of the Herbe called Solanum two vnces: redde Leade washed an vnce: Lead burned and wash't, Pompholygos commonly called Tutia, of eche halfe an vnce: Franken- censie of the Male kinde two Dragmes. Make thereof a Playster.

An oyntment very syvete for Cankers that haue corrupt matter in them, vvhich also delayeth the payne of those that haue no corrupt matter in them.

Take good Ware, Turpentine, Bullessuet, the new and fresh Marow of a Dære or Calfe, Oleum Ricini- um, newe and fresh Goose grease. Monv elct, Fran- kencense, Diphizir, , Poinpholix, of eche equall portions, and of Oelipum thrice as muche, without the Franken- cense the autho: thinketh it w ll be sweter . but with it more resolutiue and it wi ripe the sooner, and is better for Cankers that haue no corrupt matter in them.

An oyntment of a maruellous vertue against the eating and running of the Canker, and to take awy al the grieve of the same.

H.J.

Take

The first Booke

Take Rue or Sumach Sextarios threé Pilles of Cipres threé vnces, Galles not rype, Cassia, of eche an vnce and a half: Vinum adrianum, that is to say: Wylpe that bindeth, and olde Wylyne of good odour fwe Sextarios.
All these things being brased together, laye them in wine threé dayes, and then seeth them threé or fourre waumes stirring it with a syppc of Cypres. Then hauling wryng all out diligently, and cast awaye the thicke of it, the tyme will seeth in the thicknesse of Honny, soz to be kept afterwarde in a vessell of Glasse.

This oyntment muste be vsed alone without any mixture against the sayd disease, adding to it sometime a little Wylyne. If hys medicine be to thick you must make it liquid and soft, soz the sicknesse which possessesthe priuie parts of a Womant, that is to say, the necke of the Matrice. If you dissolve it in the mylke of an Ashe, it mitigateth the payne, also is very profitable soz all other scorching of the skinne that runneth in length, and extendeth more and more, and bringeth no inflamation. It is good soz to dyppe vp the eares that haue bene of long tymes subiect to a running and putrified matter of bloud corrupted.

Also soz the Gummis that be infected and withered, also against vlers that be hard to heale, and can not be cutte, but with great payne, if it be mingled moderatly and reasonably. But holwe is it that softe and gentle remedies shoulde resist such a disease, to the whiche the roughest and the most wyldest givne place. The sayde oyntment is to be prepared as foloweth.

Take Sumach a pounde: Pilles of Cipres threé vnces:
of brypte Galles, of Cassia, of eche an vnce. Vinum Adrianum, that is to saye: Vinum Astringens, fourre pounde.

A playster mitigatiue, and very gentle for Cankers, specially of the brests or Pappes.

Lake

of Secretes.

Take Saffron, Poppy, Frankēcense of the male kinde of eche a Dragine : Lithargyri , Plumbi vsti loti two Dragmes, Ceruse prepared an vnce & a halfe : white Ware two unces, Gose grease , newe and fresh Butter of eche three unces. Rosacei boni soure unces. The pouder being brayed with the iuyce of Morella muste be mingled with the things molten.

FINIS.

Here after follow many goodly receipts, touching the hande-ling of divers metalls, all well tryed and approued.

And first for to harden yron.

Take Werusine, and bray it stalkes and all, and kepe the iuyce of it in some glasse . Nowe when you will harden any yron , put to the same iuyce as muche of pissie, with the iuyce of a little Worme called in Latine Spondilis, in Dutch Enberlincker. And let not your yron be to hotte , but when you see that it is indifferent hotte, quenche it in the sayde mirion, and let it cole of it self vne till you see little spottes vpon it somewhat yellowe , and then put it to the sayde water. If it ware very blewe, it is a signe that it is nor hardened ynough.

For to harden Knyues, and other such lyke.

Take the Marow of a Horsie , wherein you shall cole your yron,

For to harden a Fyle or other instrument of yron.

Take o'ye shwoes and burne them, and make them into a pouder , and put to it as much Salt : cast this mixture vpon and vnder the ffyles in a Cofer or Chest of yron couered with a couer of yron . & lay the pouder so that

The first Booke

it maye be as muche aboue as vnder, the thicknesse of a strawe. Couer the sayde Cofer with his couer, and put it into the fyre vntil it be reddc hote: after this let it fall into some colde water, and you shal haue the fles good and berye hard. You maye anneynct them also with Oyle of Lyne or he Goates bloude.

To harden any other substauice materiall.

Take the iuyce of Cinkefoyle, with the iuyce of wormwood, and put in some Glasse, then take Womes which you shall stampe and strayne thorow a linnen cloth, and rubbe the hote yron withall, and then quench it in the sayde iuyces.

To make any instrument of Steele harde and sharpe.

Take the Leaues and rotes of Buglosse sodden in water, wherin you shall quench youre instrument of yron.

Another.

Take Dracontium with his rotes, and as muche Vier-tume: seeth this in cleare water, and let it coole, and ware cleare, and so annoynt your instrument with it.
Also take mans pisse myte with cleare water, made luke warme: in this quench your instrument. Also you maye harden it in god Huster made with strong Vneger. Also when you will harden any thing you must see that it be cleane, neafe and Pouldished.

For to keepe it from cleaving vwhen it is a hardening.

Take Tallowe and melt it, then poure it in colde water vntill it ware thicke and swimmo in the water the thicknesse of a finger. Then take your instrument hote, and put it first thorow the Tallowe, and then into the water. Scme quench also shirtes of Maile in the iuyce of Rape rotes.

To make yron or Steele soft.

of Secretes.

If you will make Yron or Steele as softe as Copper, take vnsleckt Lynie with as muche Alome, well stamped first in some Morter: mixe well these two thinges together, and laye them vpon some linnen cloth the thicke nesse of a finger or halfe a finger, and w<sup>r</sup>appe youre instrument that you will haue made soft in it, and lay it so in some small fyre the space of an houre, vntill the fyre go out, and that your instrument be colde of it selfe, and then shall you finde it as soft as Copper.

Another.

LAye your yron or Steele in a small fyre, and when the fyre is out, let your yron coole of it selfe.

Another.

Take the water of Radish rootes and quench your yron or Steele in it. Also you may take the Ashes mire with vnsleckt Lyme, and make therof Lye, the which you shall let runne thorow the sayde substances: in this Lye stoepe your yron or Steele the space of a night, and so shal you make it mete to cutte or engrave in. Afterwarde if you wyll harden it agayne you may quenche it in colde Water.

Another.

Take the yellow floures lyke to Marygoldes, þ leaues be large and as broude as the nayle of a mans finger: take them staulks and all, and stampē them, & strayne them thorow a linnen cloth, and keepe the ioyce in a pot. Then put your yron or Steele in the fyre vntill it be redde hote, and then quenche it in the sayde Water, and it will be as soft as Copper.

Another.

Take some great Snayles, and other great grounde wormes of equall portion, and the thirde parte Salt.

Then take an earthen Potte, or some other Platter of earth full of holes, wherein you shall pouder or Salte your Snayles & wormes, and receyue the salt which shall

H.111. melt

The first Booke

melt and droppe from the into an other pot set vnderneath, and the thickest substance will remaine in the vessell full of holes, the which you may cast away. This done laye on a stome vpon the pot, and seeth it vntill it come oþ frothy no more: then take it from the fyre, and let it cole. In this water you way quench your yron oþ Steele being red hote, and by this meanes you shall make it as softe as copper, and for to harden it againe, you must make it redde hote, and quenche it in colde water.

An other.

Take the herbe called Sole softe, & distill it: then make your yron red hote, and quenche it in the same water. Also take shayles and stampe them with good Winegre, wherin you may quench your yron oþ Steele: oþ quench yron in the blode of an Eele, and it will be likewise softe. Also take yron oþ Steele, & wrappe it in potters claye with a weate cloth, & lay it in the fyre, and afterward let it cole of it selfe. Take also the iuyce of Marubium, and the iuyce of Milfoyle, with the iuyce of Radish rootes mixt with good wynne, and quenche your yron in the mixtion.

To make Christall soft so that you may breake it in pieces.

Take burned leade & Christall as much of the one as of the other, and breake it vpon a stome, then put thys mixture into a melting pot, and melt it, and so shall you make it into what forme oþ fasshion you will. The same may you breake and bruse as you wil.

An other.

Take quicke lyme and ashes of equal quantitie, and lye with it, passing and straining it thorowe the ashes and lyme nyne oþ tenne tymes. That done stoepe your Steele oþ Christall in the same lye, the space of xxxij. hours, & you shall finde it soft.

For to soften yron,

Take

Take the Water that is upon the blode of a man wher he is let blode, which you shall handsomely poure from the blode. Then lay your yron in fyre vntill it be hote, therewith a little fether wce in the said water, rub it so lōg with it vntyll the water vanishe awaye, and it will be softe.

An other.

Take scomed horne, the newe pisse of a hee Goate, A lome, Worace, Dyle olive and salte: mingle all well together, and quench your yron in the mirtion.

To softten a little that vvhich is to hardc,

That which is to hard, keepe it so longe in the fyre tylle it be very hote: Then take Tallowe, with the which you shall rubbe your matter, and let it so coole.

To molifie and soften yron or steele, in such sort that you may bovv and vvinde it vvhich vway you vvyll.

Take Camomille floures with one part of herbe Kober, and one part of Cleruine: put all this in a potte with hote water, and so stoppe it that no smoke maye come out: then sech it, and quenche your yron in it.

To soder all things, and first yron.

Take an vnce of salte Armoniacke, an vnce of commo salte, an vnce of Cartre calcined, an vnce of bell metall, thre vnces of Antimonium: stamp well al together and fist or boult it: this done put all in a linnett cloth, and wrappe it rounde about with potters claye well prepared the thyckenesse of a finger & let it war very drye: then put it betweene two pot shardes vpon a small fyre, & let it heate by litle & litle. Afterwarde make the fyre greater, vntill your whole spasse become redde and melt togerher: then let it so coole, and after make it in to a powder. And when you will soder any thing, laye the two pakes H.iiij. that

The first Booke

that you will soder vpon a Table, as nere the one as the other, as you can, but you must laye some Paper vnder the picces.

This done, cast of the sayde pouder betwene the toyntes, and a little vpon them: then make some crust of Potters, but yet so that it be open aboue: after this put some Horace in hote Wyne vntill it be all consumed, then with a little Feather rubbe the sayde pouder, and incontinent it will beginne to boyle and seeth: and when you see it boyle no more, it is a signe that the sodering and consolidation is made. And if there be any excrecence or rising vp, you must diminish it by rubbing it, for it will not be filed.

To soder any hote thing.

Take gumme water, chaulke made in pouder, & make thereof a dowe or pastre, wherewith you shall annoynt the thing that is a sonder, laying it vpon a table as is afoxe sayde: then take away the dowe or pastre that is vpon the toyning of the two picces, and leue it on bothe sydes: then annoynte the toynt with Spope, and holde a hote cole ouer it, and by and by the saide substance will melt. After this take away the saide dowe or pastre and it is done.

To soder copper.

Take halfe an vnce of copper, thre quarters of an vnce of white Arsenicke: melt the copper, and decynde your Arsenicke in two partes, and caste one part into the copper molten, mingle all together, then caste into it also the other part: and then powre it vpō a stonc, & beat it small.

To soder yron.

Fyle well to purpose and proportion the toyntes of the yrons, and then laye them in the fyre, as is afoxe said, casting vpon it some Venise glasse, & it will be sodered.

A pouder that vvill make all metall pliable and softe.

Take a quarterne of Antimonium, Axinagina vitri, and salte, of equall quantitie: Make all together in a pouder

of Secretes.

pouder: then take of the same pouder thre partes, and one part of the metall and melt it.

An other vpon Brasse.

Take salt stamped. Tarter, Salt peter, Axinigia vitri, ashes of Wines, or Lees of wyne, quicke Lyne: Stake al this in pouder, and laye it vpon the place that you will soder.

For to graue in Yron or Steele, knyues and harnesse.

Take one part of coales made of byzch, stāpe two parts of Utrioill, with as much salt armomack: Then stāpe all together with Ulinegre, vntil it be lyke unto a soft dowe or paste. Now when you will graue it in yron or other things, make first the description oꝝ figures that you will graue, and that with Vermilion myrtle with oyle of Lyne, and let it be dryed, and afterwarde couer it with the saide substance the thickenesse of a finger, the whiche the hōter it is layed vpon it, the sooner it will be done, but you must take heed you burne it not. And when it is well drye, take awaie the saide pouder, and wash well the grauing. Also some take two partes of Spanishe grēne, oꝝ one parte of cōmon salte, and in stamping it in some morter, they put to it some strong Uline gre, and then do it, as is aforesaid. Take also Utrioill, Alom, Salte, Winegre, coales of Byzche, and do as before.

To graue vwith vvater.

Take Spanishe grēne called Uerdet, quicke Suluer, Sublime, Utrioill, and Alome of eche equally, stāpe well all together, and put it in a glasse, leauing it so halfe a daye, stirring it oftentimes: Then make your description oꝝ figures as you will, with Ware oꝝ Artificiall Ocre and Oyle of Lyne myrtle together, oꝝ Vermilion mixt with Oyle of Lyne, then annoynte it with that waſter, and let it alone so the space of a daye: But if you wyll haue your description very deepe graued, leauie it so ſtamping

The first Booke

ding longer.

But if you will engrauē w̄ritings or Images, you shall make a ground of Ware, where unto you shal make your descripcion with the point of a bodken euen to the botome. Then poure the water vpon it whiche water will engrauē it. Or else you may lay vpon your description made as before is saide, some Marcurium sublimatum, and then cast some good Vneger vpon it, and lette it alone so halfe an houre.

Another stronger and More bytyng.

Take a quarter of an vnce of Spanish grēne, Alumen plumæ, salte Armoniacke, Tartre, common Salte, of eche a quarter of an vnce, all being well stampē & mixt with strōg Vneger, leaue it so the space of an houre. And if you wyll that your description bee highe or raysed vp, write it with artificiall Ccre and Oyle of Lyne, brayēd and mingled together: and let it drye well: Then heat the saide water in a panne leaded within, letting it alone vpon the fyre. Then take your Steele and holde it ouer the saide panne, vpon the which you shal poure of the said water with a spone & so þ water wil fal againe into the panne and there shalbe nothing lost. Do thus the space of a quarter of an houre, but let not the water be to hote, least that the Oyle which was mixt with the Vernish go not out. This done, rubbe ouer the saide substances with ashes or quicke Lyne, and then shall you synde that whiche before was annoynted, whole and highe, and the other engra-ued.

To make a colour of golde or siluer lay vpon to metall, and to make also a ground of golde or syluer vpon yron, Belles or Stones, vvhich shall not go of vwith vvater.

Take one part of Ccre, the seconde parte of Minium, the fourth part of Wole armenicke, and as much Aqua
vitæ

vitæ, and braye all together with Oyle of Lenesede, and put to it also the bignesse of a little Nut of Gallistenstein, and thre or four drops of Vernish. If the colour be to thicke, put a little more of the sayde Oyle to it: Then straine it thorow a fine linnen cloth into some cleane vessel, and it will be as thicke as honny: & then rubbe what you will with it, and set it drye, and then laye your golde or siluer vpon it.

A colour of golde to set vpon brasse or copper.

Take a lytle potte well leaded, and put into it thre vnces of oyle of Lenesede, then take half an vnce of Masticke, and half an vnce of Aloes hepaticum citrinum, and make it well into a powder, & put it into the said oyle, and couer it close with another pot wherin you shal make a little hole aboue, that is to say in the botome of the sayde potte y shalbe vppermost. Annoynt the saide pot well with potters earth, and let them be so close one vpon another, that nothing may come out: then put in aboue a sticke brode at the ende, with the whiche you may syzre it: and let all seeth as they doe Paynters vernishe. This done Powlish: well that which you will gyld, and laye the sayd colour vpon it, and drye it in the Sunne, and if there be not enough, put more on vntill it be well.

Another.

Take dry Vernishe, Amber, Aloine, of these two as much of the one as of the other: then take Vernishe, & oyle of Lenesede, seeth all together one a fize of coales in a potte well leaded, that it may be wel mixt together: then assay it vpon a Knife, and if it be to thicke, put more Oyle to it: but if it be to cleare or to thynne put more A-loine to it.

Another.

Take

The first Booke

Take halfe an vnce of Aloe hepaticum citrinum, halfe an vnce of Amber, these two being mad e in powder set the on a moderate fyre in a potte well leaded, but let it not be to hote at the syrfe. And when all is molten, pourre some boyling oyle vpon it, stirring and mixing it well togeiher with a little sticke: after this let it cole, and straine it thorow a linnen cloth.

Another.

Take halfe an vnce of Wole Armenick, halfe an vnce of whyte gumme, and set it vpon a syer of coales, putting to it an vnce of Oyle of Lyne seede, and whē you may draw it in length lyke a th̄ōde, it is made.

A colour of golde vpon brasē.

Take Oyle of Lyne seede well clarified en the fier: then put to it Amber, and Aloe hepaticum citrinum, of eche a lyke, and being well stampē, mingle it so well with oyle on the fyre, that it may be thickē then take it frō the fire and set it on the grounde well cou red the space of thīē daies: And the brasē that you shall gylte shall take the colour of golde.

To make coper of a syluer colour.

Take wine leſe, alome and salt: bray well algoyther vpon a ſtone: and put vnto it a leafe or two of syluer braying them, with the other foresaide things. Put all in a pot well leaded, put ring to it ſome water: then caſt your copper into it, and after rubbe it with a rubber: and ſo ſhall you ſee when it is ynough.

To gylte yron or Steele.

Take one part of wine leſe, halfe aſmuchē of ſalte ar-monickē, and aſmuch ſpaniſhe grēne, and a little ſalt: Dreth all in white wyne & anoynt your yron or ſteele, with it, when you haue well poſhied it: and ſo let it drye,
and then gilt it with golde grounde.

To make a vvater for to gylte vpon yron or Steele.

Take

of Secretes.

Take an vnce of the Ashes of Wyne leſe burned , an vnce of white Clynne, an vnce of Alom, halfe an vnce of salt Gemma, Alumen Plumæ the waight of two Groates, Spanish grēne the waight of two Groates, Coperas the waight of a Groate , Wapsalt, a pynt of Rue-ning : ſet þis vnto the halfe , and then put it in a newe
Pot, laying vpon it . viii. or . viij. new Paper Leaues, and a Clyle ouer that to the ende it may take no ayze.

To keepe all maner of yron, or Steele cleane, and alſo
all maner of instrumentes of vvarre.

Take Lead ſiled very ſmall, and put it in a Potte with Clyle Olyue , vntill it couer it , leauing it ſo nyne daves together : Then annoynit with the ſame Clyle, Harnelle, fvordes, yron or Steele, and it ſhall never rufe.
The greafe of neates ſete ſodden is alſo god for the ſame.

The ſeconde Booke contayning the maner how to take out quick-

Iy with water or Lye, without hurting any thing,
all maner of ſpottes of Garments of Cloth, Veluet, ſilke, or other, whether they be ſpottes of Clyle, greafe Wyne, or what ſoeuer they be.

To bring cloth that vvas stayned to his colour agayne.

Ake a pouerde of earthen Pots brued, and hauing poured vpon it about ſoure pyntes of Water let it reſt a night. Then poure out the Lye, and put into the ſame two Dre Calles , & a handfull of dry birchen Leaues, and let them ſeeth together halfe an houre long

The second Booke

long, or vntill the Leaues goe to the botome. Then let it cool, and such colour as you wil restore that was stayned, take the shearings or flockes of the cloth of the same colour, and saeth it againe with the sayde Lye, leauing it so to rest the space of .xiiiij. dayes or more: for the Lye wil draw vnto it selfe the colour of the shearing or flockes. Then poure it out, and wash the cloth with it, and it shall receyue his first colour againe.

To take spottes out of cloth.

Take colde Lye made of the Ashes of Waxe, and put to it a little wne Lees, and of the olde claye of some Duen, put the cloth into it where the spotte is, for it will take all the spottes out, than wash youre cloth with cleane water, and dry it in the Sunne. And if the spottes be not wel taken out, do it agayne as before.

Another vvay.

Take sixe vnces of Alumen Fecis, foure vndes of rawe Cartre, two vnces of Alom, halfe a Dragme of camphyre, halfe a Dragme of Dragons bloude: stampe them well, add mingle them well together. Then take sixe vnces of an Dre Galle, three pyntes of cleare water, put all together in a kettle, and saeth it vntill it be diminished of the two thirde partes, then straine it thorowe a linnen cloth, and thoughc the Galle no: the Camphyre were not in it, yet the water woulde be strong ynough: when you wil occupie it, bath the piece of new cloth in the sayde water, and rubbe well the spotte with al: and when the cloth is no more weate with rubbing, weate it againe, and rubbe the cloth with it vntill the spotte be out. This done, take hote water, and washe the place where the spot was: but if the cloth be whyte take a little Sope with the same water, and distill it, and occupie it as before.

Another vvay.

Take sixe Dre Galles, and twice as much rayne water, halfe a pounde of Cartre, an vnce of Alom, stampe them them small, and take a Glasse full of Wineger, into the which you shal put sixe Dragmes of Trioll well brayed, poure all together, and seeth it vntill it be diminished of the two thirde partes, and then vse it as is afore sayde.

To take spottes out of vvherte cloth.

Take four vnces of Alumen Fecis, a pynte of water, seeth them vntill they be consumed to the fourer parte.

Then take whyte Sope and cut it small, an vnce of Alome: put all into the water, and let it stande the space of two dayes, and vse it for your whyte cloth as before.

To take spottes of grease or oyle out of vvherte cloth.

Take whay of Mylke sodden with floure, strepe youre clothe in it so farre as to the spotte, the space of a night: then washe it with sayre riuer Water, and hang it in the mosse heate of the Sunne: but if the cloth be of a noble colour, you maye not let it be to hote lest the Sunne hurt the colour: for the heate of the Sonne hurteth sayre coloures.

To take spottes of grease and oyle out of all sorte
of cloth vvherte or other.

Take the Water that Pease hath bene sodden in, and strepe youre cloth where the spotte is in it, and then washe it with cleane riuer Water, and hang it in the Sunne.

Another.

Take colde Lye, Lees of whyte Wyne made a little hote, and misre them well together. But you muste take heed they be not to hote and washe your cloth as before.

To take spottes of vwyne out of all maner of cloth.

Take Lye made wþh ashes of beech, whyte Wyne Lees as much of the one as the other, laye your cloth in it a night, and wash it afterwarde with colde wate and dry it in the Sunne.

To take all maner of spottes out of Silke.

The second Booke

Take the tuyce of great and rounde Musheroms of a sharpe task, weate the spottes in it the space of two houres, and then wash them with cleare water, and let them drye.

To take all spottes out of Crymisen Velvet.

Take the Ashes made of Vine twigges, and make therewith good Lye, whereof you shall take but a pynte, and put into it halfe an vnce of Alumen Fecis, and let it stande a little whyle, and then strayne it.

This done, take a dragine of Aloine, halfe a Dragine of Spanish Sope, and halfe a dragine of soft Sope, a quarter of a dragine of common salt, and a quarter of salt Arnionacke, halfe a quarter of the tuyce of Celandine, a quarter of the Gall of a Calfe. Put all together and strayne it thorow a linnen cloth. And when you will occupie of the sayde water, take flocks or shearings of Scarlate, and a little Brasill small, seeth al that a little in the sayde water, and then strayne it thorow a linnen cloth, and you shall haue a sayre water, which will take the spottes out of any lyke Crymisen colour. And what colour soever your cloth be that hath the spottes, the same coloure flockes, or shearings must you take. Notwithstanding if it be not redde, you muſt leauue out your Brasill.

A vvater to take all spottes out of cloth of golde and Velvet.

Take rafwe redde Arsnicke, Martem Crudum, as much of the one as of the other, and when they be wel Brayed, poure some sayre water vpon them, and putting the herbe Tinkfoyle to it, seeth it vnto halfe: and then let it coole, and set it in the Sunne two houres: then washe your cloth in it, and let it dry in the Sunne.

To make a Sope that taketh out all spottes.

Take a pounde of roche Aloine, beate it into pouder: the rootes of Iris of Florence made in pouder, halfe a pound of new layed Eggys, two pound and a halfe of of Spanish Sope, braye the said pouders with the Egges and Sope, and make thereof rounde bals. If one Egge be not enough, take as many as you shall thinke good. And when you wil take out any spot of grease, washe the place of the spot on both sydes of the cloth with fayre water, then rubbe it with the saide balles and cloth vpon cloth. This done, washe out the odure with cleane water, and wring the clothe to make the grease o; fylth come out the better. Then wash it still with cleane water, & it will be cleane.

To take spottes of blacke ynke or other things out of vullen or linnen clothe.

Take grēne Lemons o; grēne Dzenges with theyr pilles, the whiche the Italiens call Pomir de Adam,
o; whiche of the two you will: take but the liquide moysture which you shall take out by pressing it, wherewith you shall rubbe well the spots, and then let the drye.
This done, take luke warme water, and washe the sayde spots, and let them drye againe. And if you see that at the first time the spots be not wel enough taken out, do it once againe, and the cloth will returne to his colour againe.

To take spots out of Scarlate or Velvet of colours,
vwithout hurtyng any thyng at all the colour.

Take the tuyce of Saponaria, called of the Apoticularies Condisi, o; Lauaria, the whiche you shall lay vpon the spot leauing it so an houre long, if it be in sommer, and fourre houres if it be in Winter: Then take luke warme water and washe the spot with it, and if it scour not cleane, put more tuyce vpon it, o; else of the said mo sture of the Dzenges o; Lemons: but if it be Scarlate not dyed in graine, lay vpon halfe Sope, and halfe tuyce:
and then washe it with hote water, & the spot will go out.

To take spots of oyle of from parchment or vvherte Paper.

Take shēpes bones and burne them, and make them in to pouder: and rubbe the spotte on bothe sydes with
A. J. the

The thirde Booke

the same ponder, and lay it so betwéene two bōurdes in a preſſe the ſpace of a night, and the ſpot ſhall away.

The third Booke , for to die threed, yarnē, or linnen cloth, teaching how to make the dying colours, and alſo to dye bones,
and hornes, and to make them ſoft, bright
what forme & fashion a man wylle.

To dye threed, yarnē, or linnen cloth into a ſad brovvne.

Take a pound of baſtarde Haſſron, the which you ſhall put into a little bagge, and hang it in riuer water a day and a night. Then wash it ſo muſh, that it giue no more yellow colour : this done , make a rancke of Haſſron in a Porte not to thicke , then a rewe of Haſſron, and a rewe of aſhes, and couer it well, and let it ſtande ſeven or eyleght houres : then take eyghte pottes of water, ſoure pottes of Winegre, and putting the Haſſron with the aſhes in a long bagge and ſharpe pointed at the ende : ſtrayne. r̄b. oꝝ. xvi. tymes the ſaide water & Winegre thorough it hote. And this is the laſt dying oꝝ colour.

Then take againe as much water and Winegre, & ſtraine it thorough , and this ſhalbe the ſeconde dying. Do the lyke the thyrdे tyme, and it ſhalbe the thyrdē dying. This color you ſhall heate, and laye your threed or linnen cloth in it the ſpace of a nighte , then hang it vp without wringing or rubbinc it. Do in like maner with the ſeconde colour and with the thyrdē, but let it lye in it ſeven houres long.

To dye threed or linnen clothe blevve.

Take the berries of Ebulus, very ryche, and well diſed in the Sunne, laye the in Winegre. xiij. houres, then rubbe them

them with your hande , and strayne them thorow a linnen cloth, putting to them some Verdet bruised, and Alom alone. If the blewe be to cleare put more Verdet to it, and lay your thredes or linnen cloth in it.

A blevve colour to dye all thyngs.

Take an vnce of y heating of copper, a dragine of salt, three spones full of Ginegre . Put all together in a laddell of copper : or some other streng vessell of copper : and when you wil dye, put the saide matter into the whols decoction of Brasill, & dye with it what you wyll.

Another vvay to dye blevve.

Take three partes of ashes of Læs burned , one part of vnseckt lyne, and make therof lye, let it clarifie and then straine it thorow a course linnen clothe. Take two pots of the same water, and pouer it vpon a pound of Flanders blwe, such as is taken of the diers caudrons, mangle them well together with a sticke . Then sette it on the fyre vntil you scante endure your hande in it. But before you doe dye any thing, you must haue your linnen cloth boyled in Alome and dryed againe, and plunged afterwarde in the hote lye twyce or thrice , according as you wyll haue the colour darke or cleare. The substance must be hote before you occupye it.

To dye redde.

Take halfe an vnce of Brasill scraped , halfe an vnce of Vermillion well brayd . Wbyle them together in raine water , and put into it the bignesse of a fput of Alome. Soeth all vnto the halfe, and dye with it. You may soeth also the Brasille twyce or thrice putting to it at ech time a lytle Vermillion. Also you may make of it as many dyngs & colours as you will.

Another vvay.

Take vnseckt lyne, and put a little water vpon it, and let it stand a night, and afterward straine the clearest

The thirde Booke

thorow a linnen cloth , and for every pinte of water put in halfe an vnce of scraped Brassell . Let it seeth vnto the halfe , and put to it halfe an vnce of Alome , sette it vpon woode, and let it heate but not seeth . Wher you wil haue that you wyl dye readie prepared in such sorte as here folowneth . Take Lees of redde wine and put it in a bagge , that all the wine dreane out , & the Lees ware dye . Make therof balles as bigge as a hennes Egge dryping them in the Sunne , and burning them after into ashes and of this ashes make a strong Lye , & make it very hote , and the weare in it the thing that you will dye , dryping it afterwarde , and the dye it with the forsayde colour .

To dye redde.

Take for every pounde of clothe a quarterne of Alom , and seeth it , and put the clothe in it two houres long .
Then take the roset of Brasyl with gomme Arabick , and let them seeth a quatter of an houre . Then straine it , and put into it your thred , clothe or any thing that you wyl .

To make faire Ruslet .

Take a pottle of water , an vnce of Brassyll : seeth them vnto the halfe , then take them from the fyre , & putte as muche graine to them as you shall thynde good , & halfe a quarter of gumme . If you will haue but a sleyght redd , poure it into an other pot , or put to it a quarterne of Alome in powder , and let it so stande a night .

To dye Woodde , Bones , and Horne , into greene .

Take two partes of Spanishe greene , a chyarde part of salt Armonacke , bray them well together , and put them in Winegre . And put into it the thing that you will dye , covering it well , and so let it stande vntill it be greene inoughe . But before you dye any thing you muste lay it halfe a day in Alome water , and then dye it well aga ine .

Another Greene .

Put

Put your horne, or woodde, or that you wil die, in a vernished pot, & put to it strong Vinegre, mingling wþ
it some Wlerdegrease that is very thick and not cleare.
Cover it wel, and set it seuen daies together in a dunghil, and if then it be not græne enough. let it stande therre longer. A mā may do the like with Spanish græne or Wlerdet.

To die horne, bone, and vvodde, into redde.

Take quicke lyme, and cast some raine water vpon it, and let it so stande a night: the next morning, strayne
the clearest thozowe a lynnen cloth, putting to it soz every pot of water, half an vnce of the scrapings of Wrasyll, and let them seeth well in it: but yet they muste bee boyled in Alome firsste as before is sayde.

To die yellowve.

Take the barke of an Apple tree, not the outward harde and rough barke, but the inward, cut it in small loppins, and poure some water vpon them, and the put in your woodde, bone o; horne, to it with Alome. And let it seeth well together.

To dye blacke.

Take Calles broken o; brused in peeces, and seeth them in strong Vinegre: and put your Wlode, bone, o; horne in it. And let all seeth well together. Take them then out, and put them in whites of Egges, putting to it inyce of Walnuts, and let them seeth well together.

To make horne soft.

Take mannes pysse, that hath bene kept stopt, a mo-neth together, put into it a pounde of vnseckt lyme, and half so much of ashes of burned wine Lees, foure
vnces of Tartre, and as much salt.

Mingle al well together, and let it seeth well, and then straine it twice o; thrice thozowe a cloth. This done keepe the saide Lte wel couered: And when you will soften any horne, let it lye eyght dayes in it, and the horne wil be soft that you may cut it, and dresse it after what sort you will.

The thirde Booke

Do else make a Lye of the ashes of the heades and stalkes of Poppye, and in the same Lye seeth your hornes and other thyngs.

To mollifye or soften horne, so that you shall imprynte or make any fygures in it.

Take a pound of the ashes wherwith Glasses be made, a pounde of quicke Lyne, and a pot of water, let the seeth so long bntyll the thynges partes be consumed. Then put a feather into it, and plucke it out agayne, and pille it betwene your fingers: so if the feather do pille, it is a signe that it is sodden enough. But if it pille not, let it seeth moare: and when it is sodden enough, let it clarifie and poure it out. Take then the fylinges of horne, laye them therin two daies together: Then annoiint your handes with oyle, and woake the horne well betwene your handes as it were dowe or passte, and then presse hym into what forme or fashion you will.

Another vwaye.

Take the tuye of whyte Marrubium, and of Alexanders, and of Pilsoyle, the tuye of Radishe rotes, the tuye of Celandine, and Strong Winegre. Mire all together, and put your horne into it well couered seauen dayes together in a donghyll. And then kneede it & woake it as you did before.

To cast hornes in a moulde lyke leade.

Take ashes of wyne Lyes burned, and bnsleckt lyne, and make therof a strong Lye, and put into it the fylings or scrapings of horne, and let them seeth well together, and they will be as it were pappe, and put into it suche colour as you will haue it of, and then casse it into what moulde you will.

To make cleare stones of Amber.

Seth Turpentine, in a panne leaded, with a lytle Cotton, stirring it bntil it be as thick as passte, & then poure it into what you will, & set it in the Sunne eyght daies,
and

and it will be cleare and harde enough.

You may make of this little balles, hastes for knyues, and many other thyngs.

Another.

Take the yelkes of sixtene egges, and beate them well with a spone: then take two vnces of gumme Arabick, an vnce of the gumme of Cherry trees: make these gummies into powder, & wel mire them with the yelkes of the egges, let the gummies wel melt, & poure them into a pot well leaded. This done set them syre dayes in the Sunne, and they wil become harde, and shyne lyke glasse, and when you rubbe them, they wil take vp a strawe vnto them, as other Amber stones do.

To poolishe and to give a glosse or lustre unto precious stones.

Take pender of Antimonium, and disperse it abisseade upon a Table of leade that is very even and smothe. Polish vpon this Table your stone, and it shal kepe and maintaine hym in his lustre and glosse.

To make a stone that shall gyue fyre and burne of it selfe if you vveate it vwith your fynger.

Take the Loade stome that hathe vertue to dralwe yron to him on the one syde, and to put it away on the other syde. Put it in a pot leaded, and put to it foure pounde of Pytche, and a pounde of Wimstone, lute and clape wel your Potte, and set it in a Fornace, gowing it a small fire, the space of a daye and a nigh, augmenting the fyre the seconde daye and the thirde daye more, vntill the stome be on fyre.

After you haue made the stome on fyre, and haue in this manner burned it, as is besoyle sayde, you shall let it cole iiiij. againe,

The thirde Booke

againe, and your stome is p;repared and made to giue syze when you wyl.

To mollifie or softene Christall and precious stones so that you may cut them like cheese, and that being put in a moulde they shal be harde againe.

Take in August the bloude of a Cowe, and the bloude of a hee Coate, and let it drye vntyll it be very harde:
And when you wil mollifie & soften Christal or precious stones, take of the saide bloudes as muche of the one as of the other, and make it into powder: and then poure some Lic made with the ashes of burned Læs of Wine, & let them be intermingled together in a pot, putting to them a dishe full of strong Vinegre. And when you will soften your stome casse it in the same, and heate it a little, and the stome wil be soft, so that you may cut & fashiō of what soft you wil: casse him afterward in cold water, and he will be as harde within an houre as euer he was:
And then giue him his glasse and lustre as befores is sayde of the other.

To countefyte pearles vvhich shal be very fayre, and as they vvere naturall and true.

Take in Sommer the shelles of whyte Mussels, and scrape them cleane with a knyfe: take likewise one parte of Snayle shelles, of the cleanest you can finde:
and when you haue washed them well, stampe them together in a morter of stone, as sync as you can, and washe them cleane in the Sunne vpon a linnen clothe, and then put them into a newe cleane pot, the whiche pot you shall lute and claye rounde about with Lutum sapientia,
And bcyng dryed in the Sunne, put it into a Fornace, o/Kille of Lyme, and let it burne there as long as men are wont to let Lyme burne.

Then take it out, and you shall fynde it turned into pou-der

der as white as Snowe. This done, take the yelkes of Egges made cleane and broken as under with a Spone : Myngle þ powder with the yelke of þ Egges in some clean vessell : Then wash your handes cleane, and fashion your Pearles of what bignesse you wyl, pearcynge them wþ a Hogges brystell whyle they be hote. This done, sette them in some cleane shying in the Sunne, and the hotter þ better, yet take heed there come no rayne to them : & then polishe them in red Wyne, and let them drye againe, and you shall haue fayre Pearles.

The fourth Booke, teaching diuers Wayes of giltynge, syluerynge, and dying Copper, Iron, and other Metalles: Likewise to forme, melt, and to make certayne coloures.

To prepare Mercury, and so to harden it that you may make it liquid, and vvorke it.

 He Emperour Fredericke made many Images of this substance folowing, which seemed to be Siluer, as at Vienna & Ptestant in Austriche, and this inuention was founde out by maister Willam & maister Partyne his Alchemistes. To do this you must melt Saturne, that is to say, leade, and poure it in a rounde melting pot while it is hote. Presse into it little rounde stones, that you may haue little rounde holes in it, vpon the which holes you shall laye a lynnyn clothe, and poure some Mercury vpon it as much as you wil, setting it so in hote embers vntyll the Mercury be harde. And when it is harde enough, breake it in little piecess, and cast them into strong Winegre, & seeth them in it a quarter of an

The fourth Booke

of an houre. ¶ else take the ioyce of þerbe called Longbesse, with a little Wineger, and Oyle, and saeth in it some pieces of your Mercurie broken as before, and by this meanes it shall be mortified verye well, otherwise it woulde reuiue agayne. This done, take two vnces of salte Armoniacke, halfe a pot of Wineger, and poure it with your Mercury sodden in a Pot leaded, and loking and stopping it very well, let it stande viij. oþ. x. dayes: soþ
by this meanes the Wineger taketh awaþ all the rednesse of the Mercury. This done, put your Mercury in a Pot wel luted and set it in a Fornace vntill it be well burned, augmenting by little and little the fyre, that it may kepe the fyre long in a lyke and temperate heat, vntill it make certaine choppes oþ cliftes, and then it is a signe that it is ynough. Then put the Mercury in a Pot, in the bottome whereof there muste be some Bzimstone: stoppe well the Pot, and set it in hote embers oþ ashes, oþ vpon a syre of coales, that it maye heate by little and little, and that the Mercury maye receyue the smoke of the Bzimstone. Do so once a daye. iiii. dayes together, and then take out the Mercury, soþ it is hard ynough to beate and caste. Take of this Mercury fwe vnces, and ten vnces of Venus, that is to say Copper, melte them together, and it shall seeme at all trialles, that it is true Siluer.

A substance made of Paper or other things, to expresse or set out any maner of figure that you vvill, vpon vvhylte yron. &c.

Lay your Paper oþ Parchmet ouerthwarste the white yron, then weate it on the outside, and let it dry a gayne, then take it of, and you shall see the print of it vpon the wylte yron.

To gilt vvcil.

Seth youre Siluer in Tarterre, make it verye cleane scrubbing it with Brushes, and put it into the Tarterre agayne

againe : then take two partes , one part of salte Armoniacke, ons part of Verdet or Spanish grene, two partes of the beatyng of Copper : stampe all this small and sitte it, and put it into the Tartre with the Syluer , it will get a redder colour, vpon the which you shall gylte.

Hovve to bray golde for to guylte vwith.

Take a dragine of fyne golde , beate it well, and put to to it two dragmes of Mercury mirt together : then set a melting pot on the fyre, & when it is glowing hote, put the golde with the syluer into it, & when the Mercury shalbe in part vanished away in vapour, poure it into a dishe, wherein there is a lyle water, and washe it out, and it shalbe grounde and brayed.

To gylt Copper.

Make a bottome or ground of quicksilver vpon the copper , the givie it one gilde ouer with ground or brated golde, then set it on the coales , and when it smo-keth take it awaie , and parte & disperse it with the bryshes of Copper wyer , and then set it againe on the fyre vntyll it be liquide and softe, or melte, or drye, and when it hath beene so long vpon the fyre that it hath gotten a redder colour, take it of and make it cleane with your brysh of copper wyer, and then burnishe it, and it is done.

To gylte yron.

You must boyle your yron in Vnegrē, Salte, and Witrioll, and if the yron be great, annoynct the yron about with it, being hote , vntill it make it ryse, then laye on your grynded golde, as before.

To take of the golde from the syluer that is gylte, so that the siluer shal remaine vvhole and sound.

Put about your gilded siluer some Brimstone, the take naturall Mercury in a Goldsmithes melting pot , or other vessell according as it oughte to be , and heate it, and put youre gylte Syluer into it , the Mercury wyll drawe the ground vnto hym, then rubbe your siluer with a bryshe

The fourth Booke

brushe ouer the the Mercurye wherein the golde is , then heate your syluer , and boyle it agayne in the water of Cartre, and it will be cleane.

Whan you wyll take your Golde out of the Mercury, put it in a lytle bagge of leather, bindyng it and stopping it aboue, as men do Mercury , without ouer a basyn, & that which remayneth in the leather, put it againe in the melting pot vpon the fyre, and let the Mercurye vanishe in a vapour, & go away in the smoke. Then take that whiche remaineth, and poure it in a melting pot, & you shall finde your golde.

To seperat Syluer from Copper, be it
mony or otherwysse,

Take halfe an vnce of Verdet or Spanish greene, an vnce of whyte Ultricoll, as muche of Burnstone , half an vnce of Alome : seeth all these things with a glasse full, or as much as you will of strong Winegre, and putte your syluer into it. Your siluer wyll remaine whole in the glasse, wherein you sodde it , and the Copper consumeth in the moyss humoure.

A pouder vvhich being layed vpon any thyng syluered vwyll take of the syluer from it.

Take a pounde of Wyne leese, a pounde of Arsnicke, a pounde of common Salt, a pounde of quycke Lyme, Mire these together, with the yelke of Egges, & putte the in a pot, whiche you shal set in a Fornace to sublyme, and when it shall smoke somewhat yellowe, it is ynough.

To conuert and turne copper into brasie.

Take Copper what quantitie you wyll, and the thyde parte as muche of Lapis calaminaris , made in pouder, and put them together in a melting pot, let them melt together the space of an houre vpon the fyre, & then poure them out.

To melte all Metall perfectly.

Whan

When the metall is molten: you shall put the fourth part of Auxungia vitri, besyde it, and it wylle melte perfectly.

For to give a colour of Golde vpon Copper.

Take half an vnce of copper, a dragine of Tutia Alexandrina, two parts of Dates, two parts of Figgis, Grapes of a wylde Winc blacke , of the bygnesse of thre Hasell Pastes , Huske the bygnesse of a Hasell Paste.
Stampe all the saide thinges together, and make it lyke Passe , and beate your Copper very thinne, and then cut it in pieces.

This done, make one row of the saide mixtion, and a little Turia vpon it, and then pour Copper vpon that, then some of the saide mixtion, then againe of Tutia, and then of Copper, alwayes bedde vpon bedde : Thys done, late ox claye vp the Croset ox meltynge pot that they are in , & set it on the fyre , lettyng all the saide things melte, and then poure them out and it wylle be lyke Golde.

Some take also Tartre, Beane flower, Tutia, as much of the one as of the other, streepe them well in Winegre , and then drye the , & lay them bed vpon bed , for every vnce of copper an vnce of the said pouder, and it will take colour as is aforesaid.

To make Verdet or Spanish Greene.

Take Wzasse or filed Copper, sprinckle it with old pisse and salte Armoniache : laye the Copper vpo a boord in the Sunne, and when it is drye, sprinckle it again vntyll it ware græne. Thus is Verdet made . Take Copper beaten lyke a plate , make it cleane , and braye some Atramentum, vpon a stone wyth pisse , and annoynt the Copper plate on every syde, and let it dry in the Sunne:
then put it in a pot leaded and set it on the coales, and let it heate the space of two houres , and sometyme open the pot aboue, and when you see blacke smoke come oug of it,
take

The fourth Booke

take the pot from the fyre, and let it coole, and open the pot for to take out the Copper plate, rubbing it into powder betwene your handes, & that which wil not yet turne to powder: do it againe in al things as you did before, vntill it maye be made into powder: then wash it with hote water or pisse in a Wasyn, and let it stande byll, so the Copper wyl goe to the bottome, and the Atramentum, will swimme aboue: then poure it out and drye the copper in the Sunne. This done, take of the saide powder a pounde, of Tarter calcined two vnces, beate them toghether with childes pisse, and let them drye.

Then put them in your potte, and burne them as before with a great fyre vntyll you see a græne smoke come out of it: and then let it coole againe, and open your pot and you shall synde it faire and græne.

To make a vvhite colour of leade.

Take leade as much as you wil, scrape it cleane on both sydes and cut it into plates thre syngers brode, and a handfull long or more, making a hole at the ende of eche of them, hang them on a cord, and take a paile of Whe or a pot of thre handfulls long that hath a cleane couer: Then hang your plates of leade rounde aboue the pot within side, & poure into it two pots of god Vinegre, and a handfull of salte, styrring them together vpon the fyre vntill they be ready to seeth, then couer the pot well that nothing breath oute, and set it in a warme place, leauing it there x. daies together, then open it, & take out the Plates of lead and you shal synde at ech syde of the plates a whyte colour of a finger thick, take it of with a knif, and put it in a cleane glasse. This done, hang youre plates of leade again in the pot, as before, couering them well as is said, and seteing it in a warme place, & at the x. day take of the white colour with a knif as before, and hang them again in the potte vntill you haue gotten white colour enough. Then braye all well together in a mozter, putting to it a little water the space of halfe an houre, vntyll it be thicke like gruell. Then put the saide powder in a pot or twain, and let it in the Sunne, and let it drye and harden, & then shall you haue your whyte colour of leade. But you must note that you musse always hang the Plates of leade in the pot againe at every time as long as they wyll continue, and if the Vncre diminishe, you musse renew it as gaine.

To make Lutum sapientiae.

Lutum sapientiae , ie a mozter or claye soz to lute or plastrer the Limbecks or pots that are set on the fyre, because they shall not breake or cleave. To make this Lutum sapientiae : Take the best Potters earth you can fynde, put in a dishe or platter of earth, or in some other vessell, and poure vpon it Wyne myrtle with horse dung, castyng away the longest haires of the dung, mingle it syner all together vntill it be as thicke as paste, where with you may paste any thing : notwithstanding put in it always god Salte soz keeping it from cleauyng.

To lute or davvbe pottes vwith a lynnen cloth that vwill
not burne;

Put your linnen cloth in Salte water, and let it drye of it selfe, then weate it in yelkes of Egges well beaten, and when you wyll lute or plastrer any potte with it, gene it one touche vpon it very thinne with the foresaid Lutum sapientiae.

For to soder Glasses,

Take Minium , and halfe as much of quiscke Lyme, & the Meale or flower that hangeth on the mille sides or walles , and the yelke of an Egge, in all this let a Lynnen clothe be weate and holden before the fyre that it may bee claminge, mette to cleave or stycke fast, 3.ij. and

The fourth Booke

and so lay it faire and softly vpon the broken place of the glasse.

Another Lutum sapientiae.

Take Potters earth very cleane two partes, bothe doge one part, a lytle pouder of a Bricke, and the sylyng of yzon, and a playster of quicke lyme: and mingle it with salte water, and the yelke of Egges: and make ther of a pasche for to lute or clay pots withall. Or else take dyre earth, and frampe it small, and fist it, and cast vpon it sōe wheate flower rancke vpon rancke, and then the yelkes of Egges and Vinegre, and mingle all together. Then play ster or lute glasses, pottes or limbeckes with it, and dyre them in the shadowe, and they will never falle nor breake in the fyre. You may also mingle it with Ore bloude in steede of water, it is also god for that purpose.

The fift Booke, touching all separa tions of golde, of siluer, of copper & other metals, and how a man may try them and to use them profitably. Whiche is a thing be ry gainefull for all goldesmithes, Marchantes and other that haue neede
of it.

To seperate golde from syluer.

Bate small the Syluer wherein you thinke there is any golde, then cut it in small pieces: then you shall putte Aqua fortis in a glasse of separation v pon a little fyre vntill it be hot, and cast vp little bubbles like belles. Then pourre the water out into a cuppe of Copper & let it coole, & by this meanes the syluer wil stick about the cuppe, the which you must let dyre in the cuppe:
and

and when you haue poured the water out melt the siluer in a hollow sharde, and then take also the Golde out of the glasse of separation, and melt it in one.

Another vvay.

Take Siluer that is gilt, lute it vpon a pot sharde or a Tile with lead, then turne it as thinn as fine as you can vpon some thing, then cut it in crooked and wretched pieces, and put it into þ glasse of separation, poure in vpon it Aqua fortis a finger highe aboue it, stop the whole aboue that it breath not out, then hold it vpon a slowe fyre vntil the Siluer be dissoluued into the water, the Golde remagneth in the bottom which is black: then cast out this water into a Cup of Copper as before, and poure vpon it some cleane water, and the Siluer will begin to gather into a curde, and will goe to the bottome. Then poure out the water agayne, and drye the Siluer with a sodaine heat. This done, put it in a croset or earthen Pot, and melt it and being molten poure it out, and doe the lyke with the Golde, and whē you put it into the melting Pot, put to it a little Borax.

Another vvay.

Take Antimonium, & put it in a melting Pot, that is with a sharpe pointed bottome, and melte it. Take also the Siluer that the Golde is in, and melt it and poure it into the Antimonium, the Golde will goe to the bottome, and the Siluer will tarie in the Antimonium. Then take halfe an vnce of Copper, and two vnces of Leade, and the Antimonium, let them melt together, and poure them into an earthen Pot, the Antimonium will burne the Copper, and the Siluer will abide vpon the Pot.

For to separate Golde or Siluer vwithout fyre or Aquafortis.

Take two partes of salte Armonfacke, and one parte of Himstone, beate them into powder, then annoynte
R.J. your

The fifte Booke

pour bessell, dish, o: anye other thing that is gilded, first with Oyle Elyue, and then dispearse the sayde pouder vpon it, and when it is so fast vpon it, set it to the fyre, and beate it ouer a bessell of Water, and the Golde will fall out of it.

To separate Golde from Siluer vwith a pouder.

Take an. viij. part of Brimstone, a. xvi. parte of Salte,
ij. vnces of salte Armoniacke. ii. vnces of Minium,
and doe as afore is sayde.

To make Golde softer.

Take Mercury sublimed, salt Armoniacke of ech a like, make them into a pouder, then put your Golde into a melting Pot, and when it is molten, put to it a little of this pouder and it will be softer.

Another way.

Take half an vnce of Ultrioll, halfe an vnce of Merdet, halfe an vnce of salte Armoniacke, halfe an vnce of burned Brasse: all being mingled with Aqua fortis, let it so repose in the heate two dayes, and then let it harden: do this thre tynnes wthy Aqua fortis, and let it dry:
make it in pouder, and put alwayes vpon it halfe an vnce of Golde, a Dragme of Powder, and poure it thre tynnes into it, and it will be softer.

To make Golde and Siluer softer.

Take Honny and Oyle of ech a lyke, and quench your Golde and Siluer, being hote and glowing, thre or four tynnes in it, and it will be softer.

To soften all mettalles, and other things that are not softe, so that they shal be so te and gentle to be vverrought vpon or forged.

Take Masticke, Frankencensc, Myrrhe, Borar, Mernir, of ech halfe an vnce, make all into a pouder together, and cast the bignesse of two or thre peasan of it vpon the harde things, and they will be softe and tender. Take what metall you will, heate it vpon coales,
and

and quench it in the water of salte Armoniack and it will be softe.

An oyle that maketh all mettalles softe.

If your Silver be not soft, melte it, and poure into it this Oyle that followeth. Take Saltpeter, Tartre, Salt, Verdet, boyle all together, vntill the water be consumed, poure vpon it piss, and let it so consume, and you shall haue an Oyle of it, the which you shall put into your siluer whyle it melte, and you shal make it soft.

To seperate Golde from Copper.

Make a Fornace with a hole, that you maye put in a Pegge or two, the which you maye take out whent you will, and vnderneath in the bottome of þ Forn a gratter or hole, that the king which is the Golde may remayne in it. Take twice or as muche Leade as Copper, and put it vpō the hole or gutter of the Fornace, pouring it alwayes vntill there be no moze Leade. Then take an gyon m̄ere for the purpose to take awaye the skinne of it, that it may be cleare and neat, for then shall the Copper be well p̄pared. This done, take a quarterc of common salt, of br̄instone a quarter, of Saltpeter a quarter, of Dr̄piment a quarter: Stampe these fourre well in a morter, and poure the sayde pouder vpon the Copper, when it beginneth to runne and melte, the Golde will goe to the bottome, plucke the Pegge out, & the king will remaine in the hole or gutter, take it out afterwarde with Leade or Antimonium, and you shall finde the Golde.

Another way.

Take Antimonium, and melt it with your Copper and being molten you muste skimme it well, then poure it into a dishe of ston, adding to it quickly as much quickesluer, couer it with another dishe, and shake it well together, the pouder draweth the Golde vnto it, and when it is colde agayne, open it, take the Mercury out, and put it in another dishe, the which you shall set vpon the fyre
R.ij. that

The fifte Booke

that the Mercury may goe away in a smoke, and you shall finde your Golde in the bottome.

A pouder to seperate Golde.

Take Salte Armoniacke, Verdet , of eche one paste, Saltpeper two partes, Antimonium as muche as al the rest together, make them into pouder , and do as before, and the Golde will go from the Copper.

To vvash Golde from Copper.

Take the Copper that is gilte, and weate it in water, and then put it in the fyre , and lette it be hote and then quenche it in colde water , and the Golde will come of : rubbe it of with a Brushe of Copper Wyer, and it will goe of.

To get together the golde out of the threedes of cloth of Golde.

Burne the golden threedes into pouder, and braye the sayde pouder small vpon a Marble stonye, and put it in a Basen , then poure vpon this pouder some water of Tartre and quicksiluer , and do as before , and you shall haue fine Golde.

To gylde, so that it shall not out vwith no vvater that is,

Take two partes of Ocre , two partes of a Pommise stonye burned vntill it be whyte , Tartre the bignesse of a god Walnut , braye the sayde colours together with Oyle of Linsede , and ffeue droppes of Vernire, straine them thorow a linnen cloth, and you shall haue the substance to gilde withall.

To gather together into one, the golde that is scraped off from letters and Images.

Take the scrapings and put them in a glasseful of water , vntill the chaulke wherē vpon the Golde was layed, be thorow softe, wash it afterwarde betwene both your hands : and seperate the best you can the chalk from the Golde : take the rest, & grinde it vpon agrinding stone

of Secretes.

Irone.

This done, put it agayne into a Glasse : then put some well brayed and small, in a Cuppe of Copper, and poure the water vpon it : let it seeth well : and then poure the same water agayne into the Glasse vpon the substance scraped, putting into the water some quicksiluer, and shaking it, and mowing it together a god space. The quicksiluer dralweth to it selfe al the Golde : then poure out al the water, and put the quicksiluer in a piece of wynde Coates skinne, the whiche you shall binde well aboue : then make a hole with a needle, whereby you shall swinge and make the quicksiluer to come out, and that whiche shall remayne with in, shall be fine Golde : and if the Golde be not very fayre, do vnto it as vnto the Golde before.

To take gilt from a Cuppe that is gilded vwithin.

Take Pyrethrum, and seeth it in strong Wineger, so þere may come no smoke nor breath go out of it, then poure it into a Cup gilt vwithin, and the Golde will go of, and go to the bottome. For the profe thereof. Cast a Siluer King gilt into it, and you shall finde the experience.

To make Golde softe after the melting.

Take as manye Wedges of Golde, as you haue molten, and put them one night into a Fornace of Morter in a Pot: let them be thorowte hote, but yet not so that they melte, and they will be afterwarde verye fayre and softe.

For to giue a colour to Golde that it shall be soft.

Take Salte Armoniacke fired with quicke Lyme, for it is very good, worketh verye handsonely and finely: but it is better to take of Viride xris, prepared and then melt the Golde, and so maye you colour your Golde. The Viride xris is thus prepared: delaye it in Wineger, & strayne it thorowte a Felte, and let it congele, and when it beginneth to ware thicke, put to it some salte Armoniacke,

The fifte Booke

macke, and let it harden a great whyle, or else poure it vpon a cleane marble stome, and then melte your Golde with it, and keepe it well: for it will serue you also for other things.

To boyle Golde or Siluer to make it receyue a fayre colour.

Take Cartre well brayed, and put to it some well water or raine water, and that which you shall boyle in it shall be fayre.

To give a colour to Golde.

Take the heares of a man to the bignesse of a synger, and laye them vpon quicke coales, & holde your golde ouer them with a paver of Tongues.

For to make Syluer fyne.

You shal put Siluer into a pot of earth, and to euery marke of Siluer put thre vnces of lead. Let it be molten together, vntill the flower of it ware read. That done, put it in another carthen pot, putting to it for euery marke of Syluer sixe vnces of Lead, and that powre it ouer straine it, and it will be fine.

To make Syluer fayre and whyt.

You shall put salt and Cartre made in pouder, in a pan of Copper: put some rayne water to it, & let it seeth well, for it wil become whyte: but before you seeth them you muste heate or enflame them, and beware there come no yron into the panne, for then the Syluer woulde become redde.

To knowve yf the Syluer haue any Golde in it or no.

Draw a grosse or great streeke with your Syluer vpon the torche stome, then take a Dragine of Vlerdet or Sparrishe greene wel made into pouder with salt Armoniacke, mire them well with god Winaigre, vntil they be all of one colour, weate the lyne or stryke made with your syluer with it, and yf the syluer haue any golde in it the lyne or streeke will remaine a whyle faire, and if there be none, the streeke will not remaine faire but wil go out incontingent.

Incontinent. If you wil haue a better prose and more sure in sted of Vinaigre put Aqua fortis : for that will incontinent put out the lye or streeke, if there be no Colde in it.

To mortifie or alay Mercury or quicke siluer.

Put it in a morter of yron, and put to it some oyle olive or oyle of bayes : this done, set it one a small fyre, and let it seeth therein, but take heede that the smoke of it hurte thare not, for it is vnwholesome, put often times soe oyle into it, and also strong Vinaigre distilled that it may boyle in it. And by this meanes it wil be mortified and killed. Then take it out, for it is harde and will endure the hammer.

To gylt Steele or Yron.

Take one part of Tartre, halfe as much of salt Armonicke, as much Verdet, and a little Salt : seeth them in whyte wyne and Vernishe with it a harnesse made guen, and let it drye. And then gylt it with golde brayed or grounde as Goldsmythes do.

To separat Golde or Syluer from metall or Yron.

Put some Mercury in a Goldsmythes melting pot, heating it vpon the fyre, putting to it and mirring with it some Vernishe glasse brased smal mirring all together.
Lay it vpon the siluer that is gylt, then laye it vpon the coales vntill it be whote, & rub it with a feather ouer some vessell : strayne the Mercury or quick siluer thorow a linnen cloth, the which you shall afterwarde bring agayne with Salt peter.

Syluer of Tyn to make vessell or other thinges.

Take cleare, fine, and brighte Lynne, put it wþ true and naturall Lynne in the fyre, that it maye purge and be made cleane from all duste, Ashes, and filth: and when it is cleane yngough and well slummed, set it agayne on the fyre. If there be a marke of it, take halfe an vnce of Mercury, or somewhat more, and when it beginneth to rysc in the first heate, take also þ powder of

The fifte Booke

Cantarides, and cast it into it, and a locke of Womans haire that it may burne in it. Having had fyre ynough, and all being melted together: poure into it the poudre aforesaide, sprinkling it first a little with water of Artemisia, and then take it sodaynely from the fyre, and let it cole a great whyle.

To vvherte any vessell of Copper, vwithin and vwith-out vwith Siluer colour very easely.

Take two partes of Mercury, thre partes of Tinne: Melte first the Tinne in a melting Pot, and then put the Mercury to it. Stirre it well together, and then poure it out, and let it cole, and stampe it wel in a Morter vntill all be brought into a poudre.

Then take Alome and stampe it also in a Morter, and it will be like a whyte poudre, the which you shall lay vpon a Marble stone, garnished on the sides, with Potters clay, in a moiste caue or Seller: setting vnder it a Glasse. The Alome will tourne into a water vpon the stone, and will runne into the Glasse. And when you will Siluer your vessell of Copper, take the sayde water of Alome, and annoynt your vessell with it, and let it dye. Do thus thre or fourt tymes, and leauie it open that the bottome maye be the better. Then take the poudre that you haue made, and rubbe it vpon it, and your vessell will be whyte and same as it were Siluer.

To make vessels of Copper vvherte lyke Siluer, both vwithin and vwithout.

Take one parte of Azure, two partes of Mercury, thre partes of whyte Arsniche, mire them together: then take grease and melt it in a Panne, taking the filth from it, making it very cleane. This done mire them together, and make therof as it were au oyntment: annoynt your vessell with it, within and without very well: that done, put it in a newe dishe of Oke, or else in newe and fresche Oken leaues, couering it well. Digge a hole and lay lay it in the earth , in a place where the Sunne shyneth most hottest, leauing it so the space of thre monethes, and then take it out, and make it cleane wth water & a brush, and you shall finde your exerience.

To make that Tinne cracke not.

Take strong common salt, and Honny, as much of the one as of the other, according to the quantitie of your Tinne, poure your Linne vntyme in it, the straine out your Tinne, for by this meanes it will purge & leue cracking . Put that in a Pot, the which you shall clay or lute about verye well, and set it in a fornace a day and a night, and you shall finde as it were a lyme of Golde.

The sixte Booke, touching the making of certayne Oyles and Waters and other substancies which are of a maruellous vertue and operation.

To take Salamanders for to occupy or to serue a mans tourne.

When you see the Salamanders lie and steepe in the Sunne, put on a payre of Glouces, and so go take them fayre and softly before they cast their Venime (which is yellow) then put it in some vessel of Glasse wherein there is mans blonde. Then it will serue your tourne very well.

To fine Golde wth Salamanders.

Take two pounde of filed Brasse or Copper , a Pot of Goates myke , nine Salamanders, put all this in a Pot , wyde and large beneath and narrowe aboue, couer it wth his couer fast and closse , but let the couer haue a hole in the toppe : digge the sayde Pot into the mynst of the earth so deepe that nothing appere but onely the

The sixte Booke

the couer where the hole is, so that the Salamanders may haue ayre and not die. Leauie it so vntil the seventh daye after none. Then take your pot out and you shall fynde that the Salamanders constrainyd by hunger shal haue eaten the Copper, and the great force of the poysone causeth the Copper to tourne into golde. This done, make a hole as deepe as two fingers into the which you shal put your pot with the Salamanders, the make about it a syze of coales, which maye burne aboue and bencath, yet lesse beneth than aboue: & the pot is set in the grounde because the copper shall not melte.

And when you thinke that the Salamanders be burned to ashes, take the pot from the syze, & let it coole well. This done, put the Copper and the pouder into some vessell to washe it, & powre water vpon it, making cleane the Copper with the sayd pouder: then hang it in the smoke, and let it drye well, and you shal haue good golde, and you shal let the Goldsmith fyne it, and make it cleane.

The mother of all vvaters, for to make all metalles liquifiable.

Take a pounde of Sal nitrum, a pound of Witrioll, stampe eche of them by it self, and then mingle them together in a morter, distille the sayd water, without adding any other water to it: Take an vnce of the sayde water, an vnce of wyne not distilled, put them together in a glasse, and they will bourne of them selues so that you may light a candell at them: it is also the mother of all colours.

Also take thre vnces of the sayd water thre vnces of mercury the fourth part of quicke Brimstone, put them al together to dissolve in a glasse. And when they be dissolved let the smoke come out, & you shal find the Mercury fixed verp redde. And so may you fire all the Spiritus.

If you will make this water al together strong, adde to the

to the seuen partes of all these thinges aforesayd Wistrioll and Saltspeter, a pounde of eche, and distill them, putting the water into a glasse againe, and it will be so strong that it will b<sup>r</sup>eake both yron and things made with forge.

To prepare common salte,

Take whyte Salt, and powre vpon it some stale Pisse wherein hath bene (a whole day) steeped some quicke Lyme : mixe them well together sixe times a daye, & let it repose the nighte, straine the pisse thorow a felte, and put all y<sup>t</sup>is within into a panne leaded within, mingling it well together vntil it become water. Then seeth it vpon coales vntill it be harde, and make it into a pouder, and put it in a Dre bladder binding it well aboue, and then hang it in a Caudron full of whote water, leauing it there vntill the salt be tourned into water. Do this, ten times laſt & at time let it burne so that it be a fyre & redd<sup>e</sup> then let it coole, and thus is conimon salt prepared.

To prepare salte Armoniacke.

Take ten pounde of p̄pared salt, and powre vpon it some warme pisse of a man that is in health, and hath not not dyonke but wyne, and let the salt dis-solue in the sayd pisse, and go to the bottome, then straine it thorow a felte into a caudron, put to it some loue of a bakers oncn, boylng it together : When this salte is drye:
powre vpon it some mans pisse, and do this so long vntill
the ten pots of vrine be consumed in þ ten pounde of salt.

You muste take heed, that the caudron ronne not ouer when the Tryne boyleth. If paradynture it ryse so that there is great daunger of running ouer: You shall poure some cleare water vpon it, and mixe all together vntill all tourne into water, let it stande, and casse the cleare oute, and seeth it so long vntill it be drye, the which being drye you shall take and putte in a newe dyshe, and drye

The sixte Booke

Drye it in the Sunne: And then sublyme it in this wise.
Take the sayde two pounde, and two pound of fyled yron, and mingle them well together , and put them into a vessell , that is called Rotunda , luting it well with Lutum sapientiae : Then set it vpon a Treucette in a Fornace of sublimation , making a good fyre vnder it one daye, during vntill the vessell be thorowe redde hote vnder-neath.

Then let it coole agayne in the nyght vntill the morning and then open it, and you shal finde vpon the vessell white Salt, the which you shall take away, and putting to it as much common Salte prepared , you shall bray them both well together the space of halfe a long Sommer daye, making a small and slowe fyre vnder it , let it coole agayne, and bray it agayne, and sublime as before . This doe you threē tymes, and then keepe it soz it is good.

To make Sal Alkali.

Take the Ashes of Lees of Wylne burned, quicke Lime, of eche equall quantitie, and put them into threē stille-tozie Glasses one ouer another, to the intent that that which falleth from the one may distil into the other : then pour the water of the lower most into the uppermost , having a Pot leaded vnderneath. Put often tymes the same lye thorowe it vntill the Ashes be no more bitter . Let the same lye stande a night , and seeth it in the morning in a Pot leaded vntill the water consume awaie and become harde. Then let it coole, you shall finde a stone in it called Alkali, the which you shall beate in powder, and fill a new Pot with it halfe full , and couer it not, and put it in a Fornace of calcination , making at the first a little fyre vntill it seeth : then a great fyre vntill it beginne to inclite lyke Leade, then pour it quickly into another Pot , and let it coole, and it will be Sal Alkali, whiche you must keepe in a Glasse.

To make Sal boras.

Take

Take Carter calcined in suche sorte as we wll declare afterwarde, the same being made in powder, put some hote water vpon it vntill it dissolve, stirring it well with a sticke, then strayne it thorowe a linnen cloth, and doe as before, so long vntill the water be thicke and troubled, then strayne it thorowe a bagge vntill it ware clere, and hath taken the bitternes out of the Læse or Cartre: which thing you shall know when the Læse pricketh no more vpon your tongue. Ther take Sal communie præparatum and putting to it water of Cartre, poure them together into a Pan of yron, or frying pan, seething them vntill they be thicke, and then put them in a newe Pot vntill they be harde. You shal tourne often tymes the Pot, and when the sayde Pot woulde cleave or burne to let it coole, and open it, and yoni shall haue Salboras Philosophorum, as good as the true Boras.

Water of Mercury.

Take a quarteine of sublimed and fixed Mercury and as much of the stone Galitsenstein: braye them togerher vpon a Marble stone: then having put them in a linnen Bagge, make a hole in an Horsle Dounghill, put them in a Glasse into the same hole not touching the sides of the hole in anye wise, to the intent it file or soyle not, make two fonnels, and hang the Bagge with Mercury and Galitsenstein ouer the Glasse couering it with a good strong linnen cloth that nothing fall into it: then lase downe ynough vpon it, and leaue it so a foynight togerher vntil the Mercury be stilled as water out of y Bagge. If the water be not whyte ynough, bray it agayne with the Galitsenstein, and doe as before, continuing it vntill the water be good Ad lunam faciendam.

Water of salt Armoniack.

Take salt Armoniack as much as you will, as much of the yelkes of Egges, mire them well together, putting to them a little vineger, that it maye droppe or ranne

The sixte Booke

runne the better. Then hang it ouer a glasse in a doung-hill as before is sayde of the water of Mercurie, or else set it vpon an euene stonye smooth and slippery in a moyst Cellar, laying the stonye a little at on side, and setting a Glasse vnderneath with a Fonnell, and morter at one side of the stonye that it may not runne but into the Fonnell. Then passe it thorow a ffelt, and keape it wel. For it will serue your tourne very aptly.

A vvater called Aqua lactis virginis.

Take Litarge made in powder, & put it in a Pan with good Vneger, sett it with a little syze, and passe it thorow a white ffelt vntil it ware cleare and whyle it distilleth, put it euer in agayne vntill it be cleare and whyle. Then take Axungia vitri, made in powder, and fette it, and doe with it as with the Litarge, and there wil come also water out of it: Mire these two waters together, and they will be as white as mylke, and it is called Lac virginis.

Water of salt Alkali.

Take salt Alkali, and pelkes of Egges, bray them with good Vneger, and doe as is before sayde, of the wa-ter of Mercurie.

A vvater called Aqua croci Martis.

Make of the gréne Galisenstein stonye into powder: And fill therewith a newe Potte and steepe it well. Burne it euene in suche sorte as is sayde afore of the Alome. When it is as redde as Vermilion it is ynoch. Then put some good Vneger into a Limbecke and distill it in a Fornace with a small syze. Do thus thre tymes. Afterwardes put into it as much as into the redde Galisenstein stirring them alwaies together with an yron thre dayes long. Put them agayne into a Limbecke, and syll them as before. If the water be not redde ynoch, put more of the sayde powder vnto it, stirring it wel together, and distilling it as before, it wil be very god Crocus Mar-tis to make Colde.

To Calceyne Tartre.

Take Tartre of whyte Wyne, washe it with hote water, and let it drye. Then fill a Pot of a quarte with the sayde Tartre, couering it well aboue, and set it In a Fornace of Calcination, and let it burne vntill there come out no maner of smoke. Then let it coole, and make it in powder, and put it into another Pot, luting it well with Lutum Sapientiz, then leauue it in a Fornace of Calcination, wherein there is a good fyre, the space of thre dayes or more vntill the Tartre be as whyte as Salte, the which you shall kepe in some warme place.

To calcine Egge shelles.

Wash the Egge shelles in Lixiuio colatitio and let them dry: take away before, or after the little skinne that is in them. Then put them in a great Pot vpon the fyre, and burne them to Ashes stirring them well. Then put them in a little Potte, and doe as with the Tartre.
When they be burned as whyte as chaulke, they be calcined ynough.

To calcipe or burne Tutia.

Rodde Tutia or yellowe is the best: put the same into a melting pot, and set it vpon the fyre, & let it burne hote. Quench it then in good Vineger. Do so nyne tymes, and then braye it small lyke vnto floure vpon a stone and kepe it.

A Water called Aqua lunaris.

Take an hundred Henne Egges, take out the yelke and beat the whyte, put it into a Glasse, and stope
it well aboue, and set it in Rose doung. xiiii. dayes, go to it every daye, and take the doung from about it with a diche, leauing it so a good houre that it maye haue the aire, then couer it agayne.
And when it hath bene there a long tyme, there wil come out of it a water, the which you shall poure into another Glasse and let it coole, and that whiche was congeled
vpon

The sixte Booke

Upon the water cast away, and put into it some lyme of Egges, that the water maye be aboue it four fingers broade: mingle them together, and poure them in againe stopping it wel, and set it agayne in the horse doung, leauing it so a long tyme as before, then take it out, and put it in a melting Pot, stirring it well, and set it vpon a white selte, and by the measure that it distilleth in, poure it agayne vpon it, continuing so vntill the water be cleare, caste out the Lees, and the Water is good, Ad Lunam & Solem.

Aqua Causata.

Take two pound of the ashes of Lees of Wyne burned, a pounde of ashes of Walnut shelles burned, two pounde of the ashes of burned beane stalkes, a pound of the Ashes of the slippes or twigges of Vines. Mingle al these together, and poure water vpon them, and adde to it some quicke Lyme, for eche pounde of the sayde substance, you muste haue two pounde of water, then let it seeth together one seething, and let it stande and repose a daye and a night, stirring it six tymes a day.

This done, poure that which is cleare into a Caudron, and put to it an vnce of Arsnicke, an vnce of Reagall, an vnce of calcined Tartre, and a quarterne of salt Armonie acke, make all into powder, and put it into water, and let it seeth vnto the halfe, let it cole agayne: and then put it in a Limbeck, and distill it as is sayde. And when it will distill no more let it cole, and open the Limbecke, and poure it in agayne, and distill it thus five tymes, and keepe the water distilled. Mercurye his hardened and fired in the sauie water as we haue sayde in another place: keepe also the Lees, for it is good for to harden Mercury as thus. Take Mercury, put it in a melting Pot, and heat it, poure the foresayde Lees into it, and mingle them together, and it will kill the Mercury, and make it harde and blacke, so that being colde agayne, it is as hard as a stone, the whiche you may sublime.

A vvater called aqua caufcica.

Take one parte of sal Alkaly, one parte of common Alome, one part of alumē plūmæ, one parte of white Galitsenstein stone, one part of salt Armoniack, two partes of common salt p̄pared, braye al these very smal and syne vpon a gryndstone, and weate them with Wineger, or very whot water, & put them in a glasse, the which you shall digge & set in a dunghill, leauing it there threē w̄kes. All will be tourned into water, put the same wa- ter into a melting pot, and do as before you did with the felte, distilling it thorow the felte into another melting pot. Keepe it so in a glasse, soz it is good to make Syluer. The felte must be sharpe at the nether ende and broade aboue, Aqua auri pigmenti.

Take foure parts of Oxpiment, two partes of salt Ar- moniacke, one parte of calcined Egge shelles, and one parte of common salte, braye these well vpon a marble stōne, weate them with Wineger, and let them runne of from þ stōne into a glasse in a seller or set them vnder a dunghill, vntill they be turned into water. Then distill it as you do Aqua fortis. But in braying the oxpi- ment, you must stope your mouth and your nose, because of the smoke or fume of the water, which is hurtfull.

vvater of common salte prepared.

Take a pound of common salte, a quarterne of Alome bray them vpon a Marble stōne with Wineger, and let it run from the stōne as before is sayde, And distill it thorow a felte, and it is made.

vvater of yelkes of Egges.

Take yelkes of Egges sodden verye harde, stampe them and put them in a Limbecke, the fyrist water which commeth out is whyte, the other redde and thicke : but when it is Colde, it is thinner and Liquide,

The sixte Booke

All that you rubbe with the same water , getteth alwaies a god colour of Golde.

Oyle of Tartre.

Take whyte Tartre calcined , braye it well vpon a marble stone, and let it runne into a glasse , as is afoxe sayd of the salt Armoniack , & of the Crocus mertis . And when all is runne into the glasse , passe it thoroewe a felte so often vntill it be cleare . And kepe it in a cleane glasse .

An oyle called oleum Laterinum or Petroleum.

Take a newe tyle wheron there hath bene no maner of water , make it whote , and laye it in oyle of walnutes , vntill it soke or drinke no more : Then make it into pouder , and put it in a Limbecke and distill it . And when it will distyll no more , casse it oute , and putt in other , & do as before thrée tymes , & you shal haue your oyle .

Oleum benedictum.

Take oyle Olyue in stede of oyle of walnutes , and doe as before .

Oyle of Brymstone.

Take a pounde of Brymstone wel made in pouder , a pound of oyle of Lynesade : putt them in a pot leaded , & boyle them together vntil there rise a redde frothe or skyn vpon them . Put Vineger into it , and þ oyle will beginne to rise vp , and taking of the frothe or skyn kepe it a id kepe the oyle neate and cleane . Then washe your Brymstone very cleane , & poure some oyle of walnuts vpon it , and let it sech as before , and whē it wareth redde as before , poure againe some Vineger vpon it , and skim of the oyle , and kieph it with the first . Doe this so longe vntill the Brymstone smoke no more , whether it be set vpon white coales or vpon a white plate . Then washe it in hote water , & let it drie . Then putt it into a thick bagge & binde it so that þ Brymstone may spredē abrode in it . Put into a pot some quiet lyme soure fingers thicke , & lay the bagge bagge wth the Brymstone abroade vpon it : Then poure some godd Vinaigre into it that it maye be a handful high aboue the lyme, and let it seeth a whole daye. Then take the Brymstone out of the bagge, & washe it wel in whote water, poure out the water and let it drye, and it will be Sulphur purgatum & præparatum.

A note.

Take that which before you haue gathered together, and make a strong Lie of it, with quycke Lyme and Ashes of wyne Lees burned, take clvpe as much of the same Lie, and seeth them together vntill they be as it were Sope. Put the skymme or frothe of the same into a glasse, whiche you shall set in a dunghill ten dayes. Then braye it, and put it in a Limbecke, and distill it as before is sayde, and that which remayneth in the Limbecke is Oleum fixum sulphuris, with this oyle you may fire all thinges.

To purge Brymstone.

Take commom Brymstone, stampe it very small, and sift it: put it in a Pot leaded with thre ferre, and poure into it some godd Vinaigre, let it seeth slowly a daye and a night: skymme it with a wooden spone full of lyttle holes lyke a skimmer. When the Vinaigre hath thus boyled with it a daye and a night, put to it stale pisso that is well sodden and well skymmed and passed thorowe a felt. Let it so seeth with the pisso two dayes and two nightes, and skymme it as before, and passe it so often thorowe the felt vntil the water be cleare, Then let it drye in the Sunne, and it is purged.

To sublyme Brymstone.

Take purged Brymstone, as I haue taught you before in the chapter of oyle of Brymstone, of the which you wyll: Take thereof a pounde of Brymstone calcined, as is sayde in the chapter before, a pound of Offall of yron, yron brused small a quarterne, braye them

L.y.

them

The sixte Booke

them well and sifte them ,then put them into a Limbecke which hath a hole abone, the which you shall stoppe with a peece of Bron plate , lute well with Claye the sub-limatorie that no breathe goe oute , and set it in a Foy-neyse to sublime , making a litle fyre vnderneath it ,loke now and then vnder the peece of Bron plate : the which when it is no more mylfe , stoppe the hole with lutum sapientiae , and make the fyre a litle greater , and leaue it so ftre houres . Then take it of, and that which sticketh faſte aboue vpon it , rubbe it of with an Hares ſtoke .
Stirre it agayne with the leſs that remaineth vnder , and set it in againe and sublime it as before . Doe thus thre tymes , and alwayes rubbe of that , which you fynde aboue vpon it , and kepe it , and braye the leſs by it ſelſe , and doe as before , vntyll they ſmoke no moze vp on the fyre : Then caſte them oute , and take one parte of this ſublimed Bzymſtone , two partes of common ſalt prepaſed , braye them well together , and ſublime them as before , laying first a plate vpon the hole . Having done this fyue tynes , take of the Bzymſtone before ſublimed , and braye it with twyſe as muche common ſalte prepaſed . And ſublime it ſo often that the Bzymſtone be as whyte as Snow & then there will be enough . Kepe it .

Oyle of Egges.

Take Egge ſhelles ſtaimed , hauing the little ſkynne within taken away , kepe them . Then take the yelks of Egges , and beate them well in a pot , and ſet a glaſſe of them vnder a dunghill of whote Horſedunge the ſpace of eyght dayes together . Then take it oute , and put the ſayde Egges in a Lymbecke , and lute it well , and diſtill them thus thre tynes , and there wyll come Oleum ouorum .

Oleum auri pigmenti.

Take auri pigmentum , and brufe it ſmall , and ſeech it wyth Oleum lunare in little Pottes leaded . And when

of Secretes.

75

when it is halfe consumed , put it in a Limbecke and distill it : Then take the Lets, and braye them vpon a Marble stome , and put them againe into a Limbecke , & poure againe vpon it the same vyle : do thus thre tymes and keepe it , so: it is good Ad fixationem.

Olcum Junare.

Take as much of Aquæ lunaris, described before, as you wyl, distill it in a Limbecke vntil it ware dry, and you shall haue your Oyle, wherewith you may fire all kyndes, and harden also Mercurie.

Oyle of Brymstone.

Bay Bzymstone with Tartre in maner of rappe, put Bit in a glasse vpon a fyze of quick cooles, thre dapes then braye it againe, and distill it in a Lymbecke, and that is called Oicum sulphuris.

To sublime Mercurie.

Take a pounde of Mercury , a quarterne of salte Armonacke , poure vpon it good Vinaigre , that they may be liquide : mingle them together , & let them so stande vntill the next morowe. Bray them well vpon a Marble stome , for al must be brought into powder before you put the vinaigre to them, when you haue thus brayed them that the Mercury apeareth no moze , let it dry , and bray it wel so drye withoute vinaigre , then put it in a lim-becke & subline it in a fornace of sublumation , as before is sayde of the Brymstone : bynde fast the felte about y Lime becke that nothing breath out . The first .ii hours yet shal make a small syre vnder it , vntill the moysture come out aboue , which you shall know by the vapour that is vpon the peice of plate : then stoppe the hole , and make a greater fyre vnder it two houres long : then encrease the fyre fourte houres long : then let it coole by little and little , and than open it and you shall finde the Mercury as whyte as a Lilly aboue , and that whiche sticketh on the syde , and lyeth vpon the Lees , rubbe it of with a ffeather , and 三、四

The sixte Booke

braye it with the Lees and strong Vinaigre as before, let it dye and sublime it as before. This doe, so long vntill the Lees smoke no more vpon the coales. Then take the Mercury sublimed, and twyse as muche common Halfe prepared, mingle them together, and sublime them in a Limbecke as before.

Doe this thre tymes. Sublime the Lees as is sayde vntill they smoke no more vp on the coales, then cast them away.

And if the Mercury be not as whyte
as Swoone, take other common Halfe prepared, and sublyme it againe, vntil
it be white y<sup>e</sup>
noughe.

FINIS

A necessary Table conteyning the Summaries of al the Receipts, and Medicines, treated of in this present volume.

N Against euerye griefe or Payne of the heade, except the poches	fol. 1.
A preseruatiue against the falling sicknesse or Epi- leptia.	idem
Against the falling sicknesse.	idem
Another soueraigne remedy for the same.	idem
Against the Palsey.	idem
Another way.	idem
Against the Fransey.	fol. 2.
A tryed remedie against the great paine, ringing & deaf- nesse of the eares.	idem
Another remedy well knowne and tryed.	idem
A remedy to stenche the bleeding at the nose.	idem
Another for the same well proued and of a maruellous strength.	idem
Another soueraigne remedy.	idem
Another for the same.	idem
For the tooth ache a remedye proued.	idem
Another remedy whether the ache be by colde or by heat. idem	fol. 3.
Another for the same.	idem
Another remedye.	idem
A remedie for the stinking of the mouth and nose.	idem
Another for the same.	idem
A verye good gargarisme or gargelling for the throte a- gainst the Quinsey.	idem
For the same.	idem
Another for the same.	idem
An excellent playster to soften or rype an impostume in the throte.	idem
Against spitting of bloude comming of the Lungenes or Lightes.	fol. 4.
For the same another remedie tryed and proued.	idem
Another remedy founde very singuler.	idem
L. iiiij.	Another

The Table.

Another remedy of meruaylous great vertue.	idem
Another secrete for the same, certayne and expermented and good at all houres.	idem
For the same.	idem
Another for the same.	idem
Against the ulceration of the Lungen or Lightes, and Spittell full of matter and corruption.	idem
Another for the same.	idem
Another for the same.	fol. 5.
A remedy for shott winded men.	idem
A drinke for the same disease, to be taken euery daye thyse.	idem
Another tried secrete good for poure folke.	idem
For the same and good also for the poure sorte.	idem
A remedy against the piurie.	idem
A decoction for the stomacke, very good agaynst the Plu- reſie.	idem
Another remedy moſt certayne againgſt all Pluresies, as proued as deuine, for to p;erue a man that he dye not of it.	fol. 6.
An oyntment to rot or ripe the pluresie.	idem
A plaſter for the same.	idem
For the same.	idem
Againſt the hote cogh that is to ſave, when the Patient is ſo vexed with it that he can not well ſleepe.	idem
Againſt the ſame, if his voyce be hoarſe with it.	idem
A tried electuary for the ſame.	idem
Againe for the cogh.	fol. 7.
Pilles for the cogh.	idem
A i oyntment for the ſame.	idem
A gainſt the trembling and panting of the heart, this is verye good, but ſpecially for Women, which are ſub- iect therunto.	idem
A remedyc againſt the ſame, and verye good to reſtoze the Strength, being weakened with to great heate of Agues.	idem
Another remedy wherewith I haue alwayes founde my ſelue veryp; well.	idem
An Epitheme againſt the ſame payne.	idem
	All

The Table.

An oyntment very god for pore folke, that are not able to bye the foresaid medicine or nourishment.	fol. 8.
Another composition verye god in the tyme of a plague as well to preserue as to heale.	idem
Another oyntment very god and principally for children that are troubled with wormes.	idem
A remedie against the wormes in yong children.	idem
A remedy against the paine of the stomack.	idem
Another remedie for the same, when al other wil not pro- fit him.	idem
A vomication or nourishment verye singuler for the same.	idem
Another against the same.	fol. 9.
Another remedy.	idem
Another very god.	idem
Another remedy proued.	idem
A nourishment very good against the same disease.	idem
a little bagge to carry about one against þ same disease.	idem
A drinke for the same.	idem
Another remedie to lay to the stomacke.	idem
Another remedy weltryed and proued, and god chiesly for yong children, bered with the paine of the stomack, which is knownen if they vomite or belch.	fol. 10.
A remedy against an impostume in the stomack.	idem
Against the same.	idem
A playster for the same.	idem
A nourishment or keeping of the stomack in his naturall heat, by washing or bathing it.	idem
A remedie against vomiting.	idem
An oyntment very god against cholericke vomiting.	idem
Another remedy against flegmetick vomiting.	idem
A remedy against the hicket or yering.	idem
Another.	idem
Remedies against the paine of the Lyuer come through bentositie.	fol. 11.
Another of very good effect.	idem
A remedy founde very god against the Lyuer that is ap- postumate or corrupted.	idem
For the same.	idem
	Remedies

The Table.

Remedies against the drospie.	idem
Against the same.	idem
A drinke of great vertue & strength and against the windie drospie.	idem
Another remedye verye good to take after a Purgati- on.	idem
Remedies against the drospie called Ascites, a drinke very good to take once a weeke.	fol. 12.
A singuler good electuary for the same, which ought to be disclosed but to your speciall friendes.	idem
An oyntment for the same.	idem
Another oyntment very good.	idem
A remedy against the yellow Jaunders.	idem
Remedies against the Collicke.	idem
A remedy never to hane the collick moze.	fol. 13.
Another remedy to take in the Payne and torment of the Collicke.	idem
A very good pouder that healeth quickly the sayde sicknesse.	idem
A remedy whiche I haue founde to be verye good for all gretene or Payne of the guttes or entrayles.	idem
A glister wherewith I haue cured many.	idem
Another against the same.	idem
Another for the same.	idem
An oyntment against the same.	idem
A verye good receipt whiche Pope Clement the seauenth toke in his last sicknesse.	fol. 14.
A remedy against the laxe or stire come of choler.	idem
An oyntment very good for the same.	idem
Remedies against the laxe disenterick.	fol. 15.
Another drinke very good.	idem
Another remedye.	idem
Another drinke very good in case the Patient haue ther- with anye great doloure in his belly (as often tymes it happeneth) by reason of exulceration and knawing of the guttes.	idem
Another remedye when the paine is great.	idem
Suffumigations or smoking for the same.	idem
	The

The Table.

The first	idem
The seconde.	idem
Another remedie for the same.	idem
An oyntment very good for the bloudy fluxe.	fol. 17.
Remedies against the swelling and oppilitio or stopping of the spleene	idem
A fomentatio or nourishing by washing for the same.	idem
An oyntment against the same	idem
Another fomentation or bathing for the same.	idem
Remedies against the Payne, swelling : and bentosicie of the matrice.	idem
Another tryed of some Women	fol. 18.
Another remedie very good & wel knownen of wome.	idem
Another.	idem
A fomentation or nourishing	idem
A very good oyntment	idem
A playster or cloth to lay upon the matrice, if griefe be old or thuerate	idem
Remedies to make a womans tyme to come that is let or hindered by some cause	idem
Another remedie verye good also to cause a woman to bring forth the childe before the tyme, if the woman be in daunger of it.	idem
A washing very good for the same	fol. 19.
Against to much abounding of floures	idem
An oyntment against the same	idem
Against the p̄focation or strangling of the Matrice	idem
Against the same of what cause so ever it come	idem
Another against the same	idem
Against the same	idem
Against the same	idem
Remedies to be v̄ed when the Matrice commeth out of her naturall place or falleth	idem
A playster very good	fol. 20.
Remedies for the Matrice corrupted or apostumated, a playster for to dissolue it	idem
Another playster for the same	idem
A playster.	idem
	Remedies

The Table.

Remedies against the vlers or corrupte matter of the Matrice.	idem
A drinke for the same.	idem
Remedies against the wghtyng of Women.	idem
Another against the same.	idem
A drinke.	fol. 22
A pouder against the same.	idem
Remedies against pissing hote.	idem
A Sicop.	idem
A drinke against the same, to take threé houres before din- ner and at none.	idem
Against Gonothrea, which is when a mans seede goeth fro him unwittingly.	idem
An oyntment against the same	idem
Another remedy marnellous good	idem
Remedies for them that pissh bloude	idem
An oyntment for the same	idem
A playster for the same	fol. 22.
Remedyes against the grauell	idem
Another	idem
Another remedyp well tryed wherby I haue often tymes founde my selfe easd	idem
Against the same	idem
Another very good	idem
Receiptes to hasten the childebyng, and to mitigate the paine of the trauarie and labour.	idem
Another	idem
Another	idem
Another.	fol. 23.
Another remedye very good, but yet suche one that may not be giuen, but in g̃eat necessarie, or when the childe is dead within her belly	idem
Remedies when a man pisseth against his will	idem
Another for the same	idem
Remedies against the stone in the bladder	idem
A remēy and preservative against the same	idem
Another for the same	idem
Remedies for to heale the Emethodes or Pyles, a verye excellente oyntment	idem
A playster

The Table.

A playster against the same.	fol. 24.
An excellent & very good hote bathe for the same.	idem
Another remedy of verie great vertue.	idem
Remedies against the swelling of the coddes.	idem
Another against harde swelling.	idem
A god plaster for the same.	idem
An oyntment against the same.	idem
A plastrer.	idem
Remedies against the Sciatica .	idem
Remedies agaist inflammatiōns of blood which groweth into an impostume in some parte of þ body or mem- bers , called phelgmone.	fol. 25.
A plastrer to ryce and to rot an impostume.	idem
Another for the same.	idem
Another to rot or rype incontinent.	idem
Against a Kingworne or Tetter that runneth al ouer a mans face , or against the disease that is called Fry- pilas or Lichen , of some Mēntagra , the Frenchmen call it seu vīlge , as it were a running fyre.	fol. 26.
Another remedy very god to heale þ same, when it doth but beginne to encrease.	idem
Against flematikke swelling.	idem
Remedies for the scabbes.	idem
An oyntment very god for to annoynt yong chldren who because of there tendernesse , can not endure a pur- gation.	idem
Another oyntment very god for litle chldren and olde folke to b̄se before and after a purgation.	idem
Another remedy.	fol. 27
A baine or bath for the same.	idem
Against the scurffe or lepre called in latyn Pſora .	idem
A remedy against puffes, bladders, blisters, or wheales, & against the small pockes.	idem
An oyntment.	idem
Another remedy well tryed.	idem
Against the strong cough of yong chldren.	idem
Against the stinking sweate.	idem
Against the paine of the eyes	idem
	Fo2

The Table.

For a whyt spotte in the eyes.	fol. 18.
Against the difficultie of brynging forth childe, and the retention of the skinne that the chylde is wrapped in, called in lacyn Secundina oꝝ secundæ	ident
A remedie when the founement commeth ou.	ident
Against the paine of the guttes.	ident
Against the difficultie in making water, sauing for that which commeth of the stone.	idem
For men.	idem
For wemen.	idem
Against Crabbisce.	idem
Against a Canker.	idem
Against the little wormes and itchynge of the hande oꝝ boþ dye.	fol. 19.
Against the swelling of the coddes.	idem
To make the wormes come out of þ handes oꝝ fete.	ident
A remedy for defnes of the eares.	ident
A remedie against fistuleys.	ident
For the scabbes of the handes.	idem
A water of a great & merueylyous effect for to keepe mans body from many infirmitieſ and diseases.	idem
Whar operations come of ſuch diſtilacions.	fol. 20.
Another water oꝝ Walsamum, almoſte fitte for the ſame thinges.	idem
A pouder very good to conſerne the ſight.	idem
Againſt the paine oꝝ the flankes oꝝ the pluresie.	idem
Againſt quartaine agues.	fol. 21.
To heale olde wounds and cankers of the legge,	idem
Againſt the ſcurffe.	idem
Againſt al ventositie, collick oꝝ paine of the matrice.	idem
For the hardnes oꝝ brawne of the ſete.	idem
To make very perfitte Vinaigre.	idem
Againſt the falling ſyckenesſe.	idem
For children that be broke.	idem
Againſt the paine of the ſplene.	idem
For to ſtenche blod.	idem
For to heale in fourre dayes the ſcaldynge with water oꝝ any other thing, without oyntmentſ oꝝ playſters, it hath bene tryed and found trwe,	fol. 22.
	ſ. 03

The Table.

Againe to stenche blode.	idem
Against the wortnes in little chldren.	idem
To heale the Emerhodes or Pyles.	idem
Against all kindes of patne and griefe.	idem
Against stynnes or shynking of sinowes, called þ crampe or swelling, compyng of the wound taken of some venimous beast in latin spasmodus or convulso .	idem
Fox them that can not pisſe, by reason of certen grauell and carnositie which is abundaunce of fleshe.	idem
Against defnes.	idem
Against opilation or stopping.	idem
Against the gyddinesse of the syght.	fol. 33.
Fox them that can not brooke their meate, but vomite it againe.	idem
Against the headake by to much dyrking.	idem
Against all the paine of the head.	idem
Against the paine of the head þ continueth alwayes.	idem
Another waye.	idem
Another waye.	idem
Against the megrame happening sodenly.	idem
Against itching of the head.	idem
Against vlcers or scabbes of the head as well of men as of women.	idem
Against olde and putrifid woundes.	idem
To kepe þ the flesh grow not to much in a wound.	idem
To heale and take away the scurffe.	idem
Fox to kyll Lyce.	idem
Against the distillation of the brayne & heauinesse of the head.	fol. 34.
Against murses or catars that beginne to growe.	idem
Fox to refrayne the murre or catharre.	idem
A remedie fox the disease when the heare of the beard or head falleth of it selfe.	idem
To kepe that the heare shall not fall of.	idem
To make þ heare of a mans head or beard to grow	idem
Fox to make heares growe.	idem
Fox to curl heare, a rare secrete	idem
Fox to make heare blacks.	idem
To kepe þ the heares ware not hoare or white	fol. 35.
	Fox

The Table.

For to make the heares blacke.	idem
Against the paine in the eyes.	idem
Against the dimnesse or daselynge of the sight.	idem
Another waye.	idem
Against a webbe or spot in the eye.	idem
To take awaie þ hurtful heares of the eyebrowes.	idem
Against all Payne of the eares.	idem
Against the Payne of the eares and defnes, & for to purge the apostumes or corruption of the eares.	idem
Against the Payne of the eares.	idem
Against the noyse or ringing of the eares.	idem
Against all infirmitie of the eares.	fol. 36.
Against defnes and hardnes of hearing.	idem
Against the paine of the eares, defnes, durtie or sylthe, wozmes or water that is in them.	idem
For to stenche bleeding at the nose.	idem
To heale the sicknes called Noli me tangere .	idem
Against synking of the mouth.	idem
Against the tooth ache.	idem
Another waye.	idem
For to make teeth fall out.	idem
For to make teeth whyte that be blacke.	idem
For them that be hoarce.	idem
To heale the disease called the Kinges eyll .	idem
Howe to knowe the Kinges eyll .	idem
Against the cough and distillation of the breast and lun- ges, and running of the eyes, Payne of the bladder, & when the pype of it is stopped, which causeth that a man can not pisſe, but with great difficultie, also for those that spit blode at the mouth, or Pysſe blode, and for the fire, and collicke paine, or heauynes of the bellye and choler, and also against a vomiting with- out an ague, also against al Payne of the bodye, ex- cept of the heade, and especiallye against the vle- ration of the lungs, if you giue the pacient an electua- ry or two of it.	fol. 37.
Against all vehement coghes.	idem
Against the cough, be it never so greare.	idem
For one þ hath swallowed downe a blood sucker.	idem
Against

The Table.

Against an olde and inueterate cough	idem
Against the bloudy flxe comming of the artere o; sinowe of the lungs o; of the lyuer.	idem
Fox to restraine a great and vehement vomising.	idem
Fox them that can not keepe their meate in their stomack but vomite it by agayne	fol. 38.
To quench and allwage thuzz	idem
Another way	idem
To stoppe the hicket.	idem
Fox to stoppe the hicket that commeth often	idem
A soueraine remedy for them y haue wry necks, by reaso of shroken sinowes, & for them that haue y gout.	idem
To take away swelling vnder the armeholes	idem
Against aposfumes & swelling at y roote of y naspes	idem
To make a mans naspes growe which be fallen of.	idem
Against y disease called lychen, which is a foule breaking out of al y face with a scab, beginning at the chin.	idem
To take away the scab of a running tetter. &c.	idem
Against bargeons and pushes in the face. &c.	idem
Against all poiss, naspes, pushes, o; vlcers. &c.	idem
To take away the bladduisse of the necke &c.	fol. 39.
Against the bruizing of the face by a fall o; slip	idem
Another very good.	idem
Against warts and malanders.	idem
Against swelling of the stomache, patne of the raines, grauell cleane, collick, the emerhoode, o; pypes, also to stare the floures of a woman, and for those that haue an infected liuer and spleene, also for those that cough, and for them that haue the falling sicknisse.	idem
Against the paine of the spleene.	idem
Another.	idem
Fox the payne of the loynes o; haunches.	idem
Against swelling o; vlcers of the raines of the back.	idem
Against the patne of the grauell, and for to. &c.	fol. 40.
Against the paine of the raines.	idem
Against the grauell.	idem
Against the paine of the bladder and grauell.	idem
Against the bloudy flxe, o; fretting torment in. &c.	idem
Against the straying, fretting and griping of. &c.	idem

The Table.

For those that haue fretting and griping in th: belly and the lare.	idem
Against the collicke.	fol. 41.
Against the paine of the collich comming sodainely.	idem
Against the Payne of the guttes or bowels.	idem
For to stoppe the lare.	idem
Against the fretting of the belly or lare.	idem
For to knowe a secrete or hidden disease of any man, and to heale the same.	idem
For them that voyde bloud at thier foundement, and for those that haue their bloude brokyn.	idem
Against the wormes that engender in mens bodies.	idem
Against the griping of the belly, and desire to go to stolc, and yet doe nothing.	idem
Against the Payne of the collicke.	idem
Against the vlcers & fistules in the foundement. &c.	idem
To heale the emerhods or those y lose their bloud	fol 42.
Against the vlcers of the foundement, and against the dis- ease called commonly S. flacres sicknesse.	idem
For to ryde or b:ake an impostume or. &c.	idem
Another.	idem
Against hurting or flawing of the skin by chafing and going eyther of the feete or betwenc the thighes.	idem
Against the swelling & paine of the soles of the feete.	idem
To make warts fall of.	idem
For to take away y felons and eat s haires whiche b:ake out with wheales in the fingers, & also knops. &c.	idem
For to asswage the Payne of the goute. &c.	idem
Another way.	idem
For to get out any thing that strickeith in a mans. &c. fo. 43
Cerayne receipts agaist the plague.	idem
A composition preseruative agaist the pestilence, excel- lent as it were triacle or Myrridatum.	idem
Another composition in pouder, & in other. &c.	idem
Common pylles very good for the same.	idem
Antidotes or medicines p:re eruatiues & comfortable of small cost easie to finde and prepare for poore folk.	fol. 44.
Another medicine.	idem
Thinges of sanguine or swete smell, as powder, Wallers, Waters,

The Table.

Waters, perfumes, and first a pouder for. &c.	idem
A perfume	fol. 45.
A smelling Walle	idem
Another swete Walle after for the Sommer	idem
Outwardre remedies to purge the ayre, the easiest, the presentest, and those that are of the smaleſt p̄ice for men of ſmall habilitie.	idem
A pouder againſt the wormes.	idem
The whole ſumme of the regiment and gouerning of a mans lyfe.	fol. 46.
A ſoueraigne remedy againſt the venime of the Plague for riche men and for princes.	idem
A pouder for poore folke of no leſſe efficacie and Strength then the ſecond.	idem
A drinke for poore folke, and in a place where there is none or very little iuyce eyther of Hicrop, cytrons, Lemons, or Pomegades	idem
A drinke often times tryed, profitable and holesome, the which(as many men ſay) was neuer found vaine.	idem
Opiate	fol. 47
A drinke meete after euery taking of the ſayd Opiate, or to be mixt with the takings of the ſame Opiate, for the strongest or meanest men, according. &c.	idem
A drinke for poore folke	idem
A drinke to cauſe one to ſweate	idem
Another drinke for poore folke,	idem
An epitheme or medicine to lay to the ſc.	idem
An Epitheme for the heart good for poore folkes which may alſo ſerue for the iuyer.	fol. 48
An epitheme or Medicine for the iuyer	idem
Locall-medicines, and firſt a playſter or. &c,	idem
Another eaſie drawing Medicine.	idem
Medicines of þ kinds that burne the ſkin or fleshy. &c. idem
Another playſter	idem
Another Stronger	idem
A medicine that cleaneſeth and purifieth	idem
Another verþ good	idem
A playſter incarnatiſe	idem
A repercuſiſe and reſoluciſe oynmet againſt ec. fol. 49.
¶.ij.	A plaſter

The Table.

that you may cut them lyke cheeſe, and that being put in a mould they ſhal be hard agayne	idem
To counterfeiſt pearles which ſhall be verye farge, and as they were naturall and true	idem
To prepare Mercury, and ſo to harden it, that you maye make it liquide and worke it.	fol. 61.
A ſubſtaunce made of paper or other things, to expelle or ſet out any maner of figure that you wil vpō. &c	idem
How to haue golde foſt to gilt with	fol. 62.
To gilt Co. per	idem
To gilt yron	idem
To take of the Golde from Siluer that is gilt, ſo that the Siluer ſhall remayne whole and ſound	idem
To ſeparat Siluer from Copper, be it mony or. &c.	idem
A pouder whiche being layed vpon anye thing Siluered will take of the Siluer from it	idem
To conuert and courne copper into brasse	idem
To melt all metall perfectly	idem
Foſt to giue a colour of Golde vpon Copper	fol. 63.
To make verdet or ſpaniſhe græne	idem
To make a whyte colour of Lead	idem
To make Lutum ſapientie.	fol. 64.
To lute or dawbe Pottes with a linnen cloth that wil not burne	idem
To ſader Gllasses	idem
Another lutum ſapientie.	idem
Foſt to ſeparate Golde from Siluer	idem
Another way	fol. 65.
Foſt to ſeparate Golde or Siluer without fyre or Aqua fortis	idem
To ſeparate Golde from Siluer with a pouder	idem
To make Golde softer	idem
Another way	idem
To make Golde and Siluer softer	idem
To ſoftene all metallis, and other things that are not ſoft, ſo that they ſhall be ſofte and gentle to be wrought vp on or foſged	idem
An oyle that maketh all mettalleſ ſoft	fol. 66.
To ſeparate Golde from copper	idem
	Another

The Table.

Another way	idem
A powder to seperate Golde	idem
To walsh Golde from Copper	idem
To get together the Golde out of thredds of. &c.	idem
To gilde so that it wil not ouer with no water that is	idem
To gather together into one, the Golde that is scraped of letters and images	idem
To take gilt from a Cup that is gilded within	fol. 67.
To make golde soft after the melting	idem
Fox to gloue a colour to the Gold that it shal be soft	idem
To boyle gold or siluer to make it receyue a. &c.	idem
To gloue a colour to Golde	idem
Fox to make Siluer fine	idem
To make siluer fayre and whyte	idem
To know if the Siluer haue any Golde in it or no	idem
To mortise and alay Mercurie or quicksiluer	fol. 68.
To gilt Steele or yron	idem
To seperate Golde or siluer from metall or yron	idem
Siluer of Tinne, to make vessell or other things	idem
To whyte any vessel of Copper within and without with Siluer colour very easly	idem
To make vessel of copper white like Silver, both within and without	idem
To make that Tinne cracke not	fol. 69.
To take Salamanders, fox to occupie or to serue a mans tourne	idem
To fine Golde with Salamanders	idem
The mother of all waters fox to make all mettalles liqui- fiable	idem
To p:epare common salt	fol. 70.
To p:epare Salt Armoniack	idem
To make alkali.	idem
To make Sal boras.	idem
Water of Mercury	fol. 71.
Water of salt Armoniack	idem
A Water called Aqua lactis virginis.	idem
Water of salt Alkali.	idem
A water called Aqua croci martis.	idem
To calcine Tartre	fol. 72.

The Table.

To calcine egge shelles	idem
To calcine or burne Turia.	idem
A water called Aqua lunaris.	idem
Aqua caustica.	idem
A Water called Aqua caustica.	fol. 73.
Aqua aurii pigmenti.	idem
Water of common salt prepared	idem
Water of yelkes of egges	idem
Dyle of Cartre	idem
An opie called Oleum laterrimum or Petroleum.	idem
Oleum benedictum.	idem
Dyle of Wzimstone	idem
A note	fol. 74.
To purge Wzimstone	idem
To sublime Wzimstone	idem
Dyle of Egges	idem
Oleum aurii pigmenti.	idem
Oleum lunare.	fol. 75.
Dyle of Wzimstone	idem
To sublame Mercury	idem

¶ Here endeth this present worke of Secretes and soueraigne Receipts, gathered out of diuers good and approued Authours, and set forth in the french tongue, and nowe lately translated into English(to the profite of this our country) by Wylliam Warde.

IMPRINTED AT LOND on by Henry Denham, for John Wyght.

Anno. 1566.

